Yesterday was the coldest day this year and December, 1914, is proving the coldest in five years.

In Portland today there are more homes without fuel, food or sufficient clothing to ward off the chill of the clothing to ward off the chill of the Winter than in any previous year. It is because of this that the Associated Charities is confronted by a desperate need for funds and supplies, for the list of applicants in need of help in the Winter months is growing daily greater and the resources of the organization are limited.

The celebration of Christmas day itself by bearing Christmas cheer to the poor families is not the problem that the Associated Charities is working on when it asks the assistance of the

when it asks the assistance of the people of Portland in raising its annual Christmas Relief Fund.
Human generosity runs warm during the holiday week and innumerable temporary relief bureaus and organizations have risen to take care of Christmas day and its observance.

The situation that the Associated Charities must cope with is that which arises in the months of the Winter, following Christmas holidays, when the temporary relief has ceased and the families are still left to warm themselves and feed themselves upon the memories of Christmas day with its baskets and gifts from generous hearted people.

Miss Arista De Paula, grand opera singer at the Empress Theater will be at the Portland Hotel from Miss Laurie Ordway, character singing comedienne at Pantages Theater, will be at Hotel Multnomah during the same hours, both working under the auspices of the Portland Woman's Club. Permanent Aid Aim, hearted people.

To this work the Christmas Relief Fund is applied, with the aim of carrying the relief needed and made possible by the generosity of the donors to the fund, through the remainder of the year, when the burden of the work falls upon the shoulders of the or-ganized and permanent charitable bodies.

How is the Christmas Relief Fund expended? To bring help to such cases this:

So terrible were the straits to which she was reduced that she was obliged to go out and sell papers to earn a few pennies, only a week after the birth of her baby. She lives now with the one surviving child in a single room without windows or heating facilities.

"Never before, even in Chicago's slums, have I seen a more pathetic condition of poverty and misfortune than this," said Miss K. L. Trevett, the social worker who found the woman and carried to her the first temporary relief given.

The family has no fuel in this freezing weather. They have insufficient clothing and no food and no means of procuring food except as it is supplied to them through charitable organizations.

It is for such families as these that the Associated Charities is appealing to the citizens of Portland for contributions to its Christmas relief fund. Not for Christmas day alone, but for all the weeks in which assistance is absolutely necessary to them if they are to live, the fund is being raised.

Irene Oshier Is Saleslady.

A little later in the afternoon in the lobby of the Yeon building Miss Irene Oshier, leading woman of the Baker Players, began to sell the seals. Her charm of manner and her bright smile sent frowns from many faces, and her sales were large. Just after the dismissal of school high school girls swarmed around Miss Oshier like bees around a flower, eagerly awaiting their turn to buy seals or catch a word from their favorite actress. Until 6:30 o'clock last night Miss Oshier worked untiringly, her efforts garnering $60.13.

"I am afraid I shall forget my lines" she said laughingly, "and when I get before the audience, hold out my hand and say, 'Red Cross Seals."

Miss Oshier was assisted by Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. Issae Swett and Mrs. Sidney Telser.

A big parade through the city at 12 o'clock today is planned for the purpose of interesting the public in the Christmas tree celebration at the Armory which the Muts are planning for the poor children of the City.

Returns from the first of the Eastern Oregon rabbit drives were received yesterday in a contribution of 250 rabbits. The drive was conducted out of Madras and the bag netted 4000 rabbits. Those not given to the Muts were distributed among other charitable organizations of the city.
