OREGON PIONEER OF 1853 BURIED YESTERDAY.

Mrs. Anna Marilda Tucker, an Oregon pioneer of 1853, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Martha J. King, 617 Salmon street.

Mrs. Tucker was born in Indiana on May 28, 1831. She crossed the plains to Oregon with her husband, Joseph Severa Tucker, in 1853. They settled on a homestead which is now part of the City of Portland.

Mr. Tucker died in 1876. With her daughter, Mrs. Tucker moved to Lake County the following year. She remained there until 1891, when she returned to Portland to make her home with Mrs. King.

Mrs. Tucker is survived by the following children: Mrs. Alice Emmaline Cummings and Mrs. King, of Portland; John W. Tucker, of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Mrs. Mary Frances Parkley, of Los Angeles, and William Henry Tucker and Mrs. Lillian Hadley, of Paisley, Ore.

The funeral was held yesterday at 2 o'clock from 617 Salmon street.

Under the Supreme Court's recent interpretation of the law, T. J. Cleeton will continue his term as County Judge for two more years. Members of the Multnomah County delegation fear that he will not have enough work to do in that time to earn his salary, so are arranging to transfer some of the work now handled by Circuit Judge Gatens to Judge Cleeton's department.

Senator T. L. Perkins, of Multnomah County has been delegated by Billy B. Van, the vanguard actor, to present to the Legislature his bill giving actors, traveling salesmen and other itinerants, who have registered in their respective home counties, the right to vote on National issues regardless of where they are on election day.

Mr. Van declared that there are more than 100,000 actors in the United States who are disfranchised. He declares that they are a real and an intelligent class of individuals and in many cases taxpayers with families dependent upon them.

His plan provides for every actor or other traveler desiring to take advantage of the provisions of this law to register in his respective home and receive a card from the county clerk or other official testifying to the fact that he has registered. Upon presentation of this and identification of the holder by two qualified electors, the election officials would be required to allow the holder to vote for Presidential electors. Minnesota already has such a law.

Members of the Republican County Committee are working on a plan that will make their organization permanent. They are soliciting subscriptions from precinct and sub-precinct committeemen with the idea of obtaining enough money to retain permanent headquarters and pay a secretary. Contributions on the part of the committee members is being urged.

O. H. Starvo, of Portland, is the latest applicant for the office of sergeant-at-arms in the House. Joseph F. Singer, of Portland who had the place at the 1913 session is the leading candidate and has much support in Multnomah County and outside. Other aspirants for the same plum are Tom Bruce, of Portland, and Will E. Mendenhall, of Sheridan.
