WAR CALLED MURDER AND PEACE ONLY NATIONAL HOPE.

Dr. Nina E. Wood Pleads for Termination of Strife and Asks Ald of

A horrible calamity, that will result the eventual destruction of the world, is certain unless universal peace soon attained, Dr. Nina Evaline is soon attained, Dr. Nina Evaline Wood, head of the Volunteer Peace Society, predicted at the peace rally at the Central Library yesterday.

"When a man kills another death is prescribed by law as the penalty for his crime," said Dr. Wood. "War is murder of the first degree and each of the nations now locked in the death grip are guilty of the crime. If the rest of us, supposedly neutral, allow the bloodshed to continue without making efforts to check it we share the guilt of the combatants. The death penalty in a higher scope overhangs penalty in a higher scope overhangs the world and this will not be com-muted unless the barbarism of warfare and Fund is Vital.

Thing; secondly, the task of the modern man hoday is to save men's souls; third-ly, the modern man has still a greater task in the remaking of the world.

"We have cheapened the idea of Christian morality today until the world is doubting the value of the golden rule. I never was more stunned in my life than when David R. Forgan, of Chicago, one of the country's greatest financiers, arose in midweek prayer meeting a few years ago and bodidly announced that in the world of credits, where he labored, the name of Christian meant nothing.

We live in a world of machines and

"We live in a world of machines and machines make cities. We're living in a box today surrounded by four walls of brick and mortar and on a floor of cement. Can the finer elements of man's nature, can his joy in health his love of partir love or with in beauty, his love of purity long exist in such a condition, such a state, without the aid of the modern man and his religion? It is the question of the age The modern man has a stupendous task before him. We have allowed the vice and slime of the world to feed upon The time has come, nay thousands. thousands. The time has come, nay, long has been here, that the rescue of men's souls must be made. I'm not thinking of that judgment beyond. It is the task before us right now and here which we must face. It's an awful world in which we are living. You men and many many must realize it.

and women of success must realize it. "The law of universal love must be worked out. A new Christianity is being born. Christ is not going to quit the earth, but instead a new church is rising out of the conservatism of the past, God will have a spiritualized humanity."

"You people claim to be Christians, don't you? Well, I'm going to put you all to a test to see how much Chris tianity there's really in you by making you do a Christian act. We will now take up a collection for the war-ridden, suffering Belgians, and if you aren't Christians in spirit enough to be will-ing to help out these, our poor brothers and sisters, when doomsday comes you will have to tell Jesus Christ why you were not, and may God have pity on you at that interview."

This declaration made from the pul-pit of the First Baptist Church by its pastor, Rev. Walter B. Hinson, yester-day morning, proved extraordinarily productive. The congregation heaped the collection baskets passed them. Nearly $250 was realized toward the Belgian fund in a few minutes, and this, it is said, is the largest collection ever taken up by a Portland religious body at one time for any special cause.

Rev. Mr. Hinson merclessly shelled "misers and tightwads," granting no armistice until it was proved without dispute that no such were among his audience.
