Portland already has surpassed any other city in the United States of equal size, in the generosity with which her citizens have responded to the call of the Associated Charities, and it has done this, while carrying the burden of numerous other relief funds being the continues.

A map showing the plan of the great Pacific shoreline highway was presented before the Chamber by F. M. Harris, of Renton, Wash., and this map and Mr. Harris' report thereon will serve as the basis for the campaign.

Portland seems bent on surpassing herself, as there is no apparent abatement in the cash and checks that every mail pours in upon the Associated Fund May Grow to $5000.

He has already been confined about 60 days on the reservation.

Frederick H. Atkinson, manager of the Oregon Lumber Company; David Geddes and K. J. Taylor, all of Baker, who were arrested by Federal authorities, have been released on $1000 bonds each. The indictment against Mr. Atkinson alleges that he knowingly presented false writing for the purpose of defrauding the Government in order to secure possession of a homestead, one and a half miles from Baker on which he filed in 1910. The indictments against Geddes and Taylor allege that in testifying in support of Mr. Atkinson's claim they perjured themselves.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL TAKE FIRST STEPS NOW.

Route From Canada to Mexico at Estimated Cost of $17,000,000 Would Protect Coast Best, Is Plea.

A great military road, running from the Canadian border to Mexico, along the seacoast; a road that will serve not only as a great highway for troop movements in case of war, but which will be one of the most striking scenic roads and one of the most valuable commercial highways in the United States, is the plan that is to be launched by the Portland Chamber of Commerce at once.

The plan was inforsed at the meet-ing of the board of trustees of the equal to the price of two dreadnoughts, which would be out of date in less than 20 years and go to the scrap heap, while the road, of immeasurably greater importance from a military viewpoint, than two battleships, and also capable of giving great commercial benefits to the Pacific Coast, would be practically

In the map submitted by Mr. Harris the highway follows closely the shore lines of the coast and would make it possible not only to transport troops in motor-driven vehicles rapidly along lines parallel to any raiding force that might be landed, but by addition of laterals from several points would make it possible to throw large bodies of troops into threatened places from the interior much more rapidly than any railway system now existing would be help to the poor in all seasons, before and after Christmas. REHEARING ONE CHANCE LEFT TO ESCAPE PRISON TERM.

Action of High Court in Affirming Conviction Undoubtedly Means That Sentence Must Be Served.

The action of the Oregon Supreme Court Tuesday in affirming the con-viction of W. H. Chapin, secured in the Multnomah County Circuit Court last June, means, undoubtedly, that he will have to serve his sentence of from one to 10 years in the penitentiary. He has the recourse of filing a peti-tion for a rehearing of his case, which it is not thought would be allowed, or he may take his case to the Governor. Chapin was convicted of having con verted to personal use the sum of $3500 entrusted to the firm of Chapin & Herlow by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Grace for investment in mortgages, the This, however, was a straight loan and no criminal charge was brought because of it. Chapin was given two trials. In the first, the jury disagreed, a majority standing for conviction, but a majority standing for conviction, but in the second, a unanimous verdict of guilty was returned.

COLD STEALS BIRDS' FOOD

Many Persons, However, Join in Relief With Crumb Supplies.

A charitable movement quite apart from the Red Cross relief work or the local social relief work is coming into recognition in Portland with the ad-vent of the cold weather. The birds are the beneficiaries.
When the cold weather came, it caught them unawares, and the food to which they have been accustomed in many places is becoming scarce. On Front street and around the mills the pigeons manage to find things pretty good, but, in dooryards, the snowbirds and chickadees are in a doleful plight. Many persons are remembering to throw out crumbs for the birds and are developing quite friendly relations with their feathered pensioners.
