NACO, BY COMPACT, IS NEUTRAL GROUND

Gutierrez Agrees to Permanent End of Siege; Hill Is Not to Follow Him.

NO ADVANTAGE IS LOST

Continued Safety of Border Towns Depends on Washington's Answer to Plan Submitted by General Scott.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.-Secretary Bryan received word unofficially tonight that the plan proposed Brigadier-General Scott, chief-of-staff of the United States Army, for the pre-vention of firing into American territory along the Mexican border, has been agreed on by all factions.

Enrique C. Liorente, Washington agent of the Gutierrez government, of which General Maytorena at Naco is a supporter, was advised that the latter had accepted the plan suggested by General Scott. It provides that General Hill, of the Carranza forces, should abandon Naco and be permitted to go unmolested to Agua Prieta, already held by a portion of his troops. General Maytorena, who has withdrawn his forces southward from Naco, would agree not to occupy Naco, Sonora, which would thenceforth become absolutely neutral. lutely neutral.

Maytorena Is Satisfied. As Maytorena already holds No-gales, a port of entry, he is said to be-lieve that the arrangement was neither to his advantage nor detriment. From the viewpoint of General Hill, the con-tinued possession of Naco was said to tinued possession of Naco was said to be of little value, because the Maytorena forces besieging it from the south prevented the further transportation of supplies obtained through the port from the United States. Retlring to Agua Prieta, Hill, it is believed, will be enabled to defend himself better against all attacks.

From the American point of view the arrangement was favored because fighting at either Agua Prieta or No-fighting at either Agua Prieta or No-gales would not be close enough to the American towns to produce the same situation as had existed for several months at Naco, where stray bullets constantly fell on American soil.

Villa Reports Harmony. Mr. Liorente said he had a telegram from General Villa to the effect that harmony prevailed between Gutlerrez and all the chiefs. Liorente therefore thought the statement issued by the private secretary of Gutierrez last night charging Villa with disobedience of orders was due to a misunderstanding which could not have resulted in anything serious.

NACO, Ariz. Dec. 27 .- Now that the retirement of Governor Maytorena's Villaistas from the siege of Naco, So-nora, has made Naco, Ariz., safe for the time being from stray bullets permanent safety for border towns depends on further conferences Brigadier-Gen-eral Scott will hold with the Sonora factional leaders.

It is understood the success of his mission hangs largely on Washington's answer to the plans submitted by General Scott last Thursday, in which the is believed to have suggested the crea tion of a neutral strip along the border.

Frenchmen Rushing to Capture Flying Machine Are Near Defeat When Horsemen Rush Up and Rout Foe With Lances,

BAR-LE-DUC, France. Dec. 9 .- (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)— The Petit Parisien gives the following account of the capture of a Taube aero-plane and the trenches commanding the valley of the Suippe: "The French batteries had been play-"The French batteries had been playing on the German positions all day and the observers reported that the fire of the three-inchers was precise and deadly; consequently the appearance of a Taube flying machine over the battery position was no surprise. The French gunners were commanded to cease firing in order not to give access to their whereabouts, and the Taube sailed away, seemingly having failed in its mission. It came back again, however, and after dropping four harmiess bombs on Sampigneul, it let fall a few dangerously close to the French batteries. The position had been discovered and the necessity of bringing the machine down before it could get back to the German lines was vital.

Shot Brings Weman Down.

Shot Brings Woman Down. "Muskets were aimed from every direction, machine guns were turned toward it, and even the three-inchers came into action. In a perfect storm of shell and bullets the Taube was soon in a bad way; it made an effort to turn and fly, but it was seen that it had been hard hit; it tipped considerable, then obliqued toward the earth and landed with a heavy shock in the plain of Aghilcourt.

"The French infantry had watched the action from the trenches, and the machine had no sooner touched the ground than the entire line dashed forward to capture it. The Saxons in front had also been looking on, and they came at double quick to defend the machine around which the two detachments clashed. There was an indescribable melee for a few minutes, in which it was impossible to separate the French and the Germans.

and woman arrested as those who attacked and robbed him. The ring was in possession of Fulchur.

This crime is one of a series of hold-ups and assaults that has made the month of December one to be remembered in Portland police annals. The prediction by William A. Pinkerton, noted detective, who was in Portland last Fall, that this Winter would see an unusually large number of such robberies, has thus far been fulfilled.

Mr. Plank had been drinking with a man whom he did not know, the police were informed, and was invited to the stranger's room, No, 31 in the Bennett Hotel, at Second and Taylor streets. There another man and a woman were found, drinking beer. The woman is said to have made a proposal, which Plank refused, at which he was attacked by the three. Broken beer bottles were the weapons used. Plank was badly cut by the glass and beaten into insensibility. He awoke in the morning in a deserted room which resembled a shambles, his blood bespattering the walls and broken glass littering the floor and bed. Later it was ascertained Mr. Plank had been robbed of $95 and a Masonic ring, valued at $190.

Staggering to the street, Mr. Plank came upon Patrolman Morelock, who was on his way to report for day duty. He was immediately taken to the Emergency Hospital, where his injuries were treated. Detectives Snow, Coleman, Abbott and Goltz made the investigation which led to the arrest of vestigation which led to the arrest of
