

THREE CLUBS PICK PLACES TO TRAIN

Beavers Choose Tucson, Salt Lake Likes San Jose and Seals, Boyes Springs.

OTHERS FAVOR 1914 PLANS

McCredie Says He Selected Arizona Location Because of Its Climate and Because of Chance to Cut Spring Expenses.

Coast League Training Camps.
Portland—Tucson, Ariz.
San Francisco—Boyes Springs, Calif.
Salt Lake—San Jose.

Three Pacific Coast League ball clubs practically have selected the locations of their spring training camps, but Tom Stephens has received assurances from Cliff Blankenship that the Mormons will do their conditioning at San Jose. The Seals, as usual, will train at Boyes Springs.

This leaves Oakland and the two Southern clubs, Los Angeles and Venice, to be heard from. Oakland likely will step out in the backyard and summer at Livermore. Los Angeles did its work at San Bernardino last spring and Venice remained at home. Doubtless this arrangement will hold again, as it proved satisfactory last season.

Teams to Gather February 20.
Most of the clubs will send out calls to their players to report about February 20. Portland likely will assemble one week later. McCredie says he has a shorter training season than his rivals.

"I have chosen Tucson for two reasons. First, it is a beautiful city. It never rains at Tucson this time of the year. I understand, so Tucson ought to be an ideal location. The climate is also cut some figure in my plans. Heretofore spring training has always cost us about $2000. Two years ago, when we trained at Visalia, we got off with only $1200, but that was an exception."

Easterners Can Stop Over.
"Now it will cost me considerable extra to take my Coast men to Tucson and back to Los Angeles. Easterners can have my Eastern players buy their tickets via the Southern route, with a stopover at Tucson. It will not cost me any extra transportation for them."

"My plan is to condition at Tucson for about a fortnight and then begin the journey to Los Angeles by easy stages. We could stop over at a dozen good-sized towns on the way, and might, by good luck, cut down the spring training expense item to a minimum."

Two years ago Nick Williams trained his Colts at Santa Rosa and played all along the road on his trip North, and Nick made money that day. I do not expect to do that well, but if I can top a few hundred dollars off the training expense it might help some.

Apparently the destinies of the new Salt Lake club are in excellent hands. At a temporary organization meeting a couple of days ago George F. Hanson, a well-known attorney and member of the School Board-elect, was chosen chairman of the board.

The other names on the temporary list include some of the big guns of the Utah metropolis as follows: M. R. Evans, last year owner of the Boise club; George D. Self, manager of the Hotel Utah; residents of the Salt Lake club; Rev. Elmer J. Geshes, C. Ed Moss, of the Aetna Life Insurance Company; J. B. Bennett, of the Utah Light & Power Company; J. H. Mansfield, of the Salt Lake Club; Claude Freed, of the Freed Furniture & Carpet company; A. R. Peterson, of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad; George S. Auerbach, of the Auerbach Bros. interests; C. L. McPaul, of the Southern Utah Hotel; J. W. Laugford, Sr., Majestic Park amusement resort; D. S. Spencer and Fred H. Knickerbocker, of the Oregon Short Line.

Rodger T. Badger, cashier of the Utah State National Bank, was named trustee.

Cliff McCredie is making another attempt to return to the San Francisco club. He has written to Seal headquarters requesting that Seal be placed on the list. He is sure that Seal can be framed up, so that he can get away from Vancouver. Among other things, the young first-sacker guarantees to hit 20 or a little better, and predicts that he will travel in this company.

McCredie was with the Seals in the Spring of 1913 and made a fairly good impression. He was later shipped to Spokane and subsequently sold to Vancouver.

A deal with a Western League club involving Shortstop Harry Scharnweber and Pitcher Jimmy Clark is being arranged by Bob Brown, of the Vancouver ball club, and it looks like it will go through.

Bob tried to make a trade with Portland for Bobby Coltrin, but could not induce McCredie to accept that way. There was a chance that Scharnweber might land the job as manager of the Spokane Indians, but nothing came of this, and President Brown favors that the Spokane club propose to bring an entirely new man to this league to boss the Indians next year.

Tealy Raymond, who probably will be the manager of the Seattle club next season, believes Scharnweber, a catcher, F. C. Carr, obtained for his Spokane club next season by cash purchase from the McCredie, will become a star with a year or so of steady work.

Throwing like a side shot nice receiver; good mark for the pitcher to shoot at; hard left-handed hitter and fast for his length; says the little Seattle manager, who seldom makes a mistake in baseball.

AUTO RACERS AT SAN DIEGO

Noted Drivers to Begin Tryouts Today for Exposition Event.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 1.—Some of the best-known drivers in the country have their cars ready for the opening practice tomorrow morning for the San Diego Exposition automobile race on the Point Loma course January 3.

The race of 355.932 miles, for which the prize list totals $10,000, is attracting many drivers of note. Sixteen are entered to date.

In the list are Earl Cooper, Eddie Hickenbach, Olin Davis, Jack Welch, Fred McCarthy, Jack Gibbs, Louis Nikrent, A. Cadwell, Guy Ruckstaff and several others. Several other noted drivers also will enter. It is expected that more than 25 will take the tape when Starter Fred J. Wagner swings the flag.

FOOTBALL TEAMS WHICH AGAIN BATTLED TO A SCORELESS TIE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON ON MULTNOMAH FIELD.

At Top (Left to Right)—Western Amateur Athletic Club, Moscow; Bill Graham, Truxy Jones, Coach Woodworth, Robinson, Mitchell, Huelar, Ray Burns, Derbyshire, Mascott, Manager Mead, Wax, Perry Austin, Carmahna, Sam Graham and Rolly Jones. At Bottom (Left to Right)—Albina Football Team (Staffing): Hughie McKenna, Johnson, Kilduff, Gil Shea, Holman, "Hooligan" Nelson, "Mike" Walter and Alben Stranding, Left (Right) Manager McCredie, Ahearn, Sherck, Fleischer, "Red" Watts, Mike Bloch, E. McEntee and Coach Ray Kennedy (Kneeling).

It's the same old story with the Albina-Western Amateur Athletic Club football game of yesterday.

For the second time in the past week the two elevenes battled to a 0-to-0 score on Multnomah. The field could not have been in a worse condition for a gridiron contest. Large and small puddles of water dotted the gridiron and at ankle deep.

The match was supposed to settle the 1914 fight with the 145-pound title of the Archer & Wiggins League, but President Rupert has decided that another game still must be played a week from tomorrow on the Columbia Park grounds.

Situation Not New to Club.
The situation is not new to the Western Amateur Athletic Club, for two years ago eight non-settled contests were played between the Mohawks and the Frank E. Watkins eleven, now the Western Club representatives, in efforts to settle the championship.

In the first half yesterday the club aggression had the better of the argument, but things changed soon after the kickoff in the second period. Two minutes before time was called "Hooligan" Nelson tried a place kick from Western's 14-yard line. The ball was so heavy that it could not be pushed to the goal posts.

Five-Yard Lines Obscured.
The game was divided into halves instead of quarters, as it was impossible for the referee to find the five-yard lines to mark off the distances between the intermission between the regular quarters. After the first down none of the spectators was able to recognize his particular hero.

The Jones brothers, Graham brothers and Perry Austin starred for the Western Club, while McKenna and Nelson, Sherk, McCredie and Bloch featured for the East Siders.

Following are the lineups:
Western (9): ... Kilduff
Huelar ... Fleischer
Bill Graham ... Walter
H. J. Holman ... Johnson
Robinson ... Holman
McCredie
Sam Graham ... Ahearn
Mitchell ... McKenna

TEN RIDERS FINISH RUN
STARTERS IN MOTORCYCLE ENDURANCE RACE NUMBER 28.
Distance Covered Is 375 Miles and Four Competitors Are Credited With Scores of 1000 Points Each.

Ten of 38 starters finished last night in the annual New Year's motorcycle endurance run, which started at midnight Thursday. The race was 375 miles long over a 25-mile course in the vicinity of Portland, and four riders were unofficially credited with 1000 points by the referees.

Not until today will the official results of the race be known, as the machines must be taken apart and examined thoroughly. Bert Heedley, on a Harley-Davidson; Archie Rife, on a Harley-Davidson; Ed Berrett, on an Excelsior, and "Sky" Beleski, on a Thor, are said to have records of 1000 points each.

The best time on the course was made by Archie Rife, when he covered one of his 15 laps in 38 minutes. The first of the 36 laps was according to all the entries, on a Harley-Davidson. The wind was so strong going out Sandy Road to Troutdale that the intake valves of the carburetors on several machines froze and the riders were unable to start.

L. G. Olson, on an Indian, ran into Bert Heedley, on a Dayton, and the accident caused considerable delay in all the entries. Heedley rode his Dayton 15 miles on a flat tire, and a delay of 45 minutes was made when he had to put a whole new casing on. On his second lap Archie Rife ran into the ditch, but it was not serious.

The start was made from Broadway and Oak streets and the riders then went through the Broadway bridge to Sandy Road, along Sandy Road to Troutdale and across to Fernside and Powell Valley and on down to Gresham. From Gresham they went to Eighty-second street and Powell Valley road and then along Eighty-second street to Sandy Road. This course was covered by the 10 riders who finished.

Following are the names of the riders who finished, and the scores credited to them: Bert Heedley, Dayton, 1000; Archie Rife, Harley-Davidson, 1000; Ed Berrett, Excelsior, 1000; "Sky" Beleski, Thor, 1000; Axel Kilduff, Dayton, 975; George Swyger, Harley-Davidson, 950; L. G. Olson, Indian, 950; E. H. Allen, Flying Merkel, 950; Ted Gilbert, Harley-Davidson, 940.

GRUMAN GETS SEATTLE OFFER
Dan Salt Proposes to Arrange for Bout with Topnotchers.

Ralph Gruman, Portland's representative in the boxing game, who holds the Pacific Coast lightweight championship, received an offer yesterday from Dan Salt, of Seattle, for four bouts in that city to take place in the near future.

The boys Ralph will be required to meet, if he accepts the offer, are among the topnotchers of the Northwest. The first bout probably will be between Gruman and Johnnie O'Leary. The Portland boy won the coast lightweight title from O'Leary in the south. O'Leary is a big favorite in Seattle and a bout with him likely would draw well. Joe Bayley and "Roughhouse" Burns may be the next two Ralph to take on. If he disposes of the trio, he then would be matched against Chet Neff, who is considered one of the classiest boxers in the Northwest.

Gruman will forward Salt's correspondence to his manager, Harry Foley, who is in California, and will await Foley's decision.

Ahearn and Dillon Box Draw.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 1.—Honors were about even at the end of a fast six-round bout between Young Ahearn, of Brooklyn, and Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis, here today. Ahearn conceded the Indianapolis middleweight eight pounds in weight, but his cleverness enabled him to offset Dillon's aggressiveness.

"Ted" Lewis, a lightweight of England, outpointed Willie Moore, of Philadelphia, in six rounds at another club.

WINGED MHS WINNER

Portsmouth Eleven Defeated by Record Score of 5 to 2.

MORRIS' DRIVES BRILLIANT

Russell Shows in Old-Time Form and Saves Goal From Foes Often.

Rain Postpones Game of Weonans and Thistles.

The Multnomah Club soccer team of stars ran up the largest score of the season in the Portland Soccer Football Association when they downed Portsmouth eleven, 5 to 2, on Multnomah field yesterday morning. Manager John D. Dwyer, of the club side, had gathered one of the strongest aggregations that has ever defeated Multnomah in the football sport.

The score was 2 to 1 against the West Siders at the call of half time, but the weight and experience of the club continued to be too much for Portsmouth, and the squad weakened so that four goals were registered to none for Portsmouth in the second period.

Morris Ends Valuable Drives.
Centerhalf Morris was the scoring star for the winners, for on two occasions he sent in high drives, both coming in the last period. All during the match a heavy downpour held away and it was almost impossible to do much combination work.

The other scheduled game for yesterday afternoon between the Archer & Wiggins Weonans and Thistles was called off by Managers "Scotty" Duncan and Rankin, after a consultation between periods of the morning session. The field was in no condition for a contest, they decided.

Merle Russell, who came from Seattle to play with the club eleven, showed his old-time interest and his own goal from almost sure scores. Jim Mackie was another tower of strength in the backfield.

MacKenzie Gets First Score.
The first score came to Multnomah 30 seconds after the start of the game, when MacKenzie booted the oval past R. Gray. Gibbs of Portsmouth squatted by his beautiful shot, and ten minutes later his teammates jumped in the lead when D. Morton made a score. Soon after Referee Rankin started the second half Morris put in a point, and then followed Wright with another. In the middle of the period Morris came across with another long shot, and then again he booted another fourth and last point of the game.

For Multnomah Club Ray Leonard, Russell, Mackie, MacKenzie and Morris were the big stars, with Gibbs, Hazzlett brothers, Curry and Young featured for Portsmouth.

Following were the lineups:
Multnomah (2): Portsmouth (2).
Leonard ... Gray
Russell ... Young

Bits of Sport.

NINETEEN FOURTEEN was a year of sensations and disappointments in baseball. The victory of the Boston Braves in the pennant race and the world's series was a big surprise.

The coming indoor track season at the University of Pennsylvania will be a busy one. One of the features will be the meet between the freshmen and the Philadelphia high schools.

According to reports, Jack Johnson

CHARLIE VAN LOAN, THE AUTHOR, and justly celebrated as the only person who ever stole second with the bases full, was coming by stage to the Jeffrey camp. Armstrong was called into council.

"Now, Bob," began Jeff, "you're going to meet a real blood. This fellow Van Loan's recreation is rushing Old Dame Fortune right out into the sea at Montez Carlo. Around Denver, he tells us, they never use chips in poker games—just live cattle on the table. It's a chip a bridle calf—see the bridle calf and raise you two longhorns—see the two longhorns and bet a herd of mavericks, and so on. Bob, look out for this fellow. He's an intellectual giant and some gambler."

"Let him come, Mister Jim," said Bob softly, "baby needs a new pair of shoes."

"Yes, bo!" heralded the arrival of Van Loan.
"I've got a bank roll!" were Van's first words. "Are there any gamblers on the ranch?"

"Bob's got it all," signed Corbett.
"Come behind the barn," said Armstrong. No braces there to chill the dice. Let's be private."

"They were gone three hours. Finally Armstrong came slowly around to Jeff's cottage.
"Well?" came the chorus from Corbett, Choyanski, Kelly, Kolb, Verne, Jeff and company. "Did you take him?"

"Take him?" said Armstrong with a grin. "Gentlemen, I left that bovine with the dog, and he's been in the perspiration in the palm of his hand!"

BOUT PROMOTER FIGHTS

CHARLEY DALE AND MANAGER OF HECTOR ST. JOHN CLASH.

Impromptu Battle Takes Place at Spokane When Harry Needham Refuses to Send Man Against Farrell.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—Charley Dale, fight promoter of the Hillyard Athletic Club, staged an impromptu battle in the hall today with Harry Needham, manager of Hector St. John, when Needham refused to let St. John meet Harry Farrell, a tough light weight, who was once considered good enough to meet Freddy Welch.

Dale says Needham demanded a prohibitive amount to put up $100 for this fight, winner take all.

Dale then went back to where Needham and St. John were sitting, and was met by a smiling Harry Needham, right. Dale rushed to a clinch and the men wrestled about for several minutes.

A policeman showed up and placed the men in a room. Dale and Needham appear at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

More than 2000 skaters, making up one of the largest crowds to appear at the Portland Ice Hippodrome since its opening, were out yesterday morning and afternoon. In the morning there were 476 paid admissions and in the afternoon the total was 1527. The night crowd swelled this by several hundred.

As a special affair, J. George Keller, secretary and treasurer of the local ice skating association, will present a midnight "matinee" Thursday evening. More than 400 skaters were on hand at 12 o'clock and the lights were turned out and the building remained dark for 10 minutes.
