UP LEGAL QUESTION

Selection of George Neuner as District Attorney May Get to Supreme Court.

CONSTITUTION IS

Lawyers Say Membership in Legislature Disqualifies Him for Place.

Age of Office Also to Be Asked if Test Is Made.

Two important legal questions have arisen over the appointment by Governor West of George Neuner, Jr., of Roseburg, to succeed George M. Brown. Attorney-General, as District Attorney of Douglas County and over the Governor's selection of Dexter Rice to succeed Mr. Neuner in the State Senate.

Mr. Neuner is a holdover Senator and was a member of the last Legislature, which enacted the law providing for a district attorney in each county of the state.

But if the Supreme Court decides that

Mr. Brown's office was a new office, "created" under provisions of the "created" under provisions of the County Attorney act, it will be equally apparent that Mr. Neuner's appointent is illegal. In that event the Governor will have the opportunity to make another ap-

He received a common school education and was graduated from the law department of Willamette University. He paid his way through law school by working with a party of Government engineers in Alaska. He has served several terms of clerkships in the Legislature and was elected to the Senate in 1912.

Whatever develops from the present situation the people of Douglas County insist that they shall be represented in the State Senate. A vacancy now exists since Mr. Neuner's resignation has been accepted by the Governor and the Douglas County people want it filled.

Thomas, a British officer delegated, to buy horses, today was said to be the man who has been at Union, where he passed a number of worthless checks. He is declared to be a forger, with a wide field of operations. Turner Bros. contracted with him to supply him with a bunch of cavalry horses. The inspection was set for Sunday. Thomas is now believed to have disappeared from this part of the country. Yesterday morning early a man tunswering the description called Chaules Olds and went by taxicab to Pleasant Valley, arriving there just ahead of the morning eastbound train. Mr. Olds was at a loss to understand why the man wanted to go by taxicab when a train was coming soon after. His passenger said he was a horse buyer. In paying he did not offer a check, but paid in gold, displaying a big roll of bills.

At Union the man gave a sight draft for $10,000 on the Ladd & Tilton bank, of Portland. This was not honored. He did, however, cash checks for $130.

SWINDLER LOSES CASE

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS CONVIC-TION OF L. C. HAMMER.

Man Accused of Fradulent Oil Dealing in Portland Fails in Appeal, Other Decisions Reported.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 1 .- (Special.) The Circuit Court's verdict of guilty was affirmed Thursday by the Supreme Court in the case of the state against L. C. Hammer, of Portland, who was a district attorney in each county of the state.

Because of this fact some attorneys contend that he is ineligible for the office to which the Governor has appointed him, as the constitution specifies that no member of the Legislature is that no member of the Legislature of shall be appointed to any office of profit created during his legislative term.

The appointment of Mr. Rice, who is to county Judge of Douglas County, to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by Mr. Neuner's resignation also has been questioned. Some attorneys contend that the Governor has not the power to make such appointments.

Legal Test Thought Likely.
In any event, it is probable that the entire procedure followed by the Governor in filling these offices will be made the subject of a legal test.

Mr. Drown was District Attorney of the old Third Juddicial District, comprising Douglas, Coos and Curry counties before the County Attorney law was passed.

This circumstance has raised another question: Was Mr. Brown's office "created" by the last Legislature or did it exist before the County Attorney bill was passed. In other words, was it an old office and that it was not "created" by the Legislature of which Mr. Neuner was a member, it will be apparent that Mr. Neuner's appointment to succeed Mr. Brown is legal and regular.

But if the Supreme Court decides that the Supreme Court decides that the Supreme Court decides that the Supreme Court will be apparent that Mr. Neuner's appointment to succeed Mr. Brown is legal and regular.
