WOODEN CARS ARE TO GO

Commission Will Order Their Abolition in New York Subway.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Another short circuit and block caused on the subway this morning. A short circuit, causing a six-minute block, occurred during the rush hour this morning...

The Public Service Commission has requested both President Shonts of the interborough and Clifford W. Wilder, its own electrical engineer, to advise it immediately as to the earliest date on which the retirement of the 478 wooden cars now in use in the subway can be begun.

May 1 was mentioned in the Commission's letter as the date on which it has been advised tentatively that the elimination should begin.

WILSON MAY YIELD

Appointments Not Meant to Be "Obnoxious" to Senators.

NEW JERSEY CASE IS UP

Majority Members of Sub-Committee Have Conference With President, as Result of Which Settlement Is Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Democratic members of the Senate were hopeful tonight of an early settlement of differences which have arisen between President Wilson and some of their number over Federal appointments.

The President is understood to have told the Senators that he had no intention of making appointments to the interested members of the Senate.

While there were no direct indications of the intention of the President to withdraw any of the nominations which caused the trouble in the Senate, among the Senators directly concerned there was a feeling that satisfactory arrangements would be made.

The case of Ewing Bland, Jr., who received a recess appointment as United States Marshal for the Western district of Missouri and whose nomination subsequently was rejected by the Senate, was mentioned incidentally at today's conference.

Senator Stone's sub-committee is ready to report on the Hampton case and Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, is expected to call this week to act on the nomination, Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, is standing with the President on the nomination.

$1000 DOG IS CHEWED UP

Society Woman's Pets Clash and Pomeranian Is Annihilated.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 1.—Park Nook Mollie, a prize-winning Pomeranian owned by Miss C. E. Maple, met death in a decisive encounter with a big Alredale terrier and the canine tragedy, according to reports, may end in court proceedings.

The Alredale, according to neighbors, enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. F. S. O'Dell's handsome home in McPherson street, but following Mollie's sudden exit from the street Mrs. O'Dell disclaimed ownership.

Mollie came from the Geddis kennel in Scotland and was valued at $1000. Two of her sisters, less renowned in the upper 10 of dogdom, brought $500 each. Mollie won a blue ribbon in the big bench show in Boston two years ago and has won many other ribbons.

of the Maple home in Thomas avenue when Tille wandered into the yard. There was an exchange of belligerent greetings and then Miss Maple, inside the house, heard a savage growl, followed by a sharp yell.

There was little left of the $1000 prize-winner when the big Alredale got through with her job. The police were notified.

TOWN'S NAME NOT LIKED

New Industry Objects to Made-In-Connecticut Title of Place.

BRIDGEPORT, Pa., Jan. 10.—While "a rose by any other name is just as sweet," the people of this town are wondering if the same would apply to the name of their borough.

The representative of one of the biggest industries of the town, a large shoe company, which came here from Delaware, appeared before the town's legislative body and proposed that the name be changed to anything but what it is.

John Dillon, president of the Council, suggested a possible popular vote on the proposed change, but no definite action was taken.

OFFICER'S HORSE STOLEN

Man Who Dodged Paying for Oyster Stew Takes Benefactor's Rig.

ARMORE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Sergeant Rhodes, of the Lower Merion police force, was in an oyster house here when a large man disputed about paying for an oyster stew.

The man who afterwards deserted his friend and declared he had no money. Out of the goodness of his heart Sergeant Rhodes paid for the man's meal.

"Say so," he declared, "if I had known that horse belonged to that Sergeant I never would have touched it, believe me."
