

REMOTE VILLAGES FOUND DESTROYED

Large Number of Women Taken From Ruins Alive Five Days After Quake.

SEISMIC ACTIVITY IS LESS

Dazed Survivors at Last Regain Composure and Co-operate With Rescuers—Italian Queen Sends Trainload of Supplies.

ROME, Jan. 18.—A dispatch to the Giornale d'Italia from Cittaducale, in the region of Ciociaria, reports that 150 persons were killed and others injured by the earth shock at that place.

At Borgo Collefegato, a number of bodies were taken from the ruins. The Tribune says that Salomina Castro Nuova, a town of 500 inhabitants, and the town of Canistro were destroyed. At the latter place 80 persons were attending mass at the moment of the quake, and 50 of them remain under the ruins of the church.

The victims at Capistrano number about 200.

The Rome observatory officials say that the seismic activity clearly is diminishing.

More Troops Reach Ruins.

Fresh troops reached the earthquake area today and the work of rescue was continued with energy.

It is interesting to note that the number of women being found alive is larger than the number of men. Women appear to have superior resistance to dangers. Even today, five days after the disaster, several girls and old women were extricated from the ruins. All are injured, but nevertheless doctors hope to save them. A little boy, 10 months old, was found alive. He held in his hands a wooden horse, evidently a Christmas present.

Military authorities are taking severe measures to stop looting. To thieves, endeavoring last night to enter a house formerly occupied by the local branch of the Bank of Naples, shot.

Priests Aid Rescuers.

Many priests are taking part in the work of rescue. The parish priest of Massorone was rescued after having been buried more than four days.

A trainload of supplies provided by Queen Helena and consisting of clothes, medicine, foodstuffs, etc., reached Avellino today. Count Campello, one of his majesty's gentlemen-in-waiting, will distribute these supplies and a large sum of money.

The people of Avellino at last are beginning to show personal initiative and are readily co-operating with the government representatives, the Red Cross and rescue workers.

Several members of the Chamber of Deputies who have arrived in the district are assiduously organizing relief and directing rescue work.

Deputy Reaches Remote Town.

Deputy Bisolati, the Socialist leader in the Chamber, who is noted as a Mountain climber, ascended today with a party of men to the little village of Rondinara, 1200 feet up the mountain side. The village, which had rested on a crag like an eagle's nest, was destroyed. The church collapsed while it was filled with worshippers.

The deputy and his men, with axes, picks and ropes, delved into the wreckage and rescued a number of persons.

UNARMED PEACE IS GOAL

Horror of War Dominates Britain, Says Lord James Bryce.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The horror of war dominates all feelings of the British people except that of a resolution to fight for deliverance "from another armed peace," Lord Bryce, ex-British Ambassador to the United States, declared in a letter to Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and chairman of the American League to Limit Armaments. Lord Bryce's letter, made public here today, says:

"We have been reading with interest your article about military preparations and the creation of great armaments in the United States. Is there really any large party that desires that? Here some people live in fear, and in fighting German militarism, end by creating a British militarism, but of this I do not think there is much danger. The horror of war dominates every other feeling, and that of a needed resolution to fight it through and deliver us from another armed peace."

CASUALTY NUMBERS GROW

Austrian and Prussian Losses Are More Than Million.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Exchange Telegraph's Vienna correspondent, in a dispatch sent to Cologne, says that Austrian casualty lists, which do not include the loss of the last two months, give the following totals: Officers wounded, 2880; officers captured, 42.

Men killed, 40,827; men wounded, 231,160; men captured, 8502.

The last five Prussian casualty lists, according to the correspondent, give the names of 38,784 officers and men killed, wounded or missing, making the total Prussian losses as disclosed in 136 lists 87,107.

Mother in Kansas City Appeals to Judge for Aid.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Fred G. Hall, claiming to be from Baker, Or., has appealed to Juvenile Judge Sims to obtain possession of daughter Belle Hatfield, 4 years old, her daughter by a former marriage. Mrs. Hall says Mrs. W. H. Carroll here is holding the child for a bond bill of $13.50 since the death of C. E. Hatfield, the child's father.

Judge Sims says Mrs. Cattrell must explain. If the mother wins the child the latter will be sent to an uncle at Smith Center, Kan., until the mother can pay her fare to Oregon. Mrs. Cattrell says she must have the money for the child.

CAMINO WORD AWAITED

HALIFAX ON ALERT FOR MESSAGE FROM DISABLED RELIEF SHIP.

San Francisco Hears Vessel Is in No Immediate Danger, and Kanawha Is Standing by to Aid.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 18.—Wireless operators along the Nova Scotia coast have been long today for news from the American steamer Camino, which reported yesterday that she was helpless at sea, having lost her rudder in a storm south of Sable Island.

The Camino was bound from San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal for Belgium with relief supplies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—The California relief ship Camino was in no immediate danger today and her officers expected her to be towed to Halifax.

The vessel has on board $300,000 worth of foodstuffs and supplies for the relief of destitute Belgians, and is bound for Rotterdam.

The following message describing the vessel's plight was received here today by the Chamber of Commerce from Cape Race:

"Steamship Kanawha standing by. Weather moderating. Ship unmanageable. Cannot steer. Rudder broken. Other damage to ship. Will endeavor to get underway about in morning. Expect to be towed to Halifax."

CAMINO DUE IN HALIFAX SOON

British Steamer and American and Canadian Revenue Cutter Aid.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The latest news received here tonight at the office of the commission for relief in Belgium concerning the California relief ship Camino, which on Sunday night sent out a call of distress, was to the effect that the steamer was 300 miles off Halifax, with her rudder, deckhouses and anchors gone.

The captain of the Kanawha was reported to be standing by, while the United States revenue cutter Androsoggin and the Lady Laurier, of the Canadian government, were on their way to succor the vessel.

The owner of the Camino, R. H. Swayne, of San Francisco, is in this city and received a communication from the captain of the steamer concerning her condition, stating that he was expected in the port of Halifax Wednesday and that arrangements for her repair had been made.

The Camino is laden with a cargo of about 4000 tons, given by the State of California for the relief of Belgians. The cargo and crew are fully covered by insurance.

MILLIONS TO AID YOUTH

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER GIVES TO EDUCATION $73,000,000.

Since Organization 12 Years Ago of General Education Board Total of $117,362,710 Has Been Donated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A summary of the first comprehensive report of the work of the general education board, given out here today, shows that through funds given by John D. Rockefeller and through the board's efforts in inducing others to give, a total of $117,362,710 has been dedicated to the cause of education in the United States since the organization of the board 12 years ago.

Using the general education board as a medium, the summary states, Mr. Rockefeller has provided more than $73,000,000 for educational purposes. Of this sum the board has made direct appropriations of $15,589,567; has paid to Chicago University, at the specific instance of Mr. Rockefeller, $13,554,342; has appropriated for the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research $10,267,422, and still has available for its purposes $32,915,156.

Supplemental sums contributed by others aggregated more than $44,300,000.

Contributions to colleges and universities, the summary states, are subject to four general conditions: gifts to be conditional upon additional sums to be given by others; preference for centers of wealth and population and the pivots of a general system of higher education; systematic and helpful co-operation with institutions established by religious denominations; concentration of gifts in the form of endowments. All funds contributed by Mr. Rockefeller to the board are given outright; and gifts once made to an institution of learning are absolutely alienated from any control by the board.

one company, he said, which has 10,000,000 policy holders. To hold an election would cost half a million dollars.

"Because of the cost," the witness asserted, "it is impossible to hold an election at which officers could be regularly elected. Of course, as the company is a mutual organization, a policy holder can vote if he appears at regular meetings. But nobody expects the policy holders to appear, however. The state should be represented in the management of this concern if the interests of all are to be cared for."

Labor Classed as Commodity.

Mr. Babson, who said it was his opinion that labor was a commodity like copper and that wages were governed by the law of supply and demand, advocated the establishment of profit-sharing plans among the employees of large corporations or companies.

"Do you believe that the law of supply and demand should apply to labor as it does to steel, copper or coal?" asked Commissioner Lennon.

"Yes," replied Mr. Babson, "and that's where so many social workers make a mistake."

"Thank God, they are making mistakes," said Commissioner Lennon.

Mr. Babson then launched into a discussion of the business of Henry Ford, of Detroit.

"Ford's plan," he said, "is not a profit-sharing one in that sense of the word. He is simply playing the game for labor, instead of for capital. In for labor, he has told me he will establish a profit-sharing plan. Whoever makes the profits in his plant shall later share in those profits."

He said he believed a large percentage of labor trouble and social unrest was caused by the plants being governed not by persons on the ground, but by a board of directors sitting in an office building in some other city, usually New York.

These directors, he asserted, were nearly always representatives of banking houses which had financed corporations. In this connection he discussed the affairs of the American Woolen Company. Capitalists, he said, have no grudge against labor—they simply are indifferent to it.

"Witnesses expected to appear tomorrow are Ida M. Tarbet, John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland.
