FRANK HUELSMAN ON LIST

"Red" Toner Also to Get Chance to Come Back and Galena, Carman, Davis and Others Will Try for Regular Berths.

BY BOSCOE FAWCETT. When the Salt Lake club reports at San Jose for Spring training next month some of the old Sacramento guard will have to do some tall hustling to win regular jobs.

There's Frank Huelsman for a former Northwest League outfielder. Huelsman has been up in the Union Association ever since it was organized by William Lucas in 1911.

Blankenship also proposes to give outfielders Johnny Galena, Billy Davis, Fred Carman and Cliff Marshall and First Baseman Herb Hester and Second Baseman Charley French a whack at regular berths.

Another candidate has been added to the training squad of the Portland Coast champions, bringing the list up to 25 players.

The new recruit's name is Edwin Hall, Marysville, Cal., and he is said to be some semi-pro shortstop.

Walter McCredie says that in all his years managing the Portland team he has never had a player for a dog but he has had many a player "dog it" on him.

San Francisco's new outfielder, Rudolph Baerwald, will be the second best batsman in the Texas League last season.

He is described as a big fellow who bats right-handed and has a knack of hitting into right field.

Happy Hogan had first chance at Baerwald, but spurned the Texas, as he already had a first-class outfield.

Dr. Harry Todd, former Beaver twirler, flashed a letter to Bill Rodgers yesterday in which he said the Rodgers-Lohrer-Evans hunting party would not be back until February 1.

Mike McCormack plugged along at his usual clip last year in the New England League.

The leeked out yesterday when M. F. Dolph, a former football star at Multnomah and at Williams College, received a letter from Frank O'Neill.
