OAKLAND LOADED WITH INFIELDERS

Christian Has Ten on Tapis to Be Tried Out With Other Possibilities.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Oakland will have a plethera of infielders for 1915, judging from the activity Tyler Christian has been displaying within the past fortnight. Thus far Christian has 10 on his ros.

Thus far Christian has 10 on his roster as follows:
Ness and Gardner, first base; Marcan, Manda and Powling, second base: Alcock, Menges and Guest, shortstop: Lindsay and Litschi, third base.
The new infielders are Marcan, purchased from Birmingham of the Southern League; Manda, White Sox, last year with Decatur in the Three-Eye League: Alcock, Chicago White Sox; Landsay, secured in trade for Murphy from New Orleans of Southern League; Litschi, secured in trade for Hetling from Venice.

Another infield possibility is Koerner, from Venice.

Another infield possibility is Koerner, purchased from Topeka of the Western League. Koerner is said to be an erratic first sacker, however, and undoubtedly will be utilized mostly in the Cakland's outfield shows Middleton, Koerner, Gardner and Daniels.

Marcan, the newest infield acquisition, captained Birmingham last year, its said, and Walter McCredie claims he is a sweet baliplayer. Marcan wanted to come to Portland and Mack tried to get him. Walter Doane played in the Southern Lengue against him in 1911 and he says Marcan is a righthanded batter and a dandy fielder.

He batted 260 last year in 155 games, stole 39 sacks and led the league's second basemen in fielding at 367.

Bill Lindsay, the old Beaver favorite, batted only 248 at New Orleans last year. Onkland's outfield shows Middleton, Manda, another of the recruits, was drafted from Decatur by Chicago last Fall. He batted .260 in the Class B cir.

Pall. He batted see in the cuit.

Alcock's case is a bit snaried up and there is a chance that Oakland may not secure him. Perhaps that is why Manager Christian is getting so busy about infielders. Alcock was supposed to come to Oakland in the Quinlan deal, but he refused to report last Fall. It is understood he has changed his mind but Christian may be getting ready to tell him to jump into the bay when the White Sox come West in March.

Wait McCredie was not at all surprised when informed that Salt Lake had purchased Joe Gedeon from Washinston via the Los Angeles Scraphs.
"Washington offered Gedeon to me a few days ago," said he. "And would you believe it—they wanted to sell Mike Mitchell back to Portland. If Mike was as good a man as when he went up to the big show I would have taken the hook, line and sinker."
Mack says Gedeon didn't show the improvement last year that he had expected.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—The powers that control organized baseball, or at least are said to control it, were described as oppressors of minor leagues and ballplayers by Keene Addington, chief counsel for the Federal League, in his opening address in the anti-trust suit against the National Commission, the American League and the National League.

Addington cited features of the National agreement, decisions of the National Commission and general practices of baseball authorities to show that the game is governed by a group having almost absolute power to make laws, judge of infractions of the laws and impose penalties for infractions.

Addington had not finished his opening argument when court adjourned tonight and it was said the case probably would last well into next week.

fourned tonight and it was said the case probably would last well into next week.

Crowds Are Attracted.

The first session attracted a large number of baseball followers, and though the arguments, involving much legal matter, had no thrills for them, they were recompensed partly by close views of celebrities. Among the latter were the, presidents of both big defendant leagues, the chairman of the National Commission, the leaders of the Federals and a score or more of magnates and players of note.

At the afternoon session Addington and evoted a large portion of his address to an attack on the waiver and draft rules and practices. He declared the former vested control of the player not alone in the club, he serves, but also in other clubs. His chance of becoming a free agent is slight, according to Addington, aince it requires action of many different entities.

Addington charges that the waiver method issued is a means of humiliating or disciplining a player, and then brought in the charge made in an affidavit by Mordecal Brown that when President Murphy, of the Chicago Nationals, sold him to Louisville it was with the agreement that Brown never would be allowed again to join the majors.

Brown's Actions Recalled.
