Judge Kavanaugh Decides to Inquire Into Shrievalty Vote as Tab Goes On.

BOOTH CLERKS SUBPENAED

Court Takes Step Over Objection by ex-Sheriff Word's Under Way.

The alleged irregularities in pre-cinct 37 at the November 3 election will investigated thoroughly in the This thrievalty recount proceedings.

shrievalty recount proceedings. This was decided yesterday by Circuit Judge Kavansugh.

Over the objection of attorneys for ex-Sheriff Tom M. Word, who is contesting the election of Sheriff Hurlburt, Judge Kavansugh decided to subpens all the judges and clerks of election in that precinct. These officials will be closely questioned by the Judge himself in an endeavor to account for every moment of time between the opening of the polls and the delivery of the ballot boxes to the County Clerk. Evidence of individual voters as to how they voted also is admissible under the ruling of Judge Kavansugh, but such testimony may not be required after the election officials are examined.

out the day board had counted 52 of them for Mr. Word.

A secret investigation by District Attorney Evans has been begun and a grand fury investigation later is declared probable.

The night the present system. It was charged by the friends of the bill that there are at least a dozen justices and exjustices in the House. The rollicall seemed to bear out this theory, as the bill was badly snowed under.

House Refuses to Pass Bill for Re duction in Court Fees.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 48.

—(Special.)—The House today proved itself the friend of the patient peace justice when it refused to pass Representative Tom Brown's bill providing for a substantial reduction in the Justice Court fees. It is said that the bill was aimed particularly at the justices in Marion County, where the income of those officials is said to be disproportionate to the value of their services.

The up-state members however, pro-tested that the fees in their respective localities are not sufficient even under

What is believed to be a possible ew to the whereabouts of Mrs. Emma clew to the whereabouts of Mrs. Emma Herrin Dickey, who disappeared from the Waverleigh Crest Sanitarium on January 7. was discovered yesterday, when it was reported that two suitcases identified as belonging to the missing woman were found in the Jefferson-street Depot, January 3, by the station agent. On finding the suitcases the railroad employe supposed that some traveler had forgotten them and turned them into the lost article dejartment, where no more attention was paid to the matter until about a week ago, when they were opened by the railroad employes, having remained unclaimed.

Some correspondence in one of the cases referred to Mrs. A. C. Dixon, a sister of Mrs. Dicker, who resides in Eugene. She was notified of the finding of the sultcases and yesterday notified David C. Herrin, who recovered them. He identified them as belonging to his sister.

Detective Hawley, who is working on the case, said he thought the missing woman evidently had intended visiting her sister in Eugene, but at the station either had suffered a lapse of memory or had changed her mind. He also thinks it possible she may have boarded a train for some other point, neglecting to take the cases with her.
