POPULAR AND WELL-KNOWN OREGON MATRON WHO HAS BEEN SELECTED AS ONE OF OFFICIAL HOSTESSES FOR THE OREGON BUILDING.

Mrs. Charles A. Gray

ONCE again this week the Monday Night Dancing Club occupies a prominent place on the social calendar, as they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster and the Misses MacMaster this evening at their attractive home "Arignon" for an informal dance. This affair follows the personal Mrs. MacMaster's series of dances by the club, and will be a notable event. The MacMasters have asked several additional guests, and the function is to be preceded by several dinner parties, among the hosts and hostesses being Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty and Mr. and Mrs. Gay Lombard. Mrs. Charles Whitley will be honored at the Dougherty's dinner.

Miss Carrie Hexter will entertain this afternoon with a tea for the benefit of the Neighborhood House.

Mrs. Charles A. Gray, a well-known and popular matron of Salem, has the distinction of being selected as one of the official hostesses for the Oregon building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, to alternate with Mrs. Thomas G. Halley, of this city. Mrs. Gray is a petite, vivacious woman, with a charming personality and is not only prominent socially in the Capitol City, but also in Portland, where she formerly resided. She frequently visits here with relatives. Mrs. Gray is a native daughter of Oregon, and the Gray family is one of the early settlers of Salem. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Halley both will make the Oregon building one of the most delightful palaces at the fair from a social standpoint, as both are tremendously popular with the younger and older contingents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blaesing entertained last night with one of the most delightful card parties of the season. This is the first of a series that the hosts will give during the next few weeks, and again this evening Mr. and Mrs. Blaesing will have a similar affair. There were guests for eleven tables of bridge last night and this evening's party will number about 40. An artistic decorative scheme was developed with a theme of golden-hued daffodils, artistically arranged about the entire house, combined with festoons of red hearts, suggestive of the approaching holiday. Little Miss Lenore Blaesing, daughter of the hosts, and Mrs. Blaesing's brother, Carl Cook, assisted in receiving the guests.

Mrs. Charles A. Gray will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pettit, 109 East Eleventh street. A delightful affair was enjoyed by members of Sunnyside Masonic Lodge, including their families, last Friday evening. Mrs. Fred James H. McMenamin played several violin solos, assisted by Miss Agnes Love. Miss Margaret Moore sang and a baritone solo was offered by Dr. Pitt. John Renzie presided over some Harry Lauder's Scotch ballads. Progressive "500" was played and the high score holders received handsome prizes. The consolation prizes were lessening. Refreshments and dancing followed.

Mrs. Fayette Bosfield, of Aberdeen, Wash., was hostess at a luncheon recently at the Mallory, where she has been passing a few months. The guests were Mrs. Fred E. Green, Mrs. E. O. Kingsley, Mrs. Philip Hart, Miss Katherine Hart, Miss Cornelia Cook and Miss Isabelle Gauld.

DR. J. H. BOYD gave a strong address yesterday before the members of the Council of Jewish Women. He made a plea for the home and offered many inspiring suggestions that were received with deep approval and appreciation. Among the dangers that now beset the home Dr. Boyd mentioned the philosophy that would wholly disintegrate it and would substitute an erotic naturalism for a spiritual love and the offering over to the state for care.

He mentioned also the danger of the wrong idealism of modern woman in moving away from the man-centered world and falling to recognize her own supreme position and privileges and great part in keeping and making the home the center of the whole scheme of life.

"The home is being stripped of its influence and responsibilities," said Dr. Boyd, "and the public schools are assuming many of the functions of education, amusement and morals. Let us create a new idealism, a movement back to the point from which society may see the great significance of the home. Then womanhood will reach its highest, greatest and highest mission."

Miss Sadie Delovare gave an excellent paper on "Current Events," and Miss Paulette played piano solos. Mrs. Solomon Hirsch presided as hostess during the social hour that followed the programme. The table was centered with pink primroses. Mrs. Joseph Goodman and Mrs. Felix Friedlander presided. Assisting in serving were Miss Mai Hirsch, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Mrs. Henry Hill Metzger, Mrs. I. N. Lippman, Miss Florence Wolfe, Miss Miriam Jacobs and Miss Sadie Delovare. During the business session a number of reports were given and several matters of importance were discussed. Mrs. Isaac Sweet, president, presided. The Council of Jewish Women will present a play on Wednesday evening, March 31, in the White Temple, Twelfth and Taylor streets. Miss Antin will lecture on "Immigration."

The annual reception of the Florence Meade Mission Circle of the Universalist Church will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. D. Corby, 822 Broadway, near Twenty-fourth street. The committee in charge has prepared a fine musical and literary programme. The membership of the circle has increased greatly this year and plans to double the present enrollment are being considered.

On last Saturday evening the Self-Clearing Club gave an entertainment at the old Troy Laundry building for the unemployed men, which the city is assisting to find positions.

One thousand five hundred have been placed in positions in squads. Individuals are allowed to work in the woodyard, long enough to earn two meals and a lodging. If there was work enough the institution would be self-supporting. As it is some meals are given.

Dr. Muffley, a member of the club, arranged the programme and presided. At the close about 200 "Home" song-books were presented to the men, and they were invited to join with the club in singing, which they did with enthusiasm. These men, some of whom have been well off, come from all parts of the world. A college graduate may rub elbows with a professional hobo. To these brothers in misfortune the club brought the aspect of encouragement and hope. The certain numbers showed appreciation.

Longfellow says truly: "Every human heart is human" and throbs in harmonious response when the right chord is struck. But some of these men haven't even a blanket. Any person who will supply this need or give suitable books and magazines may telephone B 3139 or East 7015 and they will be called for.

Plans are being formulated for a state-wide campaign for a large delegation to attend the International Congress of Education, under the direction of the National Education Association, which convenes in Oakland, Cal., from August 16 to 28.

The Eastern and Western divisions of the State Teachers' Association have made appropriations to help maintain Oregon headquarters during the convention.

Miss Thomas already has obtained headquarters at the Hotel Oakland. Here all members of the teaching profession of the state will hold their social as well as business meetings. August 21 has been officially designated as National Education Association day, and will be spent on the Exposition grounds.

In the forenoon the teachers and their friends will be received in their own state building. The afternoon is to be spent in the California building, where a general reception to the educational forces of the Nation will be tendered by California.

The Oregon Commission of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition has invited the teachers of Oregon, through the state director, to occupy as much space and time on August 21 in the Oregon building as they require, and will in every way lend assistance in making the day a success.

Oregon is expected to have the largest delegation present in its history. Many teachers are planning to attend the convention. There will be a special train from Portland, and those who desire further information should communicate with the state director, Miss Hattie Thies.

Dr. W. Springer, secretary of the National Education Association, recently held a conference at the Commercial Club with Miss Thomas, Oregon state director of the National Education Association; Miss Harriet Wood, secretary of the library section; O. M. Plummer, president of the school administration section; and Superintendent L. P. Alderman, vice-president of the special schools section. All the grade teachers in Portland are interested in the plans for the convention of the National Education Association.

Rabbi Jonah B. Wise will give a lecture on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock before the Hebrew department of the Portland Woman's Club, which will meet in the Women of Woodcraft building. The subject will be "A Comparison Between the Introduction to the Book of Job and Goethe's Faust." Mrs. J. D. Spencer, chairman of the department, will preside.

The South Mount Tabor Parent-Teacher Association will hold an open meeting next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Hoffman School. There will be a short programme in which the graduating class will take part. A feature of the programme will be the presentation of diplomas.

The current literature department of the Portland Woman's Club will meet next Wednesday, February 10, at the home of Mrs. M. C. Banfield, Portland Heights.

Chapter C. P. E. O. Sisterhood, will meet today with Mrs. J. E. Risley, at Courtney Station. Take Oregon City car. Important business will be transacted.

All circle leaders of the Portland Psychology Club will meet this afternoon in the Public Library. The programme of work for the month will be arranged.

The Oregon Alumnae Association will meet on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in room A, Central Library. Allen Eaton will speak on Maxfield Parrish. The hostesses will be Mrs. Mary Thompson Fairfax, Mrs. Ruby Platt Loomis and Miss Estelle Armistead.

The quarterly meeting of the Deaconess Association of Portland will be held in Rose City Park Methodist Church on Friday. Business will be transacted at the morning session and at noon a luncheon will be served by the hostesses. The meeting will convene at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Samuel Connell is president.
