Meyer, Walter Mullon and Hermann Wegener. "The suspect, John Aucher," the in-dictments say, "is really Albert G. Adams, a special agent of the Depart-ment of Justice, who at the time of the arrest of the defendants made a pretense of resisting arrest and was held in default of $20,000 to deceive the conspirators, who, it is charged, had paid him $300 for obtaining passports bearing the names of Herbert S. Wilson, Stanley F. Martin and Edgar Lund," is splendid for children. ⁸ It cures a cough Wilson, Stanley F, Martin and Edgar Lund." Maurice Deiches, a lawyer, arrested in Philadelphia, January 2, was not named as detendant in the indiciments. The defendant Von Wedell, the Indici-ments say, is believed to be inturned in an allen enemy camp in England. Von Wedell, it is charged, paid John P. Corrigan, formerly in charge of the Mayor's license bureau, $15 for two blank application blanks. According to the indictments, the conspiracies were formed November 1, 1514, and in furtherance of them Van Wedell opened headquarters at a clubhouse here. Von Wedell is be-lieved to have escaped on the Norwe-gian liner Bergensfjord, which was held up by a revenue cutter when it started for Norway. Although the vessel was searched, he was missed, the indictments say, while other de-fendants were taken off. The indict-ment recites that the Norwegian liner was afterward held up by a British cruiser and that one of the four men taken from it and placed in a detention camp is believed to have been Von Wedell. or cold

It was held in a large barn, one having been found which still possessed a roof. An 13-foot ring was erected in the center and two large flare lights were obtained from a neighborhood town, furnishing a perfectly illuminated ring. The "ring" consisted of army biscuit boxes covered with a layer of straw and with a tarpaulin over all. "Among the spectators were many officers. There were 25 events on the programme and each round was fol-lowed with intense interest. The audi-ence criticised every point, as enly a body of soldiers can.
