Democratic champions of the bill as serted emphatically today that the bill would not be withdrawn and that the great appropriation bills would be left untouched should the opposition insist upon preventing a vote on the pending measure. The President intimated to White House callers during the day that there was no thought of yielding to enemies of the proposed legislation

Extra Session Seems Sure,

Such a situation, it was conceded generally, was almost certain to lead to an extra session of Congress. The only way to obviate this, it was suggested, probably would be for the Senate to adopt some form of cloture to force a vote on the ship bill, but even the Administration leaders deemed this to be utilikely.

be unlikely. With the arrival of Senator Newlands the parliamentary situation as rekards the Administration ship purchase bill was changed today. Senator Smith had not been expected to return on account of serious iliness in his family. With his vote and that of Senator Newlands. After a delegation of prominent persons, including Adolf Wolfe, W. F. Sons, ing both society and musical "Ecce Jour Noctis," "Lo. Now Night's Shadows" (Chadwick) was the noblest choral work sung. It is a reverential preachment and when the chart of St. Gregory rang out in massive beauty, the mental picture retailed a procession of monks in a storied abbey. This Chadwick number and the two unaccompanied church hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Now the Day Is Over," were all beautifully sung, with exquisitely shaded "a capella" effect.

Cadman's "The Blizzard" is a study in furioso, and a veritable vocal mountain to climb. It was the best sung number. So cloquently do its music and words picture snow, ice, and frozen-despair that its hearers last night may be pardoned if they mentally shivered, and there and then desired fur garments to warm them. There is nothing like realism.

is nearly as flawless as a diamond, and its sparkle and vocal ring are as potent as last year. She sang with good effect "Il re Pastore" (Mozart), the violin obligato being splendidly played by Franck G. Elchenlaub. Her Fuccini numbers were excellent, also the two concerted numbers with the chorus from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino." Midame MacDermid's solo from De Koven's "The Fencing Master," with chorus accompaniment, was a musical pleasure, but that could have been enhanced had several first tenors sung more steadily in chorus. Madame MacDermid's best all-around singing was heard in the last six songs composed by her husband, the vivacity and charm of "If I Knew You and You Knew Me" winning first place. Herrecall numbers were "Sacrament" and "Charity" (MacDermid) and "Land of Sky Blue Water" (Cadman). Her dic-tion and phrasing are well worth praise

As for the male chorus singing, in toto, the second bassos carried off chief William H. Boyer was first class in onducting, also the four accompanists, digar E. Courson, James G. MacDer-id, William C. McCulloch and Ralph W. Hoyt.
