FLOUR TRADE DIVERTED

ORIENT NO LONGER MARKET FOR SURPLUS.

War Has Turned Movement Toward Europe-Manchurla May Supply Far East.

The Entropean war has divorted the Pacific Coast's export flow trade largely from the Grient to Europe and it may be some time before the Far East again becomes a liberal, mayer here. Reporting on the flow market structure in South Mancharia Cossai Adolph A. Williamson, of Dairen (Dainy), 8022:
The flour situation is being revolutionized in South Manchura, Hitherto Mukden pused as the dividing line between import flour and native product. This dividing point has now been shifted southward to Dairen. The European war has brought this about. The limitless demands from Europe take nearly all the immense producing capacity of the United Sistes to meet them. The export to the Far East has thus been neglected. In the Orient the Hongkong market has soured upward and is no longer in a position to supply Manchurian wants. Furthermore, the wheat crop sicing the Yangire came out very poorly this year, and in consequence little flour has been put on the Shanghai market from thir source. The Shanghai market has naturally gone up.

Peace Discussion in British Parllament and Possibility of Enlarged Shipments From Russia Lead to Selling.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 .- Peace discussion in the British Parliament, coming immediat the Sritish Parliament, coming immediately after demands in the Prussian Diet that the war be stopped out a figure today in lowering the price of wheat. Pinal quotations were heavy at 3½ to 3% cents under law night. Corn closed at % cent off, onts at % cent decline to a shade advance and provisions at a rise of 12 cents to 30@32% cents.

at 's cent decline of 12 cents to 50@52% cents.

It was in the trading just before the end of the session that peace news took most effect. Until that time declines had not averaged 2% cents. News from London, however, of the questioning of the Britleit Foreign. Minister in regard to terms on which the war might cease was followed immediately by sharp additional breaks in prices. Virtually all support was withdrawn and the market, as a whole, would not receive the offerings of belated sellers. Disappointing Liverpool cables had started the wheat buils to unloading as soon as trading began. More serious attention than at first seemed likely was being given to the possibility of enlarged Russian Shipments from Archangel and Vladivestek, Besides, offers of wheat from Kansas, Nobraska and Indiana were said to show an increase. Export sales at the seaboard brought about temporary railles, but were lost sight of altogether when attempts at stop-less selling flurried the pit at the windup.

Better industrial demand helped to sustain the corn market. Depression of wheat, though, was too severe an influence to be entirely overcome.

customs barrier on the Sherian boundaries. Otherwise Manchuria may elect itself its own supplier of flour.

As previously reported, 40,000 sacks of the local stocks of flour were shipped from Dairen recently by an exporting firm to supplement the consistement for the South Seas. In consequence, the storage on the Dairen wharves has decreased below 2000 tons, and the tone has become firmer. Tichling flour has begun to appear on the local market, It is, however, unlikely that the arrival from Tichling will reach a considerable amount. A further upward tendency is observed.
