

TWO BUNCHES DUE IN HOCKEY MATCH

Team Leadership and First Place in Scoring May Be Changed in Contest.

OATMAN RIVAL OF MACKAY

Uncle Sams Would Be Tied With Vancouver by Victory and Portland Player Is Only 3 Behind in Goal Scoring Race.

Two battles, one between the teams for leadership of the Pacific Coast Hockey League and the other between individual players for first place in the scoring race, will be waged tomorrow night in the Ice Hippodrome when the Vancouver and Portland teams meet.

GOOD GAMES ASSURED

CITY LEAGUE TEAMS WILL HAVE MANY SEMI-PRO STARS.

At Least One "Old-Timer" to Be in Each Club, so Youngsters Will Get Advantage of Experience.

Baseball fans who patronize the Portland Baseball League this Spring and Summer are assured of some good contests.

Each team in the league has at least one old-timer on the staff. The managers think that in this way the youngsters will receive the benefit of their experience.

The league has decided to join the State Amateur Baseball Association.

The list of players held in reserve by each of the four teams follows:

Table with 4 columns: Player, Team, Games, Goal. Lists players for Mackay, Vancouver, Oatman, and Portland.

Everything is being done to bring a victory to the Uncle Sams and nothing is being spared to have the localis in the best possible shape.

The match will start at 8:30 o'clock. Extra seats will be ready if needed.

Sidelights and Satire.

GLAMOUR DOBIE has added baseball to his coaching curriculum and he will coach the University of Washington baseball nine this Spring.

Portland's hockey team has two nicknames—Uncle Sams and Rosebuds.

Perhaps the boys were stealing a page out of England's war folio, but you can't fog those Canadian hockeyists by running up the flag of the innocent rosebud.

What though they call them Rosebuds, or any other name?

When Sweetest Rose of all the Buds, Pete Muldoon, dons his still skates, would you call him a Climbing Dorothy?

We are anxiously waiting for tomorrow night to find out whether or not our Rosebuds are bloomers.

Bits of Sport.

IT MAY BE a mere coincidence, but the day after the Sox signed with the San Francisco Seals, the Oakland management ordered all the fences to be rebuilt.

Joy is reigning upon the sanctuaries of several of the secretaries of the club in the American League since Ban Johnson ruled that two season passes should be given to each of the players.

James M. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, recently announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Ethel Robinson Kennedy, to Amos Strunk, the famous center fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Floyd Wright, an outfielder of the University of Kentucky baseball squad, has been signed to play with the Cleveland American League club. He will graduate but will report at San Antonio next week for the start of the Spring training.

Billy Sunday has doomed Chicago. He probably is trying to get even with the right-field bleacherites who used to doom him when he misjudged a fly ball.

Duke Farrell, who recently signed to coach the New York Yankees, is famous as the battery mate who caught President Teneer's curve more than a quarter of a century ago.

A. A. Stagg, director of all athletics at the University of Chicago, has resumed his duties, after having a rest of three months in Florida. He was suffering with an ailment which prevented him from walking. This came on him early last Fall, just before active football playing was possible.

THIRD BIG LEAGUE THE BEEP OR BURN

Matty Says Raising of Coast or Other Circuit Would Be Menace to Game.

M'GRAW'S OPINION GIVEN

Players Too Few Now Avers Leader of Giants and Famous Pitcher Points Out Sport Requires Concentrated Interest.

BY CHRISTY MATTHEWSON, The Great Famous Pitcher.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 14.—(Special.)—Three Big Leagues would be a long step toward ruining baseball in my opinion. The semi-ballyhooed "Big League" against it, it would be bound to hurt the game, because, the more scattered, the worse it is for baseball.

The sport lives on concentration. It is just this which makes the world's series the greatest thing in American sports.

Of course, I mean three big leagues under organized baseball.

The news has reached me in Cuba that they are raising either the American Association or the Pacific Coast League to the standing of a big league and relieving one of these or preventing National and American League clubs from drafting any of the players on the selected circuit.

TRIP STARTS RUMOR

Johnson-Comiskey Tour Said to Be to Readjust Drafts.

PORTLAND VISIT IS TODAY

McCredie Does Not Believe Problem Is Object of Journey—Coasters Lined up Against Exempting Any Other League.

That B. B. Johnson's trip to the Pacific Coast with Charles Comiskey has to do with the draft problem of the Class AA Leagues is the tip that has emanated from Chicago.

The American League head and the "Old Roman" baseball magnate of Chicago will be Portland visitors today.

"I don't place any credence in the reports that President Johnson has been West to seek a solution of the draft situation," said W. W. McCredie yesterday.

McCredie's income tax vexations are almost at an end. It begins to look, too, as if Buddy is at last trying to make the famous slugging ball player jump out of his hole.

But Buddy slipped a cog. In the first place, according to Judge McCredie, did not go into effect until March 1, so the exemption was for 10 months only or $2500.

Result—The Sale Lake horticulture exhibit was closed by his Uncle Samuel. The amount will be a mere $3 or $4, according to Judge McCredie, who is acting as Buddy's legal adviser.

BILLIARD GAME TONIGHT

TACOMA AND SEATTLE ENTRIES IN TOURNEY TO MEET HERE.

Second Portland Contest Scheduled for Tuesday Night, with Billiton Opposing Rice, Spokane Player.

The first of the two 183 ball billiard games in the tourney for the Northwest title to be held in Portland will be played tonight in the Waldorf Billiard Parlors, with Ray Hogue opposing Capt. J. F. Corby.

Mac Bisillon, the Portland representative, in the opinion of the Spaniards, will have the same score, with two victories and no defeat. They will play tomorrow night in the Waldorf Parlors, but will have to contend with another $100 man and his only starts have resulted rather disastrously for him.

The final games of the tourney will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Bisillon is the favorite. So eager were the Tacoma 183 balling billiard fans to see Bisillon so far in a Seattle boy, but he is taking the opinion of J. F. Corby, the Tacoma representative. Corby became ill a few days before the tournament and was unable to appear.
