EARLY VOTE IS REQUESTED

Prohibition State Committee and Federation of Labor Co-operate in Framing Change and Suggesting Action.

Providing for proportional represen-tation in the State Legislature for the various political parties, a proposed amendment to the state constitution has been drawn up for submission to the present session of the Legislature by the Oregon prohibition state com-mittee and the Oregon State Federamittee and the Oregon State Federation of Labor, working in co-operation. The Legislature is asked by a joint committee from these organizations to consider the amendment with a view to submitting if to the people at the special election, which probably will be held in 1915.

The amendment would divide the state into 60 representative districts and would have the candidate for Representative in each district receiving the highest number of votes diested as Representative in the Legislative Assembly from that district. The further provision is made that every legal voter may vote for one candidate in the state vote for one candidate in the state for Representative, but that the candi-date need not be the one nominated in his district.

The division of the state into the 60 representative districts is placed with the Legislature, the amendment pro-

one by the Legislature.

"Apparently these failures have been because the measures either failed to insure local district representation, or did not fairly equalize the vote for the several parties. In no campaign has any opposition been waged against the proposition been waged against the size of the several parties. In the proposition has also been waged against the size of the proposition has also been waged against the size of the proposition has also been waged against the size of the proposition has also been waged against the proposition has also been before a general way opposition has also been waged against the proposition has also been before a general way opposition has also been been been and elbowed his way to his chambers.

The crowd stirred uneasily, and it was some moments before a general way opposition been waged against the proposition has also been been been been and the proposition has been been been been and the proposition been waged against the proposition principle, but a strong opposition has always been present along the two lines named."

Henry Hewett, for more than 40 years one of Portland's prominent business men, died at his home on Green Hills, near Mt. Zion, yesterday following an illness of 10 days. His death was caused by an acute attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Hewett was born at Hunters Hill, Mr. Hewett was born at Hunters Hill, near Newcastle-on-Tyne, in the north of England, on January 15, 1847. He came to the Pacific Coast when he was about 18 years of age, and visited Port-land at that time. After spending a few years in British Columbia and California he returned to Portland about 1870.

Mr. Hewett early engaged in the grain business, and for many years he was the principal figure in the wheat export trade of the Pacific Northwest. He cleared the first cargo of wheat for Europe that ever went through the Portland Custom-house early in 1871. Up to that time shipments had been cleared through Astoria. He added to his export business that of marine and later general insurance. Finding the insurance business more lucrative, he finally devoted all his energy to that
