

TWO-PAYMENT TAX BILL PASSES SENATE

Amendment to House Measure Provides 2 Per Cent Penalty Over Interest.

RESULT IS COMPROMISE

Many Different Opinions Voiced and Arguments Are Made but in Final Action Only Four Dissenting Votes Are Cast.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The House tonight refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the tax bill. This amendment provided a penalty of 2 per cent on the taxes delinquent after April 5, the first payment period in each year. The bill already provided a penalty of 1 per cent on all delinquencies in addition to a penalty of 2 per cent on all taxes unpaid on November 5.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A compromise tax measure was passed by the Senate today, which, while not satisfactory to all interests, is believed to be far superior to the one now on the statute books. The objectionable feature of the present law making it impossible to divide payments without being subject to an interest charge is eliminated. It is the bill passed by the House in an amendment providing a penalty of 2 per cent in addition to the monthly interest charge if the first half of the year's taxes are not paid when due.

The bill provides for two tax periods. The first half shall be due April 5 and the second half October 5. After October 5 all unpaid taxes become delinquent and bear interest at 1 per cent per month. Under the existing law all taxes are due April 1, and if not paid then, 1 per cent interest monthly attaches until October 1. There is no penalty, but after October 1 for all unpaid taxes there is a penalty of 10 per cent. Because all taxes become due April 5 and the second half October 5, many persons who made only a half payment at that time objected to paying the interest of 1 per cent on the full amount.

Why the modern woman insists on Cottolene

Because Cottolene was in the van of the great movement for the improvement of food products and the bettering of household service—that is part of the reason.

Because Cottolene established its leadership as a cooking fat over a quarter of a century ago—that is part of the reason.

But, three times a day there appears on the table the best reason why the modern woman insists on

Cottolene

Cottolene cannot be excelled and never has been equaled for quality, purity, and for producing foods that are more wholesome, more digestible and more delicious.

There is an appetizing appeal in the knowledge that Cottolene is made of the highest grade of pure, fresh, ultra-refined cottonseed oil—so high a grade it is not listed on the market—combined with beef-stearine from clean, fresh, leaf beef suet.

Use Cottolene—one-third less than you would of any ordinary cooking fat—for all your shortening, frying and cake making. Your grocer will deliver a pail of Cottolene at once. Arrange for him to deliver a regular supply.
