Nitrate Plant Makes Explosives.

Some years ago a company of American capitalists sought permission to develop power in Alabama, at a site which they deemed attractive, and had the permission been granted that company today might be turning out fertilizer equal in quantity to that imported annually from Germany.

The conservationists fought against the granting of this power permit, except on conditions which the capitalists would not consider, and the power plant has been built, but is operating in Canada and getting its power at Ningara ada and getting its power at Ningara Falls. Incidentally, the plant designed to manufacture nitrogen fertilizer is, during the war, manufacturing nitrates for use in explosives designed for the British army and navy.
