Portland Physicians Announce Success of Experiments With New Treatment.

'SHOT' IN ARM EFFECTIVE

Bacterins of From 125,000,000 to Two Billion Dead Bacteria Aro Injected to Bring About Cures, Surpassing Serum of Old.

A new cure for colds, said actually to cure, is being tried experimentally by local physicians and those who have used it in the practice report excellent results. Following long experiment with the most deadly diseases, most of which have been overcome, attention has finally been turned to one of the most common and at the same time annoying ailments, it is said, with success.

Treatment consists of hypodermic injection of bacterin. Now, at the change of seasons, when colds become more common, all that will be necessary for those who contract a cold, but which is designated scientifically as coryza, will be the scientific use of the bacterin and, if necessary, a third dose may be taken with 1,000,000,000 dead bacteria. If required, a fourth dose may be taken with 2,000,000,000 dead bacteria.

Physicians, explaining the new cold cure, point out that the remedy is a cold bacterin of the identical species that, when alive, cause colds.

These bacterins increase the number of anti-bodies that give immunity to these particular bacteria, and they are taken by the blood, which thus becomes enriched in resistants and is better able to prepare the invading bacteria for ingestion by white corpuscles of the blood.

The bacterins when prepared for injection are suspended in a sterile physiological solution and a definite number of bacteria in each cubic centimeter. They stimulate the normal cells to produce anti-bodies, thus leading to a state of active immunity.

Bacterins, say physicians, are a jump ahead of serums. Serums contain antibodies already formed and supply the blood with antibodies. Clients with but little, if any, stimulation of the body cells, giving what is known as passive immunity. Bacterins, on the other hand, say the doctors, rouse the tissues to an active warfare against invading bacteria.

The first line of defense is that of the normal individual whose blood elements are sufficient to take care of invading enemies without assistance. The second line of defense is used when disease bacteria establish a foothold and the white blood corpuscles rush to the point of invasion and seek to encompass the bacteria by constructing a barrier around them. The physician seeks to ingest and destroy the invading bacteria and a battle royal takes place. On the outcome of the battle depends the reconstruction or death of the tissues.

As a result of this concentration of forces, inflammation arises, causing higher temperature. The injected bacterins are rushed to the site of the infection. They are coming into use in many infections. For colds, or coryza, influenza bacterins are used. Others that are used are those of staphylococci, streptococci, pneumococci, bacillus influenza and other species.

Physicians report excellent results for the new treatment and say it is successful, as a rule. To become immune from colds during an epidemic winter season they prescribe the treatment each month for about three months.

SHRINERS PLAN BIG FETE

VISITORS TO COUNCIL AT SEATTLE PLAN TO STOP HERE.

Columbia Highway Automobile Trip to Be Big Feature—$10,000 Being Raised for Entertainment.

When the thousands of Shriners from all parts of the United States visit Seattle in July to attend the Imperial Council, nearly all of the visitors will pass a day in the city. They will find out as much about Portland and Seattle and enjoy the scenic attractions of the Columbia River as they will find out as much about the city and special entertainment features. The main "stunt" will be a drive over the Columbia Highway.

A fund of $10,000 for entertainment purposes is being raised. This will be spent in providing automobile trips about the city and special entertainment features. The main "stunt" will be a drive over the Columbia Highway.

RELIEF WORK IS HEAVY

Associated Charities Appeals for Vol- unteers to Aid.

So great has become the burden of work in the employment bureau of the Associated Charities that Secretary Manning has issued an appeal to social workers of the city for volunteers to assist the present worker in the department.

AUTO CLUB HEAD FAVORS ONE COMMERCIAL BODY

Concentration of Energies and Expenses Advocated and Fact that Consol- idation Will Not Take in More Organizations Regretted.

TALKS ON CONSOLIDATION—NO. 20.

HAVE been much interested in a movement for the consolidation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial Club, and I only regret that the consolidation will not take in a number of other organizations," said W. J. Clemens, president of the Portland Auto Club. "Our energies should not be so widely diffused, nor should our charities be absorbed by so large an expense account as at present. Every important business enterprise of any kind which needs the assistance of a commercial or social organization should be handled by one central organization, a wider use of our energies, enlarging our expense account in a time when we need to conserve our energies and economize on expenses."

"Personally I have been heartily in favor of consolidations. I recently acted as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee to investigate the advisability of the consolidation of the city and county government, and I believe a great many other institutions could be wisely consolidated. If we accomplish anything by having the numerous organizations apparently working for the same ultimate end, then it would be an argument against consolidation, but the only accomplishment is an increase in the expense account."

"I believe the time has arrived when we must make the strenuous effort to make our city and state inviting places in which to live and to offer encouragement to everything that will build up our business institutions and raise our payrolls so that the people who must work with their hands will more readily find satisfactory employment."

EARLY DATE IS HOPE

Bond Election Advocates Will Call on Commissioners.

PETITIONS BEING CHECKED

Campaign Which Produced 7500 Signatures Will Be Continued Un- til Election Day to Insure Big Majority for Road Issue.

Closing a four days' campaign for signatures to the petition asking for a special election to vote for a bond issue of $1,250,000 to pave main trunk roads in Multnomah County, the special committee in charge of the work will appear formally before the County Commissioners tomorrow to have them set a date for the election. A large delegation of good roads enthusiasts will accompany the committee.

It is expected that the work of checking up signatures to the petition will be completed today. Already the required number of names—2500—have been checked, but when the petition is submitted it will contain more than three times the requisite number.

The committee has every assurance that the County Commissioners will grant the petition and will call the special election within 30 days. Plans for continuing the campaign to the rest of the residents of the county in the movement to hard-surface the main highways now are being worked out. Upon favorable action by the County Commissioners the campaign will be carried on until the date of the special election, with the expectation that a tremendous vote will be polled for the bond issue. Within two months from today the committee expects to have sufficient bonds sold to begin immediate work in hard-surfacing main trunk roads.

A. S. Benson, a member of the committee, has compiled some statistics covering the tax payments in Multnomah County. Upon investigation he finds that 53 per cent of the taxpayers pay taxes on property valued at $1000 or less; 30 per cent pay taxes on property assessed at from $1000 to $2000. The most remarkable fact revealed by his investigation is that 75 per cent of the taxes of Multnomah County are paid by 6 per cent of the taxpayers.

"The fact that a relatively small proportion of property owners pay the taxes of the county shows that the burden of the bond issue will fall on the large property owners," said Mr. Benson yesterday.

One of the large taxpayers has expressed an objection to the proposed bond issue. From the figures that have been compiled it is evident also that the small property owner will have scarcely any more taxes to pay, yet he will be benefited virtually as much as the large taxpayer.

"One feature of the campaign has been the great interest displayed by the working classes. When it is explained to them that the bond issue will increase their taxes but a trifle and that the proposed construction will create an immense amount of work, we find that the laboring classes are among our most ardent supporters. With all classes of people lined up the committee is confident that the bond

THOMAS H. CANNON COMING

Fraternal Insurance to Be Topic of Address by Forest Ranger.

Thomas H. Cannon, High Chief Ranger of the Catholic Order of Foresters will arrive in Portland today. In order to meet the members of the organization are preparing to entertain him during his stay in the city.

Mr. Cannon is also president of the National Fraternal Congress and as such enjoys a wide and prominent acquaintance.

Local Foresters are arranging to meet Mr. Cannon at the Union depot. A meeting of the officials of the subordinate courts in the city will be held today at Catholic Hall, Fifth and Davis streets to perfect arrangements for a mass meeting and banquet on Tuesday evening. The place will be decided on at the meeting today. It is planned to have a monster attendance at the mass meeting and banquet.

FAR NORTH FILMED

Columbia's "The Spoilers" Is Romance of Alaska.

STAR'S FILM NAMELESS

Best Features of "Three Weeks" at Majestic, National Offers "The Radium Thieves" and Sun- set Has "Fatty" Arbuckle.

Big, moving, wholesome and masterful in its human interests, thrilling in incident, absorbing in situation, powerful in progression from start to finish is "The Spoilers," the mammoth photo-play production, an adaptation from Rex Beach's great story of Alaska. It contains a thrilling, red-blooded story of strong men battling with corrupt and scheming speculators and politicians for what rightfully belongs to them.

This out-of-door, rugged romance of Alaska has a charming love story. It shows one of the most strenuous and exciting fights ever filmed. It is the story of the offering is the dynamiting of Nome.

William Farnum, as Glenister, the red-blooded, venturesome American, is at his best and he lives the life he portrays. Kathryn Williams portrays the hardened woman of the North, although she is best known as the heroine in many other pictures.

This offering will be shown all week.

PRIZE IS UP FOR WAIF'S NAME

Star Has Picture Teaching Useless- ness of Criminal Life.

To the most versatile-minded person in Portland is given the chance to earn $50 easily. A picture is being shown at the Star theater which has a nameless waif to the one who can give this child a name. The Universal Film Corporation will pay the money. It should not be such a hard task. It shows the utility of a life of crime, and the utility of a life of service to the law.

The story tells of a young physician's efforts to reform a criminal in spite of a lack of character to push himself forward. In the end, however, his character asserts itself and he makes his fortune by aiding others.

Other films on the programme are "Wheels Within Wheels," a drama of the United States Secret Service, and a Nestor featuring Eddie Lyons and Victoria Forde, "The Mixup at Maxin's."

GLOOM CHASER BACK IN FILM

"Fatty" Arbuckle Appears Again at Sunset After Vacation.

That rollicking enemy of gloom, "Fatty" Arbuckle, the champion laugh-maker, returns to the screen with the new bill at the Sunset in "Fatty's Reckless Fling," a comedy that would cure any case of blues. It is Fatty's first appearance in several weeks. This favorite Keystone funny man has been taking a vacation, weighs 20 pounds more and is funnier than ever.

"Fatty's Reckless Fling" is a splendid two-act drama. A girl 6 years old and her dog, Rags, a finished movie actor, are the heroes and heroines.

Another picture, "The Final Reckoning," an absorbing two-act drama of New York's police system and the capture of a gang of anarchists, will be shown. Mutual Weekly sounds out an exceptionally well blended bill. Of especial interest to Portland folk is a view of the new liner, the Panama Canal.

'THREE WEEKS' DRAWS CROWDS

Elinor Glyn's Novel in Film Form Fills Majestic to Capacity.

"There's a reason" for the crowds that flocked to the Majestic Theater yesterday to see Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks," in picture form. Many, probably most, of the people who went to the theater yesterday went to have their curiosity satisfied. But the film may have been disappointing to some for it is not at all "bad" or offensive. It is an unusual sort of romance, with just enough spice in it to make it really interesting.

Many of the scenes have been reproduced exactly as they are described in the book. The tiger rug trysting scene, the wild orgies in the King's palace, the disgust of the comparatively little Queen, have all been faithfully represented. The film passed the National Board of Censors as it was produced and even got by the local board with only two minor eliminations.

Manufacturers and producers of the Northwest are urged by W. C. Downs to take active steps as soon as possible to develop the South American fields of commerce. Mr. Downs, who is a commercial attaché of the Department of Commerce, assigned to a station in Melbourne, Australia, has been in Portland for three days investigating business conditions. Mr. Downs, besides visiting many of the manufacturers and exporters of the city, was a guest at an informal luncheon of leading manufacturers and shippers of the city at the Commercial Club Saturday.

"Financial conditions in South America, I believe, are improving at this time," said Mr. Downs, "especially in Argentina, where the movement of the wheat crop is bound to be an improvement. In some of the other countries, where the dependence is more upon metals and other products, the improvement may not be so rapid."

Mr. Downs urged that manufacturers should endeavor to get personal representatives into the field in South America as soon as possible. He also advocated that they take steps to arrange for suitable banking facilities.

While in Portland he visited the leading lumbermen, paper manufacturers, fruit men, furniture, tank and stove manufacturers and producers in other lines that may be susceptible of development in the Australian field.

The first balloon ascent took place in 1783.
