Crookes Lenses

Something entirely new to replace black, blue or green glasses — They keep out heat and light, but are as clear as regular lenses.

Ask your oculist about them or let us show them to you

Crookes lenses are ground to the same optical formulae as regular lenses, but possess the added advantage of colored lenses without their disadvantage and color-changing properties.

Crookes lenses are ideal for those whose eyes suffer from strong light and heat; for the motorist and yachtmans they are ideal, as they are identical with clear lenses in appearance and do not change the color of objects or darken the vision.

FASHION NOTES

NEW blouses in the shops are per-die delights. They come in crepe-de-chine with long sleeves, either high or low necks with hemstitched yokes that drop over the set-in sleeves. Some are embroidered, others are the plain Georgiana crepe. The military effects predominate. Small pearl buttons fasten the waist snugly up to the neck. The collar may be left high or turned back to the ever neat and comfortable V. They are shown chiefly in white, flesh colored, yellow and sand shade. Some have small tucks in both the back and front that extend from the yoke to the waist.

Lingerie waists in embroidered voiles and crepes are shown in the same designs, some with delicate bits of lace or hand embroidery adorning them. The tendency to carry out the military effects in lingerie is quite as marked as in the tailored ones.

"Chin-chin," "Victorian," "Exposition" are the names of the newest collars which are attracting much attention in the local shops.

The "chin-chin" collar is the daintiest, sheersit thing imaginable. It fits up about the neck with a smart accordion-plated ruffle that tickles the ears and flirts with the curls about midday's face. The lower edge of the collar is finished with narrow ribbon that ties bewitchingly in front.

The "Victorian" collar is on the same order but is low in front and plaited in the back. It is finished with a delicate bit of hand embroidery.

The last word in collars is the "Exposition" collar. It is high all around and has a lap over the entire top that turns back over the collar and stands out prettily from the face. It is finished with embroidery and lace.

"The Fox Trot Necklet" has been introduced recently to add a smart touch to the low collar. It is a strip of velvet ribbon to which is attached two colored strips of beads, the ends of which come just to the point of the V of the dress.

FLUFFY HAIR TAKES YEARS FROM YOUR AGE

Soft, fluffy hair, becomingly arranged, makes any woman look her best because it softens the outlines of the face and every woman can have dainty, fluffy, healthy hair if she will take the trouble to always shampoo her hair properly. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about 2 cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexion

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun, often appearing in early Spring, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfiguring skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any drug-gist. There's no more effective way of banishing freckles or other skin-complexion defects. Little skin particles come off each day as the product of the process of renewing the complexion and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered saffron. A few drops dissolved in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Truly marvelous transformation.—Adv.

AN OVERBURDENED WIFE

If the work that women do and the pains they suffer could be measured in figures, what a terrible array they would present! Through girlhood, widowhood and motherhood woman tells on, often suffering with backache, pains in sides, headaches and nervousness which are full-time symptoms of organic derangements which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made from roots and herbs—can undoubtedly correct. Women who suffer should not give up hope until they have given it a trial.—Adv.
