FETE PLANS TOLD

Rose Festival Officials Speak at East Side Club. The color of his father's eyes and a story of his life on a farm, all to prove that if there was one crime in the category of human sins to which he would not stoop, it was that of begging. Deputy City Clerk Crouse stemmed the torrent of words intermittently, but to no avail. Kelley had been wronged and he intended to tell the court all about it.

DOOR E. KEASEY & CO. DEALERS IN LAND SECOND FLOOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BLDG. PORTLAND, OREGON. Remembering the days when we pioneered together on Portland Heights, how we worked shoulder to shoulder to get out improvements. How the knocker talked "slides" and runaway cars and cars that couldn't run in frosty weather, and extra cost for delivery, all of which were untrue. How our cars plugged right along during the "silver thaw" while other lines were tied up. How we reaped the benefit of our labor and investments. Those were happy days.

But the better ones are those that have followed, when we hear "the heights" alluded to as the "show district" of Portland. How our investments of a few hundred dollars grew into thousands, how our bare hillsides have been transformed into beautiful gardens. Well, history is repeating itself. The opportunity to make money has come again. This time without the hardships of waiting to have the streets improved, the electric car line built and the gas mains laid, for on Kings Heights we have all of these, and I am again going to make money for you. I am putting on a bargain counter sale of lots on Kings Heights, and am going to offer you your choice of 400 building sites at from one hundred to seven hundred dollars, plus the cost of the street improvements. The lots are on or near the car line, with hard surfaced streets, water, gas, sewer to every building site. Only a few hundred dollars invested and the terms are as low as fifty dollars down and ten dollars a month. There is a sign on every lot with the price marked in plain figures, and when you see one of those choice lots marked $540 your hand will itch to spend the money. Run over and take a look at them. If you want to make an appointment call me on the phone. A-3814 or Main 1189.

Very truly yours, Dorr E. Keasey
