MOTORING, riding and still more motoring, with a golf match at the end of the drive or merely a stroll under the shady trees with tea served on the lawn, are the pleasures of the warm weather. Yesterday morning and afternoon that there was little or no social memoranda on midday's calendar.

If the warm, sunshiny weather continues, swimming will be added to the list of exercises that the society women will adopt. In spite of the incongruity of the warmth of the sun's rays, interest in skating continues among the energetic folk. Last night the Hippodrome was turned over to the Multnomah Club members, who indulged in special stunts.

The Heilig Theater held a splendid and appreciative audience last night at the students' recital by Rose Courteney-Keed, when she presented several of her pupils and the Treble Clef Club, of which she is organizer and director.

Mrs. Charles E. Runyon presided at an informal luncheon yesterday, in honor of Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, president of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Ladies' Social Union of Taylor Street Methodist Church and their friends will give a social at the A. O. U. Hall, corner Fourth and Washington streets, this evening. Nettie Greer Taylor and Miss Harriet Leach will sing.

Mrs. A. M. Mills, of 211 Bancroft avenue, with her company of "Hikers" breakfasted with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Weimer at St. John's Sunday morning. The hikers walked from Portland to St. Johns by way of Linton boulevard and returned to Portland by way of Willamette boulevard. They are preparing to leave early in April on a hike through California and San Diego.

Mrs. H. W. Hopkins and Mrs. J. E. Withrow returned Sunday from Corvallis, where they assisted in the installation of the chapter of Alpha Chi Omega. Representing the chapter were Mrs. R. Low, grand president; Mrs. Evan Foulds, extension officer from California; and Mrs. J. A. Withrow, extension officer for Oregon.

Elaborate and extensive preparations are in progress for the infant dance party to be given by Marguerite Camp team, Tuesday evening, March 23, in Woodman Temple, 138 Eleventh street. The various committees and their members are: Mrs. Nellie Butler, Miss Veda Flynn and Miss Lucille Johnson; floor, J. K. Henderson, captain of Marguerite team, and Fred Schaefer, captain of Rose City team; M. W. A. patronesses, Mrs. Katie Ellis, Mrs. Mary Cooley, Mrs. Della Eley, Mrs. Lottie Harris, Mrs. Petra Olson and Mrs. Agnes Culpan.

There are so many lovers of polo in this city who are keenly interested in the big polo tournament, the Fair grounds in San Francisco, many of whom will see a part of the event, and others who will be unable to attend the Fair at all, that the following items will be found interesting:

Brilliant success crowned the opening game of the universal polo tournament, the Panama-Pacific grounds, the polo being in the superlative class of excellence and representative of the smartest society not only of San Francisco, but of all parts of the United States filled the boxes and grandstands of the famous Cowpasture (N. V.) players, F. S. von Steiner, Thomas Le Motteleur, H. C. Hunt and Malcolm Stewart, were there in considerable numbers and cheered lustily the skill and dash of the polo players. Mrs. Rumsford, Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Frederic McLaughlin, of Chicago, who is to play later in the tournament, and Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mrs. Watson Webb, of New York; Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Miss Kline; Mrs. Charles Clark, of San Mateo, who also entertained Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. Helen French polo player, L. Leber Stokes and Stanley Stokes, of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. W. Stewart, of attractive sister, Miss Frances Stokes, and all three were enthusiastic spectators.

The San Mateo players, Mrs. Devereaux, Walter Hobart, Thomas J. Driscoll and William Tevis, Jr., were encouraged and cheered by the players of their many followers. Mrs. Hobart and Mrs. Driscoll having large box parties. Many members of Army teams from California, and Texas were among the spectators, accompanied by their wives and families. The tournament, played on the Exposition field Tuesday, Saturday and Sunday until May 1.

Plans are under way for the annual year-end entertainment by the school of the Portland Art Association during the latter part of May. The entertainments in connection with the annual exhibition of the school's work always are looked forward to with great interest by the smart set.

Artistic Vaudeville will be put on this year by the students under the competent leadership of Miss Dorothy Gilbert, general chairman. Several chairmen of important committees already have been appointed, and include Miss Leslie Smith, Miss Shanna Cunningham, Miss Florence Holmes and Miss Edna Barrett.

What promises to be the most interesting social event of the week in the city is the mid-Lenten party of the popular Maxilians at Cottillon Hall Thursday night. The patronesses will be Mrs. H. P. Lewis, Mrs. A. Dickinson, Mrs. A. W. Briggs, Mrs. C. W. Bauer and Mrs. Chester A. Dorrance.

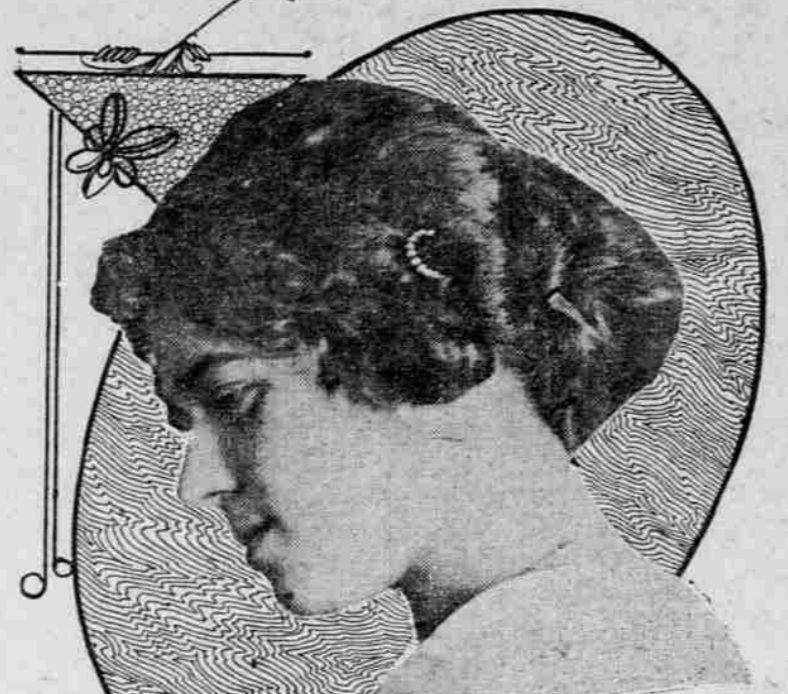

Remembering the success of their first annual ball, the employees of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company will give another big party on Easter Monday at Cottillon Hall. Preparations are being completed.

By Lillian Tingle.

PORTLAND, Or., March 15.—Will you kindly give to The Oregonian a recipe for a kind of sandwich filling made with liver? I would like to have a recipe for Worcestershire sauce and for good crisp sugar cookies. Thanking you in advance. MRS. C. L. C.

THE following good sandwiches may be served with a salad accompaniment or cut in cubes and combined with chicken or other meat in a salad, or it may be served, jellied, in small timbales as an entrée. It is sometimes called "mock pate de foie gras." If it is not what you wanted, write again, please.

STUDENT-BRIDE'S MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT SURPRISES FRIENDS AND CLASSMATES.

Mrs. Ethel Shields-Polzin

For a pretty High School girl to be married more than four months before her graduation, and to keep that marriage a secret from even her most intimate friends is so unusual that the announcement made yesterday morning in The Oregonian that Ethel Shields had accomplished it created a great stir among her many friends.

That Ethel was a married woman, none of her classmates guessed. She was graduated last month from Lincoln High, which school she attended when the family moved to the West Side to live.

Early last Fall Miss Shields was married to Benjamin A. Polzin who, while she was attending Washington High School, was her instructor in history. The E. W. Shields family had resided in Sunnyside for some time and Ethel had been prominently identified with the Sunnyside Congregational Church. Her pastor, Dr. J. St. Jaub, said of her yesterday: "I was surprised to hear that Ethel is married. I never dreamed of her having a romance of that kind. However, I wish her great happiness. She is one of the loveliest girls imaginable."

The organization are planning to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the founding of their club. All former members who wish to participate in the celebration may telephone Miss Grace M. Ames, East 415.

The Shakespeare department of the Portland Woman's Club will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The class in dramatic interpretation will assemble at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Anton Gleibich is chairman.

State Superintendent J. A. Churchill will give an address this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock before the members of the Story Hour Club, which will assemble in the library.

The women's auxiliary to the North Portland Commercial Club will meet in the home of Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 91 West Emerson street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Circle No. 21, Portland Psychology Club, will meet at 7:45 o'clock this evening in the home of Dr. Laura H. Diamond, 48 Madison Park apartment. Men and women are included in this club.

The vacant lot movement will be the subject of an address to be given by Mrs. Josephine R. Sharp this afternoon at 3 o'clock in room H, Central Library.

The Thompson Parent-Teacher Association will hold a called meeting at the school building this afternoon. Members are requested to help the teachers in preparing for an entertainment that will be given next week.

The Capitol Hill Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 2:45. Mrs. Hedwig Biese will talk on "Foods and especially salads. All who come are requested to bring their pencils and paper."

Irvington Park Literary Club will meet with Mrs. Charles Moore, East Twenty-second and Holman, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The recent entertainment given by the Fernwood school was a complete success. The affair was directed by Mrs. C. C. Shay.

The transportation committee for the council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs has reported that the railroads all have promised that there will be granted to the clubwomen of Washington, Idaho and neighboring points near Portland a rate of one and a third for limited return tickets. This inducement will, it is predicted, bring a large number of clubwomen of the Northwest to the council in Portland.

THE SANDYMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT
By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Grechen von Doll—Part I.
DOLLY VON DOLL came all the way across the ocean in the bottom of Caroline's aunt Patsy's trunk.

Caroline's aunt was named Patricia, but not one thought of calling her anything but Patsy, for she was always laughing and full of fun.

When Aunt Patsy came home Caroline watched the big trunks being brought in and when they were unpacked Aunt Patsy said: "Come here, Caroline, child, and see what Auntie has brought to her girls."

First there was the daintiest little white dress with little embroidered roses scattered over it just as though someone had held a bouquet of roses over the dress and some had fallen out and dropped on it.

Caroline's eyes were blue and her hair in short golden curls around her chubby little face.

Crookes' Clear Lens

For Excluding Light for Weak Eyes

Crookes' lenses are the invention of Sir William Crookes, of London, and are the result of years of work and experiment. They possess all the advantages of smoked and colored glasses, but are perfectly clear. They possess the same optical value as any regular lens. Ask your oculist or let us show them to you.

"Caroline child." That Caroline knew, and so she waited until the last trunk was unpacked and Auntie had almost reached the bottom, still Caroline did not give up hope, and at last Aunt Patsy said: "Here she is, and what do you suppose her name is?"

Caroline took the doll (for it was a doll, you know) in her arms and shook her curly head. "I do not know, Auntie; what is her name?" she asked.

"Her name is Grechen von Doll," said Auntie.

"Who named her?" asked Caroline.

"The funny little man at the store where I bought her," replied Aunt Patsy.

"I was looking at several dolls," Auntie said, "and when I finally decided on this one he seemed surprised that I did not buy all of them."

"You want von Doll?" he asked, "and I decided that her name should be much like a little Grechen. I named her Grechen von Doll, but you can change her name if you like."

Caroline did not change her name. She carried her home and put her in the dollhouse with her other dolls, and now I must tell you how Grechen looked and was dressed.

She had very pink cheeks and blue eyes and her light flaxen hair was braided in two braids, which hung down her back.

She wore a dress of blue and a little white bonnet without strings and a small white apron with a blue tassel.

Grechen was not a nurse, for Aunt Patsy told her she was a high-toned lady, because her maid made her so. Nevertheless, Caroline went to bed that night wondering what the other dolls thought of Grechen and whether she ought to make her the mother of the dollhouse or Marie's daughter.

Marie was a French doll and had a great many clothes and hats. She had looked in through the dollhouse window and looked at the dollhouse with a look of disapproval.

Marie was standing in the middle of the living room, she was angry and Grechen von Doll sat in a chair looking out of the window at the other side of the room.

"Why don't you answer me?" Marie was saying.

But Grechen did not turn her head and Marie took a step nearer to her.

"Are you to know what you are doing in this room; my maids are never allowed in here; if you do not answer I will call someone to put you out."

But Grechen did not turn or answer and Marie went out of the room and down to the kitchen.

Tomorrow I will tell you what happened in the kitchen.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which clogs the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, if they are sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy. It is a laxative, which cleans the water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salt is made from the fields of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water, which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

How to Safely Peel Your Face
If you wear an aged, discolored or weather-beaten complexion, the most sensible thing to do is to remove it—rather than patch it over or "doctor" it with cosmetics. The only way to really remove the complexion—aside from resorting to an expensive and painful surgical operation—is by means of ordinary melleolized wax. Spread the wax over the face at night, as you would cold cream; wash it off in the morning. This gradually peels off the useless and the half-dead outer skin, in minute particles, gradually the fresh young skin beneath beams forth. Then you have a clear, velvety, healthy complexion such as no unnatural method can possibly produce. Chaps, freckles, blotches, pimples, all surface defects due to weathered, ill-health or the ravages of time, of course, disappear. No danger, also, to surely erase the unbecoming lines.—Adv.

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE K C BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the doubleraise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.
