The present economic progress and financial strength of Russia are mainly the work of Count Witte. Great mills and factories have grown up in many cities, oil fields have been de-veloped, arid land has been irrigated and mines have been opened. Siberia is no longer a mere penal colony, for hosts of people have gone from Euro-pean Russia to grow grain and live-stock, and Siberian butter is now exported to Europe. As Peter the Great introduced Russia into the European family of quarrelsome nations, Count Witte made Russia an industrial factor which is to cut a figure in the world's commerce.

Male Minor Is Minor Until 21.

ANTELOPE, Or., March 21.—(To the Editor.)—Can a married minor who has taken up a homestead go into a saloon and legally purchase liquor and drink it the same as a man 21 years old? A says he has a legal right as the head of the family to do so.

B says he has no legal right to do so until he gets the "patent" from the Government on the land he has homesteaded.

Neither marriage nor any exercise of homestead rights effects the status of a male minor in relation to the purchase of liquor or frequenting of saloons.
