There will be cards and dancing at the Portland Heights Club this evening for all members of the club. The patronesses are: Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. R. C. Coffey and Mrs. George Lawrence, Jr. The social committee is Mrs. Allan B. Slauson, Mrs. James F. Ewing and Mrs. Wilfred Shore.

Women's Clubs

By Edith Knight Holmes

THE growth and popularity of the Portland Psychology Club was demonstrated yesterday at the general meeting in the library. Mrs. Alice Weister presided. Miss Jane Sanders directed the musical programme. Those who participated were Miss Gwendolyn Weaver, Miss Charlotte Patterson, Miss Claire Biles, Miss Norma Sparks, Miss Isabelle Steele and Miss Mary Bloom.

The important feature was the address by Mrs. Alva Leo Stephens, who spoke on "The Art of Living." Mrs. Stephens said: "To achieve the highest success in our daily lives we should live each moment consciously, realizing that each day is ours only. We make use of the opportunities it offers for self-development and profit by the experiences that it brings. We should meet every experience, no matter how apparently unpleasant, how delightful, how successful or how disastrous, with an attitude of mind that accepts such experiences as privileges to be lived through, opportunities for self-development, as lessons out of which we should gather the material for soul growth and self-control."

"Every individual with whom we come in contact should be accepted and welcomed as an opportunity for our expression of kindness, tolerance, unselfishness, love, forbearance, pleasantness, self-control and the many other virtues that we must learn to cultivate as an inalienable part of our being, before we ever can hope to enter the path of mastery. For remember, mastery does not consist in abnormal dreams, visions, fantastic imaginings or peculiar living, but in conquering the inharmonious within ourselves."

The woman's building committee, Tiza was a little colored girl. Her name was really Eliza, but Tiza was the name she had given herself before she was able to say Eliza and the name had clung to her. Tiza lived on the outskirts of the city and while she was within carrying distance, she had never been there. But Tiza dreamed of what she

MOTHER SUPERIOR ROSARY HILL HOME

Tells How Vinol Restores Strength and Vitality to the Weak, Worn-Out Ones in Her Charge.

Rosary Hill Home, Hawthorne, N. Y. —"I have been at work among the sick and poor for nearly 18 years, and whenever I have used Vinol for run-down, weak or emaciated patients, they have been visibly benefited by it. One patient, a young woman, was so weak and ill she could hardly creep to my door for aid, and was leaning on a friend's arm. I supplied Vinol to her liberally and in a month when she returned to thank me I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rounded out. These words are uttered from my heart, in order that more people may know about Vinol, as there is nothing makes me happier in the world than to relieve the sick."—Mother M. Alphonsa Lathrop, O. S. B., Hawthorne, N. Y.

Such disinterested and reliable testimony should convince everyone of the merits of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic to build up health and strength for all weakened and nervous conditions, whether caused from overwork, worry or chronic coughs and colds. If Vinol fails to benefit, we return your money. The Owl Drug Co., Portland, Or., and at leading drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

RAT CENSUS IS PROPOSED

City Health Officer and Federal Official Plan Riddance of Rodents.

A rat census and a general anti-rat campaign may be undertaken by the city as a result of an appeal made yesterday to the City Council by H. G. Ebert, United States Quarantine Officer. He says such a campaign should be undertaken to safeguard the city from plague due to rats. He was asked to appear before the Council by City Health Officer Marcelus, who is also a strong advocate of such a campaign. Dr. Ebert explained that other cities of the Coast, including San Francisco, have taken steps to prevent any possible spread of the plague in those cities, and Portland should take the same precautions.

CLUBS TO HEAR REPORT

Peninsula Property Owners to Meet Tomorrow on Slough Project.

A mass meeting of property-owners on the Peninsula will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the North Portland Library, Killingsworth avenue and Commercial street, to hear the report of the committee appointed to interview Commissioner Dieck concerning the deepening of the intake to Columbia Slough. The Commissioner reported adversely. George S. Shepherd, chairman of the committee, will give a review at the meeting. The meeting will be under the auspices of the North Portland

Cottage Grove Club Seeks Slogan.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., March 25.—(Special.)—The Cottage Grove Community Club has started a slogan contest, offering a prize for the slogan that is adopted. A slogan is sought that will be distinctive and that can not be applied to any other city. The slogan should see when the opportunity came. "I spect that's patches an' patches o' watermelons growin' thar," she said. "An' I spect everybody jes help themselves."

Lindy Sue was her playmate and she listened with wide-open eyes to Tiza's wonderful account of the city. "Couldn't we all walk there?" asked Lindy Sue. "We all could start early in the mornin'."

That had never occurred to Tiza, and after thinking a while, she agreed that it might be done, so the next morning as soon as their mothers had gone to their day's work, Tiza and Lindy Sue started for the city.

They were wise enough to keep the car track in sight and soon they were in the heart of the city. The big shop windows were filled with things that even Tiza in her wild dreams had not seen. They walked on until they came to a big hotel and Lindy Sue asked, "What yo' all spect this is?"

"I rec'n it's a palace," replied Tiza. "In look, look," she said, pointing to a handsomely dressed woman coming out of the hotel. She got into an automobile and both the little girls stood staring after her.

The next place they stopped was in front of a candy shop, and in the window was more candy than Tiza or Lindy Sue had supposed there was in the whole world.

"They're a-givin' it away," said Lindy Sue, looking in the door. "An' I doin' up white paper, too," she said. "Tiza looked. 'An' everybody's a-gittin' a drink, too,' she said, taking Lindy Sue by the hand.

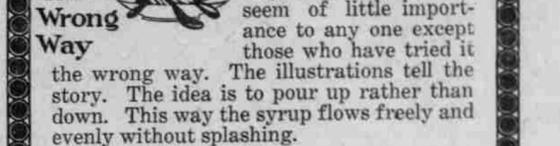

Both little girls walked up to the counter and waited. By and by a clerk asked them what they wanted. "Please," said Tiza, "we all wan' some candy and a drink."

"I guess you are in the wrong place," said the clerk. "How much money have you?" she asked. "We ain't got no money," replied Tiza, her face growing long and a tear trickled down Lindy Sue's face, as both little girls saw the candy and the nice drink disappearing.

A woman standing beside them asked Tiza where she lived. "How are you to get home?" she asked when Tiza told her. "Walk," replied Tiza. "We all walked to city, 'cause we wanted ice cream an' watermelon," said Tiza, wiping away her tears.

How to Pour Tea Garden Syrup

The right and wrong way to pour syrup may seem of little importance to any one except those who have tried it the wrong way. The illustrations tell the story. The idea is to pour up rather than down. This way the syrup flows freely and evenly without splashing.

HEN PINES FOR SICK BOY

When Playmate's Room is Found Eggs Are Laid on His Bed.

Johnny Hillyard, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hillyard, who live near Gillis, on the Mount Hood Railway, owns a Black Minorca hen, which he would not trade for the best hen on earth, nor for her weight in silver. She was always a great pet, following the boy about the farm wherever he went.

Recently Johnny was taken sick and confined to his bed in a tent for several days. The Minorca hen, discontented over the loss of her playmate, refused to eat, until she discovered where the boy was and then she "camped" in front of the tent. Nothing could drive her away. While the mother was away and the boy was asleep, the hen flew on the bed and laid an egg on the pillow by the side of the sleeping boy. The boy later was moved into the house, and biddy, watching her chance, got into the boy's bedroom and deposited another egg on the patient's bed, as her contribution to his recovery.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone! Doctors and nurses use MUSTEROLE and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Chills, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chafing, Frost-bitten Feet, Colds of the Chest (It often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of Today)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growth, if she will use the delatone treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.—Adv.

Florida Grapefruit is the Fruit Indispensable

Few persons who have eaten ripe Florida grapefruit for breakfast care to begin the day without one. Many a tired brain worker finds an ample breakfast in a grapefruit. As an appetizer, in a salad or for dessert, grapefruit is no less appropriate and delightful at luncheon and dinner. There are scores of ways in which this delicious fruit may be served—and some of them will appeal to every member of the family.

The Florida Citrus Exchange Grapefruit is Nature's Tonic

This is a non-profit making, co-operative body of progressive Florida fruit growers, formed for the mutual benefit of consumers and producers. The membership only tree-ripened fruit and the mark of the Exchange is a guarantee of quality. Most fruit dealers handle Florida Citrus Exchange fruit in season—you will supply you with it if you insist.

Drink Florida Orange Juice

Florida oranges are miniature golden reservoirs filled at the Fountain of Youth. They are juicy, sweet and flavored beyond comparison. You will get the choicest of all oranges when you buy in boxes shipped by the Florida Citrus Exchange. There's life and joy in every golden globe.

How to Use Citrus Fruits

Good citrus fruits are alike food and drink. Used freely they help to maintain and restore health. Booklet giving many ways of serving Florida grapefruit and oranges for four cents in stamps. Florida Citrus Exchange, 628 Citizens Bank Bldg., Tampa, Fla.

Only Ripe Grapefruit Are Good

The food and tonic values of grapefruit are fully developed only when it ripens on trees. Sometimes the fruit is picked before fully ripened and rushed into market. Avoid this immature, unripe grapefruit—it will disappoint you. When you buy, look for the mark—in red on boxes and wrappers—of the
