keep a close watch on carrier pigeons, a German commandant in the commune near Brussels ordered the civil authorities to provide a census of all the pigeons in this district.

The Burgomaster, with a sense of humor, complied not only with the number of birds but he provided each with a biography, which was forwarded with accident and health reports.

This particular commune is noted for its number of pigeons, and the commandant was soon snowed under with reports which religiously chronicled the condition and movements of birds.

Victorian Spirit of Aloofness Undergoes Radical Change.

LONDON, March 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—War is making on a railway journey as we go to the same compartments for hours at a time without exchanging a word, nor start conversations without an introduction. This sudden breaking loose from the Victorian spirit of reserve and aloofness has caused the Times to comment editorially on the change, which it calls one of the minor results of the war.

He first confesses: "Most of us in normal circumstances and City Judge Smith, arrested by order of Judge Anderson on charges of a barber's, with a prayer for silence in an attempt to corrupt witnesses, gave our hearts, and at the first sign of lo-bail today and were released from custody."
