The cable said that Gabriet Alphaud.

Secretaire-general of the Temps, had interviewed the President, who was quoted as saying that "the war will not last forever," and that, nations might be glad when it was over that the United States had pursued the course now being followed. The alleged interview included references to neutrality and to the Mexican situation.

The President let it be known that M. Alphaud, who was presented at the White House resterday by the French Ambassador, came merely to present his respects, and although he was secretaire-general of the Paris Temps, it as distinctly understood in advancwith the Ambassador present that there was to be no Interview

The statement also was authorized at the White House that President Wil-son had sent no letter recently to President Poincare, as auggested by M. Alphaud, but that the letter to which reference was made was sent several months ago by Mr. Wilson as a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, in reply to one of President Poincare, of the French Academy, brought to this country in person by Emile Brieux, the French playwright. The letter was made public at in time, White House officials re-tiled, and contained only felicitations (a general character. Jules Jusserand, the French Ambassador, retired early tonight and em-bassy officials would not disturb him when dispatches containing the alleged interview in the Temps arrived.

"France will avoid the error of believing what individuals of the peoples in the conflict often think—that is, that he who is not actively for them is against them. As to my own sentiments regarding France, I addressed a letter to the President of the French Republic that expresses them clearly. Be sure that I do not think anything less than what that letter says."

M. Alphaud said he asked President Wilson if the contemplated increase in the American Army and Navy had any precise object, and that the President replied:

"No, augmentation has been retarded rather than burried by current events. We desire to avoid faise interevents. We desire to avoid false inter-pretations."

Asked if an early end of the Mexican trouble could be hoped for, President Wilson is reported to have said:
"It is indeed difficult to reply. A favorable symptom appears, however, in the last indications received here. They show a better disposition on the part of the principal Mexican chiefs to un-derstand why they have to respect the lives and interests of foreigners."

Ambassador Sharp Directed to Make Report-Fair Trial in France All That Can Be Demanded.

WASHINGTON, April 2 .- Ambassado Sharp at Paris was called on by the State Department Thursday for a report as to the circumstances surrounding the arrest of Raymond Swoboda, an American citizen, charged with having set fire to La Touraine, a French liner, on her recent trip from New York to Havre. Friends of Swoboda in New York City had brought press reports of his arrest to the Department's at-tention and vouched for his American tizenship. Swoboda's right to the passport by exhibited in New York and Paris already was under investigation by the Department of Justice, the duplicate from the files of the State Department having been referred for that purpose.
