Kalama, Vancouver and Ridgefield to Compete for Trans-Columbia Honors at Stadium Saturday. Muirhead's Work Watched.

Two hundred and twelve athletes, representing 21 schools, colleges and athletic clubs and unattached, have been entered in the 12th annual indoor tracks and field meet of the Co-lumbia University, scheduled for the Coliseum next Saturday afternoon.
Manager Bach, of the collegians, has been working night and day completing the minor details for the meet.

The largest number of entries from any one institution has been divided any one institution has been divided this season, Jefferson High School of Portland and the Oregon Agricultural College each having 31 athletes in the tourney. This is a new record, the previous one being held by the Univer-sity of Oregon, which brought 28 men to the Columbia meet several years

Three high schools from Washington bave secured entry blanks from Manager Buch, Kalama. Vancouver and Ridgefield each depending on a delegation to take the academic championship to the north side of the Columbia Biver.

Last season 220 athletes had their names in the official programme and 10 more came in after it had gone to press. A new record was established last year at the annual affair and Manager Bach is in hopes that enough late comers will come in to enable the breaking of the previous attendance record.

Keen competition in every event has been predicted for the coming meet, for almost all of the interscholastic stars of the 1918 season have migrated to high climes. "Moose" Muirhead, former Columbia University all-around athlete and high point-winner in every interscholastic track and field meet he entered last Spring, is a member of Coach Hayward's University of Oregon segregation.

The first monthly smoker for the members of the Mulinoman Club and their guests has been arranged for tomorrow night by A. H. Allen, chairman of the entertainment committee. Several innovations have been secured, among them being Miss Glena Delgado, a clever California girl who has gained prominence in Southern California with her interpretations of classical dances. Miss Delgado will dance her own creation, "Vision of Butterflies"; Mrs. E. M. Hogan and her little pickaninny have been procured as added attractions and several other acts will be in evidence. Plenty of smokes, eats and music have been ordered by Chairman Allen. Jack Cody and his fancy divers will give an exhibition. Frank J. McGettigan, publicity manager for the Empress Theater, has been assisting in procuring the various entertainers.

The first three rounds were even, and in the fourth Dillon had a shade. Murray evened matters in the fifth, but after that Dillon had the better of the going, taking the last four rounds by varying margins.

Visetti, Italian Consul, exchanged blows at First and Stark streets yesterday afternoon, as an aftermath of which Dr. Visetti obtained a warrant for the lawyer's arrest, charging assault and battery. International complications being feared, Deputy District Attorney Richard Deich refused to grant a warrant to Ferrara for the apprehension of the Italian Consul.

"You've got to stop insulting me!"
"Who are you? I don't know you,"
the Consul is said to have replied, at which Mr. Ferrera took off his coat which Mr. Ferrera took off his coat and hat and laid aside his umbrella. Both men are more than six feet tall, and the fight that followed was believed to have exceeded in vigor the fracas at Havana Monday.

When both tripped and fell into a large sack of peanuts, by the side of a cigar stand on the corner, friends succeeded in pulling them apart.

Feud Laid to Article. Ili-blood between the Consul and the attorney was first stirred in 1911, when, it is said, Dr. Visetti wrote a letter to the Asima, an Italian paper in New York, attacking the movement headed York, attacking the movement headed by Attorney Ferrera to produre a state-wide recognition of Columbus day, Mr. Ferrera, who is owner and editor of the Italian Tribune, published here, is said to have printed a copy of the let-ter and an attack upon Dr. Visetti.
