

LABOR AND GRANGE EXPECTED TO HELP

Opposition of Union Leaders to Road Bond Issue Not Backed by Members.

OFFICIOUSNESS NOT LIKED

Upwards of 80 Per Cent of Organized and Nearly All Unorganized Workers Relied On to Cast Favorable Votes.

Union labor and the grange are both being counted on by good roads advocates to support the road bonds at next Wednesday's election.

Many of the granges already have endorsed the proposal and hundreds of organized laboring men have given their individual indorsements to the good roads committee.

The unorganized laboring men, it is believed, will support the bonds in large numbers. They will reap the most direct benefit from the expenditure of the $1,250,000 that is to be expended through the bond issue.

Officers of the various labor unions declare that fully 80 per cent of the organized laboring men are in favor of the bonds and that they will vote for the issue.

port this measure, and furthermore the Tuesday, April 13, be declared the day in which each and every member of an association will give eight hard hours work for the passage of said bond issue with the full realization that it will not only put bread and butter in the mouths of thousands, but stimulate the real market and sound the keynote of progress and success.

JUNK SALE TAB PROPOSED Companies Seek Law to Curb Wholesale Theft of Copper Fittings.

Evidence gathered by detectives of the telephone, telegraph, electric light and railroad companies showing that junk peddlers are buying copper wire and brass fittings stolen from the companies is to be used by the companies in attempting to get the City Council to pass an ordinance requiring these dealers to make daily reports of their purchases to the police.
