

BRYAN'S PROHIBITION IS SUPPORTED BY ALL

Portland Democrats View Prohibition Talk From Various Standpoints.

NATIONAL PLANK OPPOSED

Party Is Not Involved by Utterance of Secretary of State, Say Some. Others Indorse and Think Leadership Is Indicated.

Oregon Democrats view with mingled concern and satisfaction Secretary Bryan's latest position on the prohibition question, and imply, in their utterances on the question, that the Democratic National committee from Iowa, may involve the party in a series of embarrassing situations.

Some typical Democratic utterances on this subject yesterday were: Thomas C. Burke, collector of Customs—It seems to be in accord with a world-wide movement in the direction of prohibition at the present time.

Clarence L. Reames, United States District Attorney—I am heartily in favor of National prohibition. It will be effective. A large percentage of criminal cases prosecuted in Federal Court, directly to the liquor habit. It would not surprise me to see a prohibition plank in every party platform at the next National election.

Frank S. Myers, postmaster—Secretary Bryan's recent stand on the prohibition question only shows that Bryan again is showing his leadership in taking in advance of the public the big party platforms next year, but he shows his foresight on National issues by asking that get on the right side.

Milton A. Miller, collector of Internal Revenue—There is nothing particularly new in Mr. Bryan's position on the prohibition question. His letter to the National committee from Iowa merely renews the stand taken in his home state, Nebraska, in 1910. It should be recalled that the Democrats of Nebraska at that time refused to follow his advice on this question and that consequently they lost the Governorship.

Prohibition Planks Not Expected. Oglesby Younger don't think that Mr. Bryan's position will cause the Democratic party to make prohibition an issue in the coming campaign. In fact, I don't think prohibition should be dragged into politics at all. It is a moral question and will be settled in that way. It is growing in popularity and as soon as the big parties will take it up as they do everything else that is popular. But it should not be settled as a party question.

would take. It is complained also that the system of selling ice by coupon could not continue under the ship system. The City Sealer of Weights and Measures contends that some system is necessary to enable him to prosecute short-weight coupons. The driver objects to anything but an immediate check because it melts so rapidly. The Council faces the task of passing a measure that will correct all the troubles and still will be satisfactory to all the interests involved.
