Chief of Gardens Tells of Quests He Is Constantly Making for Oregon Wild Bulbs, Unknown Elsewhere in World.

BY ANNE SHANNON MONROE. EXPOSITION BUILDING, San Franeisco, April 13. —When Mrs. O. M. Clark, wife of President Clark, of the Oregon Commission, arrived at the Oregon hullding yesterday for a six weeks stay, Mr. Dennis, caretaker of the building, presented her with a single perfect Portland rose that had blossomed out only that morning from its box but at the enterpre. The rose box just at the entrance. The rose was named for Mrs. Clark at the dedi-catory exercises of the Rosarians last December. Before leaving Mrs. Clark se and have it blooming for me I get back," Mr. Dennis said to Mr. Dennis: when I get back." Mr. Dennis has faithfully watered and tended his charge nd true to his hope, the petals yester-lay burst their bonds and it smiles all blown into his face when he went out to take his morning look at it, and a little later, in walked Mrs. Clark!

beautiful and tremendously appreciated gift to the Oregon building this week was a mammoth offering of "the Oregon tulip," by Dr. J. S. Bishop, who originated and grew this tulip at Forest Grove. The great glorious cups, creamy white, large and long stemmed and innusually satiny-petalled, were placed in the center of the information booth which is located in the center of the building and they attracted a throng of people. The gift is most timely, for this is tuilp time in Oregon Pansy Paves Way With Gold.

Wondering about many things, I called on Carl Purdy, chief of the gardens. Mr. Purdy is from Ukiah, Mendocino County, where he has large gardens and gives especial attention to Pacific Coast bulbs. I got him to talk-ing about Oregon, for he knows it root and branch, and he told me many fas-cinating things. Of course I asked him if he did not think we had the most wonderful roses in all the world up in Portland, and he laughed in my fare.

"You have no better roses than any other place," he said: "it is your au-perb climate that does it. The same roses planted elsewhere would not give the Oregon effect."

Oregon Wild Bulbous Plants Beautiful. Mr. Purdy's main business in life is collecting the wild bulbs and plants from Oregon, Washington and California, which he in turn sends out all over the East and Europe for garden use. He has people roving the hills and valleys from Southern California to British Columbia, a good part of such variable. ish Columbia a good part of each year and one man gives his time exclusively to Gregon, going up through Southern Oregon, over to the Tillamook, then to Hood River, the Blue Mountains, the Klamath country, Pelican Bay, Grizzly Butte and back to Ashland. He begins his quest in March and is at it from seven to nine months. He says Oregon has many beautiful wild bulbous plants that belong to the hily family. I asked him if he improved these wild things and he looked

Of course he uses a big botanical name, but this the name we know them by, and he says Oregon has the largest number, naturally, and the most beautiful bulbs world. In Southern Oregon there is a species of tiger lily not found anywhere else in the world. It was discovered first 50 years ago and then it was lost. Mr. Purdy redis-covered it recently. In Southwestern Oregon are Mariposa tulips not found These anywhere else in the world. abound particularly in Josephine Counmore trees, shrubs and plants not duced to sea known in any other one spot on earth.

CHINESE THREATEN SUIT

Two Raids Made on Alleged Gambling Games and Several Arrested.

Forcible entrance into a Chinese store at 84 Second street on the ground that Chinese gamblers were supposed to be escaping through a secret door in the walls of the building, caused threats of a lawsuit against the police Wednesday night. Patrolman Martin "jimmied" the store door and burst into the room. When Martin falled to locate the secret door, the attorney for the Chinese threatened a lawsuit, and complained to Captain Inskeep, who held that Martin was justified in his action.

No steam or sail tonnage is available on the Pacific, and on the Atlantic rates are so profitable to ship-owners that they will not send their veners here. The only outlet, therefore, for the surplus that remains on the Pacific Coast is the Middle West and Eastern markets, Steamer tonnage to New York is difficult to obtain, notwithstanding the rrequent service given by the two lines, as the larger part of the cargo handled by them is general merchandise.

For this reason, local grain men believe it probable that a large volume of rail business in wheat can be worked up. May wheat sold as high as $1.63\forall at Chicago reserving. Acute Scarcity of Wheat Reserves Is Predicted.

CHICAGO MARKET MOVES UP MARKET TO OPEN MAY 15

First Estimates: Export Clearances Are Unusually Heavy. Spring Grain Bought.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Acute scarcity of wheat reserves predicted for the near future had a builtsh effect today on the wheat market here, but rural holders were said to be selfing a little more freely, and some of the gain in price disappeaced. There was an unsertied close at Sec to 14s above last night. Care finished a shade to 3c higher, oats off 3c 91c to 3c up and provisions down 5c to 10c.

Buying of wheat started with a server said to be a received in the control of the demands of the Portland markets.

oats off helic to be up and provisions down to to 10c.

Buying of wheat started with a rush, influenced to some extent by cable advices, especially word that estimates of the exportable surplus of insita had been reduced to 76,000,000 bushels as against previous estimates of 170,000,000 bushels. Later the bull side was favored by notice that export clearances from the United States for the last 24 hours totaled 1,100,000 bushels, and that Europeans had purchased at the seabnound roday 300,000 bushels additional Moreover, assertions were current that fully 5,000,000 bushels of Spring wheat had been sold to leave Dulath as soon as possible after the opening of the Great Lakes navigation season, beginning at midwight tonight. Corn was helped upward by wheat atrength and by continued reports of oray damage in Argentina.

In the past trade free buying of July and selling of May by houses that senerally act for the seaboard caused a decided narrowing of the spread between the two deliveries. There was also a good deal of speculaity buying of July.

Packers selling more than miped out an advance in provisions, due to grain strength and higher prices for hogs. There seemed to be no urgent demand, and especially as to the lard.
