BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Foiled in his plan to secure Infielder Thomas, of Cleveland, Walter McCredie, Portland manager, yesterday directed his wiles New Orleansward, and in con-sequence Infielder Murphy, last year with the Oaks, will join Portland immediately.

This begins the promised reinforcement of the slipping Portland champions.

Incidentally Manager McCredie announced more sweeping changes than any of the fans had expected. Not only does Mack intend to bag a couple of new infielders, but also a heavy-hitting outfleider is soon to grace the ros-ting outherder is soon to grace the roster of the Beavers.

"I'm out after them, and you'll hear something soon," said Mack last evening, shaking his head. "If this team won't win I'll make it win. Murphy is a great prospect and I'll get a couple more to go with him.

"Joe Birmingham crossed me up on

"Joe Birmingham crossed me up on Thomas, I guess. Birmy turned him over to New Orleans without notifying the Cleveland management and Charley Somers had to cancel his deal with me. He has a couple more I want, however, and we'll not be in the second diviand we'll not be in the second divi-sion very long."

McCredie intends to use Murphy in a substitute role. Last year he broke in as a kid with the Oaks and hit 297 in 61 games at second, short and in the outfield. He was a protege of Arthur Devlin's and the first thing Tyler Christian did was to trade him to New Orleans for the ex-Beaver, Bill

And, by the way, Mac has had a laugh up his sleeve for several weeks without telling anybody. He tried to get Murphy from Oakland last Winter, but Christian wouldn't let him come here. Instead, Tyler shunted him off to New Orleans for Lindsay and all the time Lindsay was still the property of Portland.

This much Mac divulged yesterday when asked about the purchase price paid for Murphy.

Cliff Blankenship will bring his Salt Lake Bees to Portland this afternoon for their first show in Portland. Salt Lake is the new city in the league, but most of the players are well known.
Among the new men are the Indian pitcher, Laroy, of Indianapolis; Faye, an ex-Union Associationer, and Barbour, of Denver,
The Bees copped the series from Oakland last week, and that's going some for the first road trip of the year.
Todny's game will commence at 3

As expected, Dutch Kores has been turned over to Rochester by the New York Giants. Kores didn't have a chance in the majors against Lobert. Kores was offered to Portland, but Mc-Credie had enough of Kores last year. He was a constant trouble-maker, and his inability to catch signs had the team up in the air all the time.

Hugo Bezdek, coach of the University of Oregon athletic teams, witnessed Sunday's 11-2 Portland rout by Venice. Bezdek combs the marshes for players for the Pittsburg Pirates during the Summer months and one of his assignments last system with the principle. ments last season was the Union As-likeliest-looking ball player in "The likeliest-looking ball player in the whole league," said Bezdek, "was this young Risberg, and I recommended his draft to Barney Dreyfuss. I guess they thought they had enough infielders, but I think Barney made a mistake. Risberg will be in the big leagues within another year. I think he will develop into a remarkable hitter, He has a good whip and a fine pair of hands." pair of hands." pair of hands."

Risberg backed up Hugo's boosts Sunday by lacing out a home run, a double and two singles in five trips.

Perle Casey will not be out in the cold after all. Perle has patched up his salary squabble with President Blewett and will be one of the four pop bottle dodgers in the Northwestern League.

Gene McGreevy and Mike Lynch will open today at Seattle, Frary at Van-couver and Casey at Spokane.

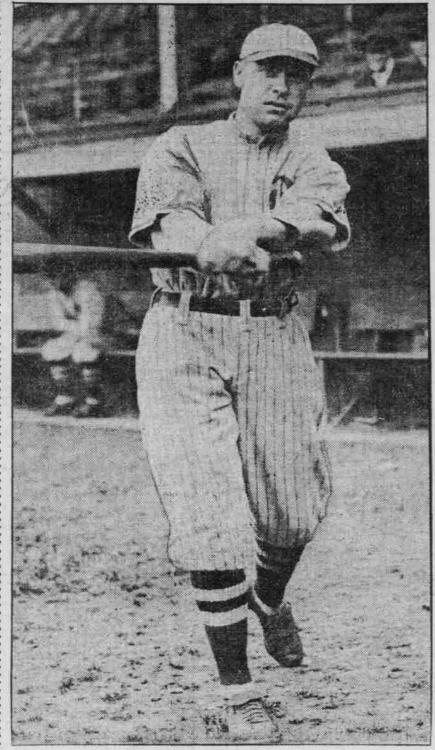

Rudy Baerwald released by the Seals, has returned to dear old Galveston, chiefly noted for its sea wall and for Jack Johnson. Benny Henderson was left behind when the Salt Lake club hustled off to Oakland last week, but Benny is right now and is expected to Join the Bees here today. Ben was a star for Port-land about three years ago and is said to have most of his old stuff back, now that he is under the white-ribbon bags and the season is only three bags and the season is only two weeks gone. Jimmy added only two Watson, Crandall, Willett, Herbert and last week off the Salt Lake backstops. but he had ten to his credit in the initial fortnight. If he maintains this clip he stands a chance of beating his own record of 124, established with San Francisco in 1918.

the Oregon invaders.

Bigbee's injury will keep him out of the game for at least two weeks, in the opinion of his physician. In the meantime, his place will be filled by his brother, Morris, who played in the infield before the younger brother's registration in college. Gorman still holds his position in the garden, while Sheeby is once more in a regular berth, substituting for Bigbee in the outfield. Coach Bezdek is satisfied with the result of the recent games and says the lone win over Washington is all the hoped for. The barnstorming battles served their purpose, inasmuch as they seasoned the men and gave the coach

More Young Blood Than Ever Is Noticeable in Lineups of Various Clubs.

CHANCES ARE DISCUSSED

Brown's Team Appears to Be Strong as Usual, Despite Loss of Several Veterans-Aberdeen Is New City in Circuit.

Northwestern League clubs will get away from the barrier today for a slightly abbreviated season. Victoria will open at Vancouver, Tacoma at Seattle and Aberdeen at Spokane. Aberdeen is the new city in the league, having taken the Portland-Ballard franchise

More young blood than ever before is noticeable in the various lineups. The Northwestern League always sends up a host of youngsters to the majors every Fall, and this year should be no exception, despite the lower salary

When Bob Brown let his veterans, Bennett, Scharney and Heister go there were buckets of tears shed for his chances. From this distance, however, Brown's team appears to be fully as strong as ever.

Moore Better Than Bennett. Charley Moore, at second, is a better all-around man than Bennett. He is not in Bennett's class as a fielder, but is a better hitter. Curtis Coleman, at Played under Harry Wolverton for New York. Still, Coleman ought to be a better third baseman than Heister. Bloomer, at short, is as good with the bat as Scharney and may develop in other departments with experience.

Northwestern League dopesters do not give the Victorias much chance, and yet Victoria has a couple of mighty good farm players from the Coast. Ted third, has been retired since he last played under Harry Wolverton for New York. Still. Coleman ought to be a better third baseman than Heister. Bloomer, at short, is as good with the bat as Scharney and may develop in other departments with experience. and yet victoria has a couple of mighty good farm players from the Coast. Ted Kaylor, of the Oaks, and Tobin, of the Seals, ought to bat better than 300 in that circuit. Kaylor never batted under .330 in his young life until he joined the Oaks.

The Bees lost a good man in Wil-holt, however, and the pitching staff may not be strong, as Narveson and Steele were mighty good flingers. Aberdeen Relies on Pitchers.

In the Aberdeen lineup are Stis, Harkness and Carl Lewis, well known
