Portland finally turned on Los Angeles yesterday and pounded out a victory by thrilling eighth and tenthinning railies, in which young Bobby Davis, of Auburn, N. Y., was the star performer. Davis tied the score with a single in the eighth, incidentally driving Southpaw Love to his coop, and it was his single to center in the tenth, with two out and Carisch on third, that brought joy to the several odd haiffrozen fans in the stands.

Portland 4, Los Angeles 3.

Bill Stumpf began the sensational tenth by incing out a terrific double to center field off Jack Ryan. Ryan succeeded Love in the eighth. Carisch bunted and went safe because McMuller forgot to cover first base, Lober walked, filling the bases with nobody out. Doane was sent up with instructions to whack out a long fly, but the best Walt could do was a dinky blow to pitcher, which brought up short in a double play. a double play.

Davis Uses Same Big Bat.

This was the situation that existed when Davis again strode to the plate, swinging the same heavy bat that brought him luck in the eighth.

on hand, owing to the Arctic atmosphere, but this scattering arose en masse and cheered Davis to the echo.

Early Part of Game Instices.

The finish was all the more exciting because, up to the eighth inning, the Beavers looked sadly outclassed. Love was setting the boys down one-two-three with his fast one, and the Angels appeared to have the game sewed up 3-0. Two of these could have been prevented had Johnny Lush fielded as well as he pitched; had Kircher not been asleep in left field and let a man score from third during his slumber, and had Umpire williams not erred in a decision at second.

The frequent substitutions kept the official scorer from freezing to death. The hits were nine for Portland and eight for Los Angeles. Wolter led the field with three safeties in five trips. Wolter has no hand in the first Angelic tally. In the third inning Maggert walked on Lush, stole second, was sacrificed along by McMullen and sent home on Branks' significant left. on Brooks' single to left.

Decision Causes Protest.

Los Angeles scored its other two runs in the fifth. Wolter doubled to left. Buemiller bunted and Lush threw wide to Derrick. Buemiller then stole second and much conversation was exuded over and much conversation was exuded to Nick Williams' decision. It looked to everybody as if Stumpf had Buemiller blanketed.

Wolfer cross the plate with a gift tally. Buemiller registered on either a wild pitch or a passed ball—candidly, we don't know which. The official scorer passes the buck to Carisch.

We confess to being sometimes bored by too much baseball, but we trust we shall never become so blaze that we cannot feel that bit of a thrill that goes with a situation like this.

Heydier, of the National League, reported that he had received instructions to forfeit the game to Boston if New York persisted in playing Kauff, whom President Tener had declared ineligible.

The clubs then took the field after Manager McGraw of New York had called attention to the fact that Umpire Quigley had previously declared the game forfeited to New York. Kauff was not in the New York line-up when actual play began.

Under President Tener's ruling as reported by Secretary Heydler, the reported by Secretary Heydler, the game stands as played, a victory for Boston.

UNIVERSITY OF ORGON. Eugene, April 29.—(Special.)—Coach Hugo Besdek and his varsity ball tossers romped through an easy practice this afternoon and after a mild warming up, hitting and fielding practice, the bats were packed and Oregon is ready for the first game of the state championship series with the Aggies in Corvallis tomorrow.

of the orange-black and is figuring Oregon to have a mighty hard road to get the best of the two arguments.

"The loss of Bigbee," he said, "has left us in pretty poor shape. It is true that his substitute has been playing good ball but his hitting doesn't begin to compare with Skeeter's."

Captain Johnny Welch will open for the lemon-yellow on the mound and should get off to a good start; in the past week of practice Welch has overcome most of his wildness and is now in better shape than ever before this season.

Lieualien's crippled index finger is again well and he will do the receiving. The Oregon mentor will take practically his entire squad to Corvallis as it is the shortest trip of the year.

"Mud" Ingles, Sellwood shortstop, secured his first hit of the season last Sunday. Bill Heales says "Mud" is now out of his batting slump and will be a terror to pitchers from now on.

Julius Moreland is doing the bulk of the mound work for the Redmen. De-spite several breaks of hard luck against him, he is a classy twirler and is slated to hop out of the bushes before many more seasons roll past.

Sellwood fans are strong for their club and before the season is over Bill Heales has declared he will show up some of those who predict he will finish in the cellar. Art Moeller soon will be back in the game for Piedmont. In the last ses-sion at Vaughn street Moeller strained
