MISS VALENTINE PRICHARD, who has given her time so devotedly to the Big Sisterhood, was re-elected chairman of that body yesterday at the annual meeting held in the People's Institute. Mrs. Prichard was chosen vice-chairman; Miss Marion Briggs, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Short, assistant secretary; Mrs. Wilma Chandler, treasurer. Miss Prichard gave an interesting annual report and urged the members to be on the lookout for other women who would be suitable "big sisters." A plea was made by Miss Prichard for more active workers and for volunteers to help in providing summer outings for girls who work and for "shut-ins." Last year several society women donated the use of their automobiles and some of them were hostesses for parties of young people who enjoyed outings. This plan will be used this year.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT
By Mrs. F. A. Walker

How Mrs. Mouse Saved Her Family.
MRS. MOUSE told her five little ones that she would take them out for a walk and let them see the barn in which they had a hole in the floor. "But you must be very quiet," she told them, "and keep close to me also, for Mistress Pussy sometimes takes a nap in the barn doorway in the afternoon, and she always sleeps with one eye open."

The five little mice sat up in a row and folded their arms while their mother washed their faces and they did not squeak as they usually did, but held still and let their mother rub as hard as she liked.

When they were all ready she took them to the hole and looked out very cautiously. "You must keep very close to me," she said, "and if I should run you must scamper into this hole as fast as you can, for you may know that Mistress Pussy is in sight."

"Yes, Mother," said the little mice, and they followed her out. First she took them to the bag of meal and showed them how to gnaw a hole in it so that it would not be seen and then she showed them how to find the grain, and all the time you must keep a sharp lookout for Pussy," she said.

Just then Mrs. Mouse glanced toward the door and there was Pussy coming in. She could not get her little ones back to the hole without passing Pussy, so she ran back of some barrels and told the little mice to follow her.

"Pussy walked around, as though she had not seen them, but she sat down right in front of the hole, where they lived."

"She saw us," said Mrs. Mouse. "She is a sly one, but she is not any wiser than I am, and if we can keep out of reach of her claws I think I can fool her."

Pussy was stretched out now as though she was asleep. Mrs. Mouse came over her thoughts, and she yawned as if she could hardly keep awake.

But this did not fool Mrs. Mouse; she well knew that the minute she moved Pussy would spring for her like a flash.

"When I say run," she told the little mice, "do not wait to see where I am, but get into the hole as quickly as you can and keep away from the opening until you get inside, for I shall have to make a bold dash. Now sit very still (H) I say run."

Mrs. Mouse moved to the side of the barrel where she knew Pussy could see her, and then she ran up the side of the barrel. Quick as a wink Pussy was up the side of the barrel and into the hole in the bottom. She called to her little ones "run," and they did.

Now Pussy did not know what Mrs. Mouse did about the barrel, there was a hole in the bottom of it, and as Pussy came over the top, Mrs. Mouse ran out of the hole in the bottom and was in her home before Pussy could reach it. And that was not the worst of it, the barrel was deep and the sides smooth and Pussy could not get out until her master came in to feed the horse and heard the scratching.

"Why are you in there?" he asked as he lifted her out.

"I was looking foolish, and he laughed when he saw the hole in the bottom. "Pooled you that time, didn't they?" he said with a laugh.

Pussy ran away for her supper, but she made up her mind to give special attention to that hole where the mouse family lived, and not to be fooled a second time.

WOMAN CHARGES FRAUD
E. E. HOWES ACCUSED IN SUIT BY MRS. EMMA G. WHITE.

Charges of fraud were preferred against E. E. Howes in a complaint filed against him yesterday by Mrs. Emma G. White, formerly the wife of Dr. Frederick H. Coffeen, who died several years ago, leaving a considerable estate.

Mrs. White says that in 1912 she had more than $3000 of this estate remaining, when Mr. Howes, representing himself to be a friend of her former husband, asked her to invest her money in the stock of an insurance company. Her complaint declares that Mr. Howes influenced her by pretending to have been an admirer of her former husband and interested in the welfare of herself and her children.

He represented, says Mrs. White, that insurance stock for which he was agent was of the par value of $20 and its market price was $30. He also said that the stock was paying 10 per cent dividends, would double in value in a short time and pay 20 per cent dividends. The fact was, says the complaint, that the market value of the stock was about $5 a share, and no dividends were being paid.

On these alleged representations Mrs. White gave $3000 to Mr. Howes, which he was to purchase 100 shares of the stock. She charges that he appropriated $1500 of this to his own use and returned the remainder to her. She says this, she alleges, he told her that owing to persecutions by the State Insurance Commissioner the company could not pay its dividends. He recommended that she assign her stock to him for the purchase of Portland real estate. Mrs. White did this. She declares Howes bought property at College and Lowndale streets, making the deed in his own name.

The plaintiff asks that the court hold in trust the property until the matter can be adjudicated.

EX-WIFE MAY ASK SHARE
S. S. Durkheimer's Policy May Result in Estate Contest.

A $5000 life insurance policy, left by Samuel S. Durkheimer, who died May 2 as a result of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at Sixth and Washington streets, may result in a contest over his estate. A petition for letters of administration was filed in County Clerk Coffey's office yesterday by Mrs. Sophia D. Katz, his sister.

The insurance policy comprises Mr. Durkheimer's entire estate. The policy was made out in the name of his wife, Mrs. Durkheimer, who divorced him in 1912. Since then Durkheimer had the insurance changed, making it payable to his estate. Mrs. Durkheimer received the proceeds of the policy which was payable to her. The sister, Mrs. Katz, says the sole heir is a daughter, Rita Durkheimer, who is living with her mother at Eugene, Or.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP
Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at hand to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Receipt for Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

Of all the beauty recipes that have been published, here are two that have successfully stood the test of time: Wrinkle Remover—Oven-baked powdered sallote, dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel, use as a wash lotion. It brings instantaneous results.

Face Peeler—Pure mercerized wax, applied at night like cold cream, only not rubbed off, wash off in the morning. It causes the worstest skin to peel off in tiny scales, leaving the skin a little each day, until the fresh young under-skin is wholly in evidence. The beautiful rose-tinted complexion thus obtained is not to be compared with one made over with cosmetics, or the old skin marred with freckles, pimples or other blemishes. These defects are of course, removed, and the skin itself. An ounce of the wax is sufficient in any case.

The ingredients named are inexpensive and can be found in any drug store.—Adv.

When Run-Down, Weak and Nervous

What Should a Man Do? Suggestion of Ohio Druggist to One Such Man Saved His Life, So He Says.

Nelsonville, Ohio.—"I was all run-down, weak and nervous and had no appetite at all. In fact I was very much discouraged until our druggist told me about Vinol and asked me to try it. I did so and it has certainly been a life saver to me. I can gladly recommend Vinol to anyone who needs a blood and nerve tonic."—S. S. STEENROD, Nelsonville, Ohio.

When a man is run-down, weak and nervous, he needs a good appetite, good digestion, better blood, more strength, more vitality, and we do not know of any medicine that will supply it so quickly as Vinol.

It is the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil aided by the blood-making strengthening properties of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in building up health and strength for weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

We ask every weak, nervous, run-down person in this locality to try Vinol on our guarantee, and if it fails to help you we will return your money. The Owl Drug Company, Portland, Or., and at leading druggists everywhere.
