BOND SUIT IS WAIVED

Attorneys Indorse Road Issue When Court's Order Cited. BIDS TO BE TAKEN MAY 12 Last Difficulty in Way of Sale and Approval of Notes Removed, Say County Officials—Plan for Plant Is Rejected.

BONDS TO BE REQUIRED

FIGURES SHOW WATER REVENUE WILL NOT BUY METERS. Bureau's Statistics Prove That to Follow Mr. Daly's Plan, Project Would Take 215 Years. Issuance and sale of not less than $500,000 in 25-year 4 per cent water bonds is the only way City Commissioner Daly will be able to install water meters on all services in the city under the city-wide meter plan which will be voted on at the city election June 7.

Engineers' Proposal Refused

Messrs. Dulin and McMullen submit exhaustive figures on the paving question yesterday morning. They showed just what it would cost the county to lay its own pavement according to the specifications for every type as adopted by the city. They asserted in their previous proposal to the Commissioners that all the paving could be laid at an approximate cost of 60 cents a square yard if the county would spend about $50,000 to build a paving plant. They asked that, if their proposal was accepted, they be employed as engineers at $200 a month each.

A friendly suit will not be necessary to establish the legality of Multnomah County's $1,250,000 road bond issue. The legal difficulty which has stood in the way of full recognition of the validity of the bonds was swept away yesterday when District Attorney Evans received the following telegram from Storey, Thorndike, Palmer & Dodge, the Boston attorneys who had brought up the point that proof of the proper posting of special election notices was lacking: "Telegram received. We waive requirements regarding proof of election notice."

The plan for the county to do its own paving was definitely turned down by the County Commissioners yesterday when R. S. Dulin and R. G. McMullen, of the City Engineer's office, who has submitted the proposal, were notified that they could wish with other contractors if they desired. The Commissioners directed that Mr. Dulin and Mr. McMullen be notified that the county did not care to take up their plan, but that they could bid with contractors if they wished to do so. "I don't think it advisable to experiment in a new business with the counting of the money," was the explanation of Commissioner Holman.

Operation of the water bureau in 1914 cost $255,550, which increases to $712,150 the total cost of operation and maintenance of the bureau. The total revenue for the present year will be $760,950, according to the water bureau estimates, leaving a surplus from revenue of $27,810.

the little evergreens like orchard trees. This lecture will be given for the first time in Portland. Pictures of Bull Run, the source of Portland's water supply; a number of principal mountain peaks of the Northwest, the Columbia Highway and many other features will be shown.
