

SEVERAL FROM SAN FRANCISCO ON LINER

Oakland Persons Also Booked to Sail Aboard Ill-Fated Steamer Lusitania.

CONSTERNATION IS CAUSED

Passengers From California Cities Are of Prominence in Business and Society Circles—Details Are Anxiously Awaited.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—(Special.) Six San Franciscans and three Oakland persons were aboard the torpedoed liner Lusitania, and word of their fate is being anxiously awaited by their relatives and friends.

The San Franciscans are: Mark Walker, G. Jones, William Leyland, A. R. Starch, G. Granger, E. T. de Bostiere and Mrs. E. A. Clay.

Others who had booked for passage from the San Francisco offices of the Cunard line were: Mrs. Moody and daughter, of London, visiting here.

The Oakland passengers are: James P. Gray, an adjuster for the San Francisco Board of Trade, living at 233 Forty-first street; Mrs. William Gray, his daughter-in-law; Stewart Gray, aged 7, son of Mrs. William Gray.

Oakland Family Prominent.
The Gray family is prominent in Oakland, and news of the steamer's destruction caused deep consternation. The Oaklanders were on their way to Edinburgh to join Mrs. James P. Gray and her mother, Mrs. Hiram Beach. The latter went abroad some time ago to visit Mrs. Gray's daughter, who is married to a Major in the British army.

James Gray left Oakland recently with his daughter-in-law and grandson, intending to join his wife and mother-in-law in Edinburgh and escort them home. William Gray, son of James Gray, accompanied his father, wife and son across the continent, but remained in New York.

No Details Obtainable.
Mrs. Arthur Courtland Luck, who formerly was Charlotte Field, of Sausalito, and is now the wife of an expert of London, was making the voyage to England, accompanied by her two sons, Kenneth, aged 7, and Elbridge, aged 12. She was on her way to join her husband, who had arranged to meet his family at Liverpool.

Anna Field, sister, with real estate offices at Sausalito, received a telegram from Mr. Luck today, in which the anxious husband and father said he had received no details concerning the catastrophe, nor any word that would indicate whether his family was safe or not.

As Charlotte Field, Mrs. Luck was well known a few years ago in San Francisco society circles. She is the daughter of B. Field, the American Trading Company of this city.

MORE CALIFORNIANS ON LINER
Los Angeles List Numbers 11 Well-Known Residents.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—(Special.)—Eleven well-known residents of Los Angeles were passengers on the Lusitania.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Campbell-Johnston, of the Campbell-Johnston ranch, San Rafael Heights, well known as social leaders in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Billicke, members of one of Los Angeles' most prominent families. Billicke owns the Alexandria Hotel.

Mrs. Cyril Bretherton, wife of a well-known Los Angeles attorney, and her two small children.

Mrs. J. E. Gray, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Torrence Gray, and the small son, Master Stewart Gray, and G. F. Forsyth.

Campbell-Johnston, who has been engaged in fancy ranching at San Rafael Heights, was the nephew of an English Admiral and had persuaded his wife that she should return to his native land, England, and offer his services to his country.

SEATTLE GIRL IS PASSENGER
Tacoma and Spokane People Change Passage From Lusitania.

SEATTLE, May 7.—So far as known only one resident of Washington was on the Lusitania.

J. F. Arter, who is listed as from Tacoma, arrived there from the Orient on a round-the-world trip and this led to his being regarded as from that city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crothers, of Spokane, bought tickets on the Lusitania, but transferred to the Transylvania.

Miss Alice Middleton, a hotel employe, of Seattle, was a passenger, her ticket having been sent to her by her mother in England.

PITTSBURG LIST IS TWENTY
Agent Keeps Promise to Withhold Names of Some Passengers.

PITTSBURG, May 7.—According to steamship agents here, 20 persons from the Pittsburgh district had booked passage on the Lusitania. In the number were eight first-cabin, nine second-cabin and three third-cabin passengers.

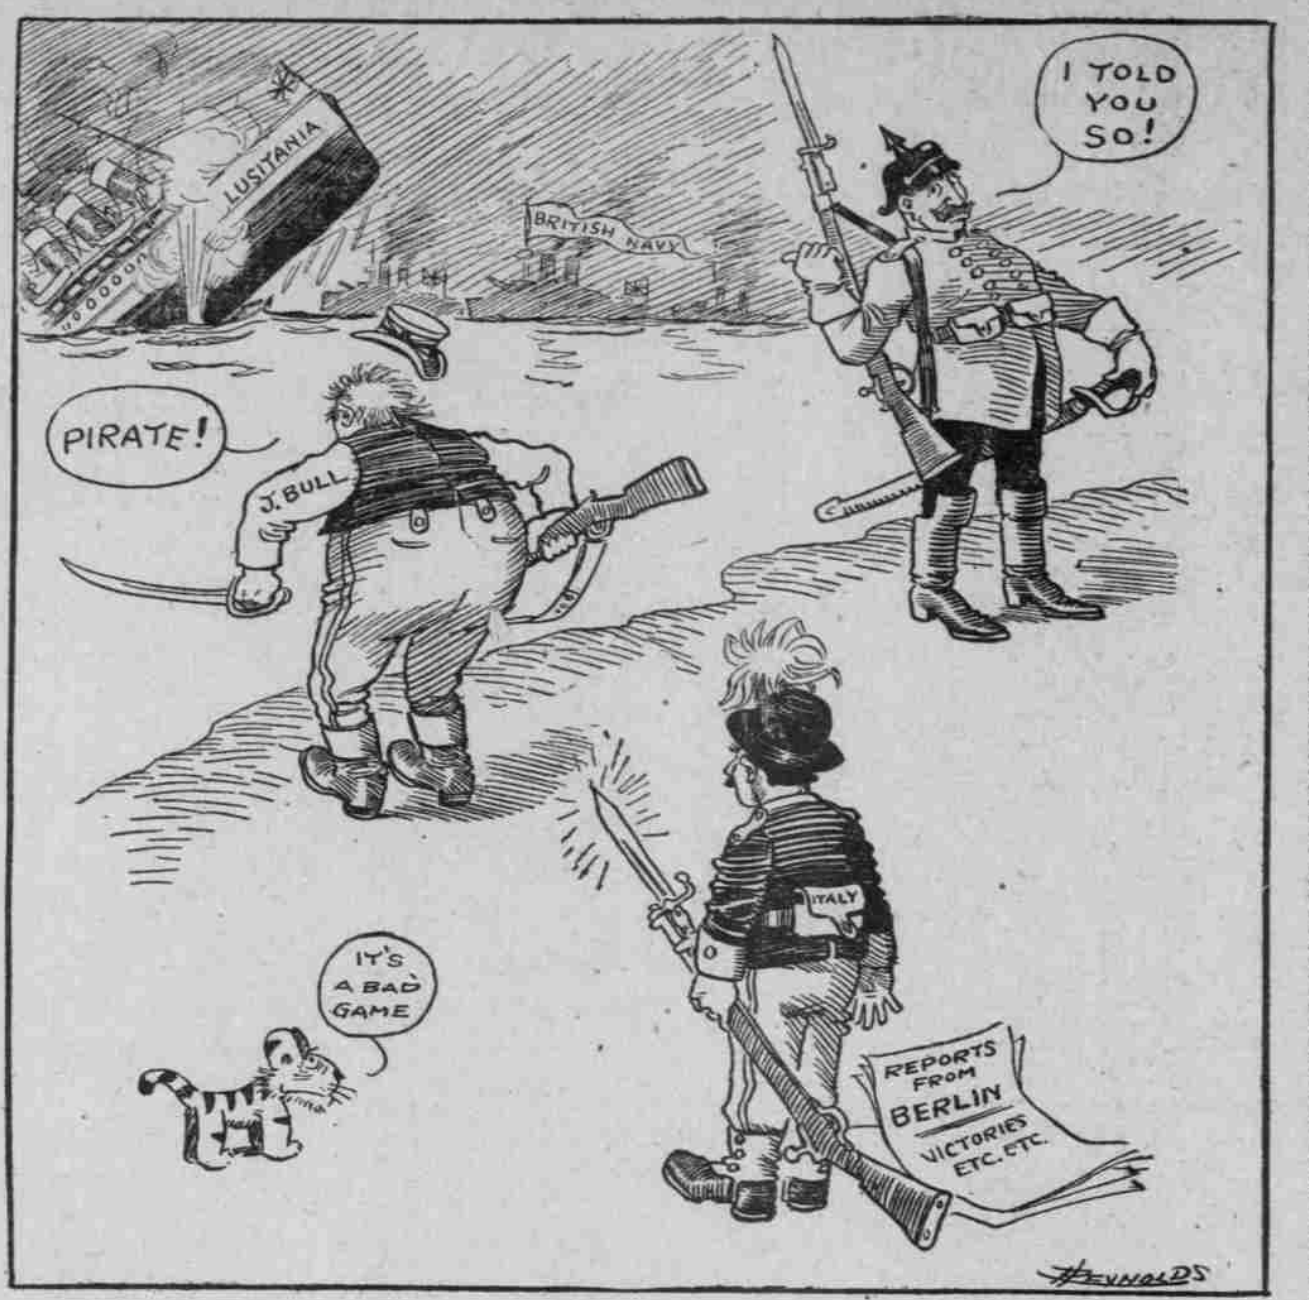

C. G. Andrews, manager of the J. J. McCormick Agency, said he was not at liberty to give the names of some of the first-cabin passengers, as he had promised to withhold their names. He said, however, that among the number were several prominent steel and iron manufacturers bound for Europe to close contracts.

PHILADELPHIAS ARE ABOARD
Banker and Other Business Leaders Among Passengers.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—S. M. Knox, president of the New York Shipping Company, of Camden, and William Sterling Hodges, Paris representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, were among the prominent Philadelphians who were passengers on the Lusitania. Mr. Hodges was accompanied by his wife and two small sons.

Harry J. Koser, vice-president of the Philadelphia National Bank and widely known in financial circles, was another passenger. Paul Compton, who was accompanied by his family, is vice-president of the Surpass Leather Company.

SCHOOL NOTES FORGED

ORCHARDS WARRANTS "FAKED"; CLARKE COUNTY LOSES $1000.

Counterfeiting of Signatures Dates Back to 1906, but Nature of Vouchers Recently Learned.

YANCOUVER, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—Clever forgers have obtained at least $1000 by forging warrants on School District No. 30 at Orchards. The forgeries have recently been discovered, although some of the warrants were made out in 1906, 1907 and 1908.

Most of them were presented to the Vancouver National Bank and cashed. Later they were taken to the County Treasurer's office and resold by the Treasurer, as there were no funds in the treasury to cash them. All but about $350 of the forged warrants have been cashed by the County Treasurer.

The names of the three directors of the school district were cleverly falsified. These warrants were kept for a number of years before they were taken to the County Treasurer for registration when they began to draw interest. In some cases the warrants were kept five or six years before they were presented for registration. The warrants were drawn for $100 each.

County Attorney Blair and Sheriff Blessecker have been working on the case, but have found no clue yet that promises to lead to the discovery of the forger.

In 1909 the law was changed to require warrants to be made out in duplicate, so that the County Auditor may have a check on all warrants before the forgeries were on the old forms and no duplicates were kept.

ODDFELLOWS HEAR TALKS

Crowd Fills Vancouver Hall as Officials of Lodge Speak.

YANCOUVER, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—One of the largest crowds ever assembled in Oddfellows' Hall in this city attended last night when members from all parts of the state gathered for the annual meeting. It is estimated that 500 persons were in the hall. Fred W. Tompess, of Vancouver, was master of ceremonies.

Speakers were Fred W. Bier, grand secretary; Major Garlich, of Centralia; George E. Kellough, of Walla Walla; grand master; A. G. Green, grand patriarch, of Centralia; Colonel A. F. Hoska, representing the department commander; Mrs. W. A. Carson, of this city; E. S. Enigh, grand junior warden, of Olympia, and Captain Remington, commander of the canton at Centralia.

THE TITANIC DISASTER.
The steamer Titanic, of the White Star Line, on her maiden voyage from Liverpool to New York, struck an iceberg at 10:15 P. M. April 14, 1912. She sank in four and a half hours. Of the 2204 persons aboard, 1502 perished.

Of these 1347 were men, 102 women and 55 children. Of the 703 survivors, 215 were men, 226 women and 32 children.

The Titanic was a much larger vessel than the Lusitania, being the largest vessel ever floated up to that time. She was 882 feet 6 inches long, 92 feet 6 inches beam, 64 feet deep, with a registered tonnage of 45,000, but an actual displacement of 66,000 tons.

EASY DIVORCE ATTACKED
Episcopal Church Meet at Boise Wants More Drastic Laws.

BOISE, Idaho, May 7.—(Special.)—More drastic laws striking at the divorce evil were strongly indorsed here today by the Protestant Episcopal Church convocation in eighth annual session, while a plea for faith in Christianity was made by Bishop James B. Funsten, who asserted the war had resulted in deliberate attacks on the church.

"Whereas," says the resolution on divorce adopted by the convocation, "there is an increased laxity in regard to remarriage after divorce secured on other grounds than that of adultery, therefore he resolved that this convocation views with alarm the many evils resulting from looseness of the

TACOMA COUPLE ESCAPES

Lusitania Booking Abandoned to Avoid Hurried Trip.

TACOMA, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—Dislike of a hurried trip across the continent probably saved Mr. and Mrs. William Crothers, of Tacoma, from being passengers on the Lusitania.

Mr. Crothers, who is a plumber residing at 1619 South Forty-first street, intended to buy tickets for himself and Mrs. Crothers on the Lusitania, but at the last minute decided the time was too short, so purchased them on the Transylvania, which is scheduled to sail next Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Crothers left Tacoma Saturday for New York.

Boy Fugitive Beats Telegram.
ROSEBURG, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Less than an hour after he left town Sheriff Quine Tuesday received a telegram from the chief of police at Seattle with instructions to arrest Walter Alsworth 15 years old, who recently left that city. The boy was riding a bicycle when he passed through Roseburg and was accompanied by two companions. Officers further south have been notified and it is likely that the boy will be intercepted before he reaches the California line.

The town was in holiday attire and all the residents participated in the festivities. The park was gaily decorated, streamers of ivy, flowers and boughs carrying greetings for the Queen and heralding her crowning. An arch of welcome to Queen Dale I ornamented the Music Hall entrance and approach of the college bridge.

MAY QUEEN IS CROWNED

ELABORATE FESTIVITIES HELD AT MUMINVILLE.

Dale I Rides in Pomp and Day Is Given Over to Merrymaking by City's Inhabitants.

MUMINVILLE, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Dale I was crowned Queen of the May here today with imposing ceremony. The royal equipage in which the Queen was escorted by her maids was followed by 20 gaily decorated automobiles carrying 100 loyal subjects.

The procession passed in review through the main streets of town. Every college fraternity was represented in the parade and the Moose Lodge had a particularly attractive float surmounted by a moose head. This was in charge of State Senator Vinton, who is dictator of the order and was accompanied by the Moose Band.

The inauguration ceremony was held in the grove at the college entrance, where an elaborate programme consisting of music, fancy dancing and the Maypole exercises was executed in front of a balcony erected for the royal party.
