EMERGENCY ORDINANCE DRAFTED IS OPPOSED BY MR. BIGELOW.

Delay May Interfere With Sales and En barrass Mr. Brewster: Had Ordered Contractor to Start Work.

When City Commissioner Bigelow hanged his attitude yesterday on the proposition of awarding a contract for the hauling of wood produced at the municipal woodyard near Linnton, he the hauling of wood produced at the municipal woodyard near Linnton, he aroused the wrath of Mayor Albee, and incidentally tied the matter up so that it may be impossible to get the wood into the city in time for sale for next Winter.
It is declared by Mayor Albee and

Mr. Bigelow concurred in a decision last week to let Charles R. Hart have the contract for hauling the wood from Linnton, where it was cut last Winter by the unemployed, to the city's pro-posed sales yard at Twenty - seventh and Savier streets. On the strength of the unanimous approval of the Council to the contract plan, Commissioner Brewster let a contract to Charles R. Hart and the hauling of the wood was started.

To make the contract valid the en-actment of an ordinance with an emer-gency clause attached was necessary. This came up for vote yesterday and required unanimous vote for passage. Commissioner Bigelew objected to the enactment of the ordinance, holding out for readvertising for bids. He con-tended that the award of a contract should be to the lowest bidder, and he had information to the effect that an other contractor was willing to make
