Portland, Or., March 21.—Rudely give, in the Oregonian, at your article, Tuesday, some good recipes for drop cookies, suitable for afternoon tea or to serve with dessert.

ONE of the following is difficult to make, or particularly expensive. Care in baking is the important point. Whether they would come under the head of "delicious," or not, depends upon the personal taste of the eater and upon the skill of the maker:

Orange Drop Cookies.—One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, grated rind of one orange, one egg well beaten, one-fourth cup orange juice, about two cups flour, four level teaspoons baking powder.

Honey Drop Cookies.—One-fourth cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup strained honey, beaten yolk of one egg, grated rind of one-half lemon, one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice, one-half level teaspoon soda.

Cocoa-nut Honey Cakes.—Make like honey drop cakes, using cocoa-nut milk in place of lemon juice and rind, and adding one-half cup of fresh grated cocoa-nut.

Sour Cream Drop Cookies.—One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup sour cream, one teaspoon soda, one-half cup raisins, one-half cup cream of tartar, about two and one-half cups flour.

Vanilla.—One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup vanilla, one-half cup flour, one-half cup cream, one-half cup vanilla, one-half cup flour, one-half cup cream, one-half cup vanilla.

Roller and Canned Cherry Nut Cookies.—One-half cup butter, one and one-half cups sugar, one egg, three tablespoons sour milk or cream, one-half cup raisins, dates cut up, one-fourth cup chopped nuts, one cup rolled oats, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Cocoa-Oat Cookies.—Omit the raisins in the above, and add one and one-half level tablespoons cocoa, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, and one teaspoon vanilla.

Peanut Drop Cookies.—One-fourth cup butter, one cup light brown sugar, one cup flour, three level teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one egg beaten light, one cup chopped lightly roasted peanuts, about one and one-half cups flour, a few drops almond flavoring, if liked. Mix and bake as above.

Walnut or pecan drop cookies may be similarly made. Do not chop the nuts too fine.

CLARA and Joseph spent their summer vacation with their aunt and uncle, who lived in a seaport town.

They went to the beach every day, and when the tide was out they could run along the hard, smooth sand for a long distance.

One day they walked farther than usual, and on a point of land a little way from the water they saw a house.

They were curious to see what it was and walked nearer. When they were in front of the house they saw in the window a lighted lamp.

"They forgot to blow it out," said Clara. "We ought to tell them for the people around here do not have enough money to waste in that way."

So they went to the door and knocked. A very old lady opened the door, and she said: "Come in, tell me what your lamp is lighted in the front window. We thought you forgot to blow it out."

The old lady smiled very sweetly and shook her head. "No," she said, "I have just filled and lighted it; now it will burn until night, and then I will tell you that your lamp is lighted in the front window."

Joseph thanked her and she led them into the kitchen. It looked very queer to Clara and Joseph, for there were long seats built around the room and no chairs.

A table stood in one corner, so that the seats could be used when a meal was served.

"Come in here," said the old lady, "and I will show you my ships." She opened a door into the room where the lamp was burning, and the children saw a crowd of sailing ships of all kinds, from full-rigged sailing crafts to tiny rowboats.

"Who made all these pretty ships?" asked Clara.

"The captain and my boys," replied the old lady, "and while they are away these ships keep me company."

"Is your husband on a voyage now?" asked Joseph.

"Yes," she replied, "and John and Tom are with him. I expect them home today," she said, as she looked out across the water. Then she turned the lamp a little higher. "I told them I would keep this light burning every night, and now I light it in the daytime, too, because it might be foggy out there and they might sail right past if they did not see the light."

"I never heard of the Nancy Pringle," said Clara.

"That is the name of my husband's ship," said the old lady, "and I am expecting them today. John and Tom are with him. This will be the last voyage, for the captain promised never to leave me again."

A BAD COUGH FOLLOWED GRIPPE

Wapakoneta, Ohio.—"I am a farmer by occupation and the grippe left me with a bad cough and in a nervous, weak, run-down condition, and I could not seem to get anything to do me any good. I decided to try Vinol, and soon began to improve, and after taking one bottle I feel like a new man.

The many who have tried this simple and reliable remedy for reliable relief should prove to you that Vinol is a reliable body builder and strength creator; in fact, we feel safe in saying that we have never sold in our store a more dependable, upbuilding tonic for the convalescent, weak and run-down than Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil. For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only makes the defect bolder. It's much easier to remove the disfigurement by ordinary mercifully way. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or raw patches, and any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for Vinol, and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

This Leaves the Skin Free From Hairy Growths (Toilet Talks)

A simple remedy for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is a positive and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered salicylate and water, spread on hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get deLiaison-Adv.

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifold cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifold cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Dandruff Heads - Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair, and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.
