

AMERICANS, WOMEN, CHILDREN, BESIEGED

Three Men From United States Are Killed by Yaqui Indians in Mexico.

BATTLE STILL CONTINUES

Governor Maytorena Rushes Army of 500 Troops to Esperanza to Rescue Colony From Raiding Band of 400 Reds.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., May 13.—Yaqui Indians, attacking a colony of Americans, including women and children, near Esperanza, south of Guaymas, killed three and wounded several others, according to information received today by Frederick Simplic, American Consul here. The battle still continues, it was said, the Americans striving desperately to keep the Indians from reaching their homes. Americans reported killed are John Wilson, W. A. Fay and William Stocker. J. J. Bonovan is missing.

Governor Sends Army of 500.
Jose Maytorena, Governor of Sonora, has ordered a detachment of 500 troops to entrain at Guaymas and proceed to the aid of the Americans.

Refugees from the interior report conditions in Sonora to be little short of appalling. The Indians are reported to be butchering Mexicans—men, women and children indiscriminately. W. W. Mackie, a soil expert, and his wife and daughter, are also among the missing. Mackie is said to have been an associate of John Hays Hammond. Consul Simplic telegraphed his information to the State Department at Washington.

Maytorena Is Confident.
Governor Maytorena said today he was confident the force he had ordered to Esperanza from Guaymas could handle the Yaquis and drive them back to their stronghold in the Biscate Mountains.

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—A dispatch, received direct from Esperanza, Sonora, today said that John Wilson had been killed and William Stocker wounded in a fight with 400 Yaqui Indians, raiding the Lower Yaqui River valley. The dispatch, addressed to W. E. Richardson, member of a firm interested in the Yaqui valley, also said that J. J. Bonovan was missing. Mr. Richardson said that there were only a few women in the territory raided by the Indians, probably not more than five.

DOGS SAVE BABIES, SHOT

Muzzled Animals Battle With Mad Coyote For Children.

Bites of Rabies-Infected Beast Received in Fight Make Death of Creatures Necessary.

PUYALLUP, Wash., May 13.—(Special.)—Although they saved a rancher and several children from being attacked by a mad coyote by keeping the wild beast engaged until the human beings could reach a place of safety, two dogs of Rancher Holbert and a neighbor in Malheur County, Oregon, had to be shot because they were bitten by the coyote during the fight. Both dogs were muzzled at the time as the law in that section requires, during the epidemic of rabies.

This news was brought here by George Cantwell, Federal bird reservation inspector, who has returned from a month's tour of inspection in Malheur and Harney Counties.

Mr. Cantwell says the ranchers in these counties are suffering serious losses in cattle, through attacks by coyotes infected with rabies. A sheep dog with the rabies caused the death of a number of sheep belonging to a rancher named Cotes, in Dry Valley.

Mr. Cantwell says horses and even deer have become infected and attacked anything with which they come into contact.

School children are no longer permitted to go to school unless protected from attack, says Mr. Cantwell.

SEA VICTORY ANALYZED

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY STUDENTS HEAR SENATOR WEEKS.

Captain of Emden Valued at More Than 100 Ordinary Masters Because of Character.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, May 13.—(Special.)—The captain of the Emden, the German cruiser that destroyed the allied commerce in the Pacific, was worth 100 ordinary captains, John Paul Jones was worth more than a fleet of the enemy. It is the character of the leader that determines the result on the sea, said Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, yesterday in a speech to the students of Washington. He was discussing the question of National defense.

Senator Weeks, who is visiting relatives in the Northwest while on a trip from the San Francisco fair, spoke for an hour to the students on two great questions of government. The other was the Federal reserve system. In regard to the National defense, Mr. Weeks, who was educated in the Navy, favored a strong National reserve, both for the Army and Navy. Showing proof that 50 per cent of untrained volunteers are unfit for duty within six months of enlistment, he did not approve of the present system of leaving our hopes in case of war to the untrained citizen. He did not intimate that any increase in our Navy at this time would be of any future benefit and that a fine morale and training of character would do more toward winning naval supremacy than many battleships or submarines.

President Wilson Needs Kryptoks

"Your glasses, Mr. President, are almost on your mouth," remarked a friend to Woodrow Wilson, whose eyeglasses were perched perilously near the tip of his nose. "That's all right," was the quick response, "I want to see what I am talking about."

Kryptok lenses may not enable you to literally see what you are talking about, but they will help you to see more and look better, too. Come in and see them at the home of Kryptok lenses and Shur-on eyeglasses.

VAST SUM DECIDED TO EXPLOIT LUMBER

Campaign to Show Advantages Is to Be Made by National Association.

$1,750,000 TO BE SPENT

Pledges of $29,000 Are Made at Convention in San Francisco and Big Amount Will Be Expended Advertising Material.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Pledges of $29,000 were made today toward a five-year publicity campaign in which it is planned to spend $1,750,000 by members of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association in convention here. The fund is to be used for the exploitation of lumber as a building material. The campaign will be commenced, it was said, when a fund of $250,000 has been collected. The plan suggested by Edward Hines, of Chicago, was informally ratified by a large proportion of the delegates. Its operation will be directed by a committee to be appointed. The fund, it was announced, is to be collected from 550 firms, members of the association, at the rate of $1000 a year each. Twenty-nine firms subscribed for the first year of the campaign. Although the exact nature of the campaign has not been determined, it was said that $50,000 at least would be spent for advertising in periodicals. Operating efficiency and costs were discussed today by speakers before the convention. The magnitude of the industry was indicated by the secretary, R. S. Kellogg, of Chicago, in his reply to the exposition officials, who presented the organization with a commemorative bronze plaque. "If the lumber handled during the last 50 years were used in a board walk 10 inches thick and 100 feet wide, it would reach to the moon," he said.

GAS LINE ASKS PERMIT

Portland Company Seeks Franchise of Milwaukee Council.

MILWAUKEE, Or., May 13.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the Milwaukee Council Wednesday night the Portland Gas & Coke Company applied for a 25-year franchise, and the application was received with favor. It will be taken up at a special meeting. The proposed franchise provides a rate of $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet, with a minimum rate of 50 cents per month. The consumer will receive a rate of $1 per 1000 cubic feet for gas in excess of 2000 cubic feet. A franchise containing these terms will be prepared for submission at a special meeting next week, when it is expected the differences between Milwaukee and the gas company will be settled. Several months ago the Clackamas Gas Company, a subsidiary company, applied for franchise at the same rates, but the Council refused to grant the franchise, with the result the gas company built its lines around Milwaukee.

How Do You Order Your Bread?

There's a better way to order your bread than to ask for just "a loaf of bread." If the grocer sees you are not particular enough to order your bread by name he may not be very particular about what he sends.

The better way is to ask for

HOLSUM BREAD

Why? Because you are certain of getting "clean" bread when you order HOLSUM. Your own kitchen can be no cleaner than the HOLSUM bakery, where cleanliness is a religion—and no other impurity or uncleanness can come in contact with HOLSUM in stores or in delivery wagons because it's wrapped in a dust-proof, germ-proof wrapper.
