Litschi Saves Day.

The runners were camped on second and third when the excitement was ever. Bates flied to left and Derrick pretended to start for the plate. Elliott took the throw and tried for the runner, who was dodging back to third. His throw was none too sure and Manda missed. Luckily, Louis Litschi was backing him up and captured the sphere. Then Carisch grounded to third and the Oaks were out of a hole.

Portland annexed two hits in the fourth, when Carlsch laced out a hit to left and Lober poked the ball into center, but Stumpf doubled right into the hands of Litschi and the side was once more retired.

The eighth was really the last chance of the visitors. Fisher was sent in to bat for Evans and singled to first. He was forced at second by Doane, who in turn was forced by Derrick. Fred completed the inning when he was caught trying to steal.

Lincoln High Is Held in Line to Take First Honors in Eugene Meet Today.

Four Releases Announced at Meet- Jefferson High and Columbia University Seem Likely to Finish Second and Third if No Darkhorse Appears.

> BY EARL R. GOODWIN. Providing that no "dark horse" is introduced in the annual Oregon State interscholastic track and field meet to be held today at Eugene, Or., under the auspices of the University of Oregon, the battle for first honors should be between the Portland institutions, be between the Portland institutions, with Lincoln High School to the fore. From all indications Coach Leon Fabre, of the Lincolnitea, will bring home with him the first state track and field championship the Railsplitters have won in seven or eight seasons, because he has a better balanced squad, apparently, than any of the rest. Jefferson High School and Columbia University, both of Fortland, appear to be ready to finish in the final results in the order named.

> Coulter Picked to Win. Frank "Speed" Coulter, the West Siders' one best bet in the sprints, won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Eugene last Spring, and is due to repeat. "Speed" has not been feeling repeat. "Speed" has not been feeling his best the last two or three days and Glen Conkey, of La Grande, may be harder to defeat for first honors than the local entry imagines.

Captain Smith had better win the discus throw or there will be a mighty lot of surprised followers of interscholastic athletics here in Portland. The Lincolnite has been heaving the Grecian saucer more than 100 feet in practice and then he was only "kid-ding" along. Captain Smith is rather clover with the shot and the javelin, and with a little luck should be right

The broad jump and high jump are rather undecided. Claude Riggs Columbia University, is about the high jumper in the local league, Victor Johnson, of Coach Veatch's Washington High School squad, a close second. These two athletes should manage to bring a few points to their respective schools, due to their ability to top the bar.

From the reports from Eugene, there is little chance for any of the present records to be smashed. The heavy rains of the past two days have not done the track any good: in fact, it is muddy and sloppy and unless a hot sun comes out today, the preliminaries

Damon and Schmidt, of Columbia

Damon and Schmidt, of Columbia, with Damon, of Jefferson, are the favorites in the 440-yard dash. When they last met Schmidt won from the Jefferson sprinter.

Almost every school brought along reinforcements in the shape of an extra man or two. This brings the total number of entrants near the 190 mark. Gold, sliver and bronze medals will go to the athletes placing in each event, while two large cups go to the winners of the meet and the relay race. The fact that the meet will be run right straight through without any intermission means that some of the men figuring on entering more than one svent will be compelled to limit their entries to a smaller number than they had planned for.

Columbia University is said to be the strongest contender for the relay cup.

TRACK MEET ON TODAY

WASHINGTON-OREGON DUAL EVENT WAITS ON WEATHER.

Eugene Track in Poor Shape as Result of Rains, and Conch Hayward Orders Men Inside.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 14 .- (Special.) - Hard showers this morning and early afternoon compelled postponement of the Washington-Oregon dual track meet until tomorrow morning. This evening a clear sky is causing the weather prophets to predict sunshine and a general good day for tomorrow.

The Oregon track is in poor shape and as a result no fast time will be made in the coming events. It is thought that the sprints and high hur dles will have to be staged in the mid-dle of the field instead of their cus-tomary places on the track. Coach Hayward did not permit any of his men to work out this afternoon;

instead, they stayed in their respective houses, with orders to keep off their Payne and Huggins will enter the meet for Oregon. It was thought for a while that these two stars might not participate because of their hard trip and its telling effects from San Francisco. Today's rest is just what is needed and tomorrow the two distance men will be seen to the best of advantage. Bob Langly will participate in the $80 and mile, according to information given out this evening. Bob has been running a great race this season and it has only been the last two weeks that Nelson has been able to nose him out for honors.

Hayward will place a fast relay team on the scratch and Oregon should take this event with but little trouble. Go-reczky, Loucks, Bull and Wilson is the probable personnel of the quartet wearing Oreson uniforms.

The first event of the morning will start promptly at 9 o'clock, which will give the fans and "prep" students a breathing spell before their games in the afternoon.

PERNOLL ON "USELESS" LIST Baum Permits Move, but Says It Flavors of Jockeying.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14 .- (Special.) "Hub" Pernoil has been placed on the "uesless" or "disabled" list by Harry Wolverton. This, with the release of Johnny Couch, makes it possible for the Seal manager to use Ping Bodle and Bugs Reisigl. Both players were officially in the game this afternoon at Los Angeles.
