Board of Patronesses Named for Floral Pageant of Rose Festival.

PARADE TO SURPASS ALL

Co-operation of Leaders of Smart Set Assures Scores of Handsomely Decorated Automobiles; Flowers Plentiful.

For the first time in the history of Portland Rose Festival Portland society and club women will have on active part in the celebration. At meeting of the board of governors, held at the new Chamber of Commerce 'ast night, it was decided to appoint a board of patronesses to co-operate with the committee in charge of the floral Roses Are Pientiful.

'We have roses and other flowers in enty," said Mr. Powers last night. "We have already been assured the support of many prominent women." he continued, "and they will enter their sutomobiles in the floral parade. "With a hundred or more finely decportland Fire Department, the Motor-cycle Club, the Portland Hunt Club, Portland Automobile Club and other or ganizations in line, this pageant will be one of the most beautiful floral displays ever seen in the West. "The floral parade committee has the names of many experienced decorators and the Festival management will be in a position to assist automobile owners in the work of decoration, offer suggestions for special floral features

MINIATURE TRAINS TO COST $20,000 TO BE BUILT.

Many Men at Work at Park Putting It in Rendiness for Opening Saturparade, to make this feature one of the greatest of the fete.

Additional patronesses will be announced later and the complete list will include representatives of every section of the city and suburbs.

The working organization of the board of patronesses will be afmounced as soon as the executive committee of the management meets and outlines the management meets and outlines the part society will have in the attraction.

The committee in complete list and suburbs.

While building of the line will be gin at once, it is believed it cannot be ready for at least two or three weeks. While, of course, the investment is not a permanent one at the Oaks, because locomotives, cars and tracks can all be removed, the miniature railway is said to represent a cost of $20,000. It was brought to Portland from the Panama-to require the county Court to appoint the judges and cierks, says from the committee of the line will be in question.

Additional patronesses will be announced and initiative a traction.

Emery Olmstead, president of the Festival, and Ira F. Powers, chairman of the floral parade committee, said last night that with the hearty coperation of the society and club women of Portland the annual floral review can be made the greatest in
