LOS ANGELES, May 23 .- (Special.)-Two stinging defeats administered by Portland today set the Venice club more firmly in last place. The club has won but two games since the beginning of Hap Hogan's fatal Bluess. The team goes on the road this week and with a change of environment should do better. Portland took the morning game 2 to 0 and won by a score of 6 to 3 in the afternoon. The second game was featured by Doc White's debut as acting manager of the team, President Maier appointing him to the position just before the men took the fleid. He celebrated the occasion by going into the box himself, while the Beavers celebrated it by pounding him for 14 hits. But while hit band, the blows were so well distributed after the first inning that with any kind of luck he would have held the Beavers to a Portland took the morning game 2 to White met with misfortune on every side in the first and Portland piled up a four-run lead. Dayis had been retired, when Derrick flicked a weak fly to left center. Kane and Wilhoit failed to reach an understanding and the hall fell between them. Doane walked. A Texas Leaguer by Bates filled the bases, the ball lighting in a safe spot with Purtell, Kane and Wilhoit grouped under it. Hillyard drove to left for what should have been nothing more than a sharp single, but the ball, taking a sudden bound, cleared Carlisle's head by 15 feet and went to the fence for a triple, feet and went to the fence for a triple cleaning the bases, Carisch singled Hillyard home. He was thrown out stealing and Lober ended the round with a fly to Carlisle.

Krause Wobbly in Opening. Carlisle walked for Venice in the first, and singles by Berger and Wilhoit filled the bases. Risberg scored Carlisle with an infield hit after Kans had fanned and Helling squeeze Berger across, Purtell fligd to Lober Wilholt singled in the third and count ed on a double by Kane. Higginbotham took hold in the fourth, and Risberg alone was able to solve him.

By reason of its defeat of Centralia yesterday Olympia will finish in third place. Centralia lost its first game yesterday and with only one game to play, that with Chehalis next week, cannot be headed off from championship honors.
