

SEALS NICK HIGG FOR 3 HOME RUNS

Big Beaver Slabster Knocked From Mound and Team Loses, 6 to 3.

HEILMANN IS STAR AT BAT

Portland Makes Vain Ninth-Inning Rally, but Bad Decision by Held Harris-Bates and Biff Schaller Make Homers, Too.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Searching inquiry by our large corps of untrained investigators reveals that if Irve Higginbotham had left his "home run" ball at home yesterday Portland would be a few notches farther north in the standing of the clubs. But the big German had his fence ball working in oil at Coast League Park, and San Francisco whanged the whey out of it, winning in a canter, 6 to 2, before a crowd of some 3000 fans.

The sunny afternoon toted out exactly four home runs—three of them off Higginbotham. This is believed to be the record since the palmy days of Rube Maxmeyer. Heilmann bagged two homers. He cracked one ball into the uncharted bush beyond the left field fence and came back a couple of innings later with a home run over the right field enclosure. At last accounts it was seen going over St. Helena and still had lots of ballast.

Schaller and Bates Hit Homers. Schaller also hit one of Hig's fuzzy ones over the right field fence, and, for Portland, Roy Bates tried to stir up a little enthusiasm by duplicating the feat.

Walter McCredie was the only man in the park besides Hig who wasn't having a good time. Recollecting that the Beavers had not won a Sunday game on the coast, he decided to stir up a little enthusiasm by duplicating the feat.

Next to Heilmann, Charles Fanning was the satellite on the San Francisco club, although he allowed nine scattered hits in the ninth and Beavers began rapping his slants around the lot, but the rally stopped short at two runs. Perhaps it might have seen more if it were held had not missed a decision on Gus Fisher at first base.

But what's the use of spilling a bit of words on athletes, San Francisco won and deserved to win. The series is now even—two games apiece.

Heilmann began the scoring in the second inning. Up to this time he had not made a hit in the series. The excellent youngster caught one of Hig's fast ones squarely on the trade-mark and hoisted it high and dry into the Chapman School yard beyond the left field. The ball hit on top of the fence back of the bleachers and bounded the last leg of the journey.

Seals Exult at Two Homers. This seemed to take all the "old college try" out of Hig's right propeller, and he never entirely recovered his composure until squatted under the shower baths. In the third inning Fitzgerald's double and an error by Fred Derrick scored another two home runs—Heilmann and Schaller—featured the fifth inning. The Seals seemed too full of gee whizz and the Blonds-Browns, everybody gathered around Heilmann and Schaller and shook their heads like a bunch of college chaps.

Bates inserted his home run into the box score in the fourth inning. About all the good it did was to keep the good public from foaming at the mouth. Nary another run could the Beavers garner until the ninth, when the score stood 6-1, and there was about as much chance then as finding a chorus girl who isn't supporting a widowed mother.

In the ninth Higgyard's two-bagger down the first-base line and singles by Lober and Doane registered the final duo for Portland. Two games will be played today. Keefe will twirl this morning at 10:30, opposing "Silent" Smith. The afternoon game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Queries an Answer. Fan, The Dalles.—It is not necessary to tag a man going back to a base after a caught fly. If the ball reaches the base before the runner he is out. J. C. City.—By "earned runs" you presumably mean the runs that a pitcher is responsible for. A pitcher is responsible for all runs which are not contributed to by errors or passed balls. He is not responsible for runs made after an error that pitchers are not included in the exemptions because the pitcher is responsible for his own wild pitches.
