

FILM BILLS STARTLE

Ibsen's "Ghosts" at Star Is Graphic Moral Play.

COLUMBIA HAS THRILLER

"The Failure" Is Gripping Plot in Which Conspiracy Figures—New Social Story Is at National in "Unto Herself Alone."

Grim and tense, but with a deep, powerful message and underlying currents of human love and sympathy, Ibsen's "Ghosts," at the Star until Sunday, featuring the versatile Henry Walthall, is one of the greatest and most spectacular moral film dramas ever produced.

Henry Walthall, whose character interpretation in "Ghosts" exceeds former achievements.

his childhood friendship with a young girl, who is supposedly the daughter of a family friend.

MORALITY PLAY AT NATIONAL

"Unto Herself Alone" Pictures Result of Tradition Violation.

With life as the pinner, one of the greatest problems of the day is treated in "Unto Herself Alone" at the National.

"Oxford to Windsor" is a pretty feature film trip over the picturesque River Thames.

THRILLING PLOT AT COLUMBIA

Conspiracy Play Entertains Large Audiences at "The Failure."

A frame-up is the turning point in the life of the hero, vividly portrayed in "The Failure," at the Columbia.

Several hundred sets of pictures of the Juvenile race parade held last Saturday by the children of Willamette Heights is an added attraction.

CLUBWOMEN ARE STIRRED

the city with the Daughters of the American Revolution and had in the evening the clubwomen were the guests at the production of Professor Josephine Hammond's masterpiece, "Everywoman's Role," which was presented by Reed College students and professional soloists in the Helling Theater.

Dr. Chapman's address was the center of interest of the afternoon. He told of some of the hypnotic spells that rule the world, most of them to the worst interests of women, and said these spells must be broken.

The growth of the feminist movement was traced. "Take conscience the master of intelligence and both masters of evolution," said Dr. Chapman, "has produced modern literature. The spiritual forces behind modern literature aim at nothing less than a complete transformation of the world."

THE GERMAN WOUNDED

Berlin, June 2.—(By Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)

The Germans are terrifically systematic about their care of the wounded. All their men found on the battlefield receive a "first aid dressing." Each is tagged with a card, which indicates whether he is badly hurt or not.

It is trifling to neglect the little everyday kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicine of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak.

What are we going to do about the woman who gets all the books she needs but who won't read? This question was asked by Mrs. Sylvia Thompson, of The Dalles, Or.

"Run 'Em Out of Town," is Cry. "Tar and feather them and run them out of town," laughingly answered the chairman of literature.

Miss Lottie Stearns, of Milwaukee, said that in many homes there were no books except a mail order catalogue. She urged the establishment of library commissions.

Mrs. Emily Hoppin, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, said that in her state county libraries had been formed and these are at the disposal of the country women.

"Clubs are trumps," said Dr. Carter Helm Jones in beginning his address on "The New Civic Idealism" in which he spoke of the importance of civic practical activities but also one in which civic idealism is coming to the fore.

"Our cities are just what we make them," said Dr. Carter Helm Jones in beginning his address on "The New Civic Idealism" in which he spoke of the importance of civic practical activities but also one in which civic idealism is coming to the fore.

Washington's first teacher's cottage was built by the School Board to meet an emergency and every other cottage built since that time—and we have 108 of them—came in response to a real demand in the district in which it was erected.

The man who equips himself today for good service and gives a segment out of the best years of his life to the performance of that service, creates an obligation on the part of society towards himself.

The teacher in the cottage can hold himself or herself free from neighborly interference.

Dr. George Rebec, of the University of Oregon, who was presented by Mrs. Frederick Egert as the speaker chosen to take the place allotted to Jane Addams, gave a strong address. He said in part:
