began in carnest and there has been no pause.

The recent charter of the British ship Galgate, reported at 75 shillings, is now declared to have been at 788 gd. The transaction was recorded a week ago and the market is almost 10 shillings higher now. The engagement of three steamers for Portland loading at 80 shillings is viewed as reasonable in view of the latest demands of owners for 100 shillings and it is assumed that the three fixtures were made in advance of the spurt. Their identity has not been announced and being taken for September-October loading it is possible they will not be named for weeks, the steamers to come here depending probably on which vessels the owners can order this way most conveniently during the next few weeks.

The situation is the most puzzling Pacific Coast grain exporers have dealight with in the bistory of shipping, and in spite of the lack of sufficient tonnage in prospect and conjecture as to the extreme of hostilities abroad, some are wary about engaging vessels, in view of the possibility that some move may free large merchant fleets.

The British steamer Epsom, now loading here, shifted yesterday from the Portland Flouring Mills Company's dock to Montgomery dock and continued working. She will make another move or two before getting away for England next week. Damage sustained by the steamer Mackinaw, when a fire broke out abourd Saturday after she left the Golden Gate, is said to have resulted in less damage than was at first supposed and she will proceed here shortly to load grain for M. H. Houser, to Gato, Australia.

ITALIAN PORTS YET OPEN

Portland Shipments Move From Genoa Despite War Cloud.

Beetal advices reaching Alfred Tucker, Portland manager for Meyer, Wilson & Co., yesterday indicate that as yet the East Asiatic line has not been compelled to exclude Italian ports from its itinerary because of Italy's participation in the European war, though it was generally accepted here a week ago that the region could not continue to furnish American markets in the face of the hostile situation.

Mr. Tucker was informed by telegraph that the liner Bintang sails from Genoa June 17 with considerable cargo for Portland and that the Indian early in July. San Francisco's offer-ings of return freight continue so heavy that the company will not route ships farther north, so goods brought from the other side will be transhipped from the Golden Gate here on coasters. With the operation of the Olsen line shortly it is confidently thought that Portland will be made a regular port

COOS BAY CHANNEL DRIES UP Work Costing Several Thousand Dollars Undone in Few Days.

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 2.—(Special.)—The Port of Coos Bay recently expended several thousand dollars in opening the canal between Coos Bay opening the canal between Coos Bay and North Inlet landing and the job was contracted to be done so that three feet of water would be assured at mean lower low water. From the inlet proper to North Inlet landing is a distance of four miles and this waterway had been the avenue over which all the railroad material used in which all the railroad material used in the Beale Lake and Tenmile region was routed. The Port Commission or-dered a straightening of the channel between the bay and the inlet, a mile distance.

The job has been finished but two weeks and at low water the newly-dug channel is dry for a distance of 500 pailty CITY STATISTICS feet in the middle of the cutoff. There is heavy traffic over the route and the port will order a new amount of dredging to maintain the desired three feet at low water, which would give serv- stre ice at any stage of tide.

KENNEWICK HAS WAREHOUSE Building to Accommodate Increase in Freight Shipments. KENNEWICK, Wash., June 2 .- (Special.)—Work was started yesterday on the erection of a warehouse at the Kennewick docks. Freight shipments to and from Kennewick have increased to such an extent since the opening of the Celilo Canal and the inauguration of regular boat service from Portland and Lewiston that a warehouse tion of regular boat service from Port-land and Lewiston that a warehouse became a necessity. The Port Com-mission authorized the building and will have control of it, although the Columbia River Towing Company fur-nished the material and superintended the erection.

SCENIC PARK SITE OF 380 ACRES PRESENTED BY S. BENSON.

Philanthronist Announces Abandon ment of Plan to Buy Multnomah Falls for Muntelpallty.

The City of Portland now owns the besutiful Gordon Falls on the Columbia Highway and 380 acres of land surrounding the falls. S. Benson, capitalist and philanthropist, yesterday presented the City Council with an abstract and deed for the tract which he purchased in 1913 for $21,000. It is valued now at $50,000.

In appreciation of his gift the Council adopted a resolution officially name cil adopted a resolution officially nam-ing the tract Benson Park, and extend-ing hearty thanks to Mr. Benson for his gift.

The presentation was made by E. E. Coovert, attorney for Mr. Benson. At the time of presentation the Council was urged to confer with the Oregon was arged to confer with the Oregon delegation in Congress relative to ob-taining title to 340 acres of land ad-joining the Gordon Falls tract on the south and east. The land is held by the Federal Government and Mr. Coo-vert expressed the opinion that title can be procured. Mr. Benson was at the Council meeting when the gift was

For the present Mr. Benson has abandoned his plan of acquiring Mult-nomah Falls for presentation to the city. This, he says, is because of the failure of Circuit Judge McGinn to appoint a guardian ad litem for Jennie M. Griswold, owner of the tract. This has delayed the condemnation proceed-ings now under way. Attorneys for Miss Griswold say she is a dependent and is incompetent, and that the city is taking an unfair advantage of her to condemn the propertial erty which she owns. In view of the
