

C. G. KEGLEY AGAIN MASTER OF GRANGE

Centralia Election Goes to Veteran Leader by Big Majority of Farmers.

SCHOOL TROOPS OPPOSED

Conviction of Colorado Labor Chief-tain Condemned and Seattle Milk Ordinance Is Fought—Public Dances to Be Discussed.

CENTRALIA, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—The election of officers held at the attention of the State Grange practically the entire day today, the voting starting early this morning and continuing through the afternoon. C. B. Kegley, who is ending his tenth year as master of the Grange, was re-elected for another two years with but little opposition at this morning's session, his big majority disposing of a rumor that other candidates would be named. W. B. Fowler was elected lecturer to succeed himself, C. W. Frase, master of the Lewis County Pomona Grange, was elected overseer to succeed W. C. Picking, of Sunnyside.

The following other officers were chosen at this afternoon's session of the State Grange: L. Ezine, of Winlock, steward; Bert Curry, of Meyers Falls, assistant steward; Clara K. Bowers, of Outlook, chaplain; Frank Field, of Snohomish, treasurer; Fred W. Lewis, of Tumwater, secretary; Ivan Compton, of Wenatchee, gatekeeper; Augustus Kagle, of Skagit County, Mattie Kiser, of Wenatchee, Pomona; Lydia Bryant, of Pullman, Flora, and Anna Leonard, of Walla Walla, lady assistant steward; Herman Nelson, of King County, was elected member of the executive committee for the three-year term. Other officers were named for two-year terms. All were installed tonight.

Burlington Gets Meeting.
Burlington was selected for the 1916 meeting. W. W. Wheeler also put in a bid, but the decision was prompted by the custom of holding meetings east of the mountains for two years and west of the mountains for the next two years.

Addresses were made this afternoon by Fred J. Chamberlain, chairman of the joint legislative committee, who explained the committee's work; Federal Deputy Immigration Inspector White, who spoke of the grange's monthly work along immigration lines; C. R. Case, ex-president of the State Federation of Labor; E. E. Faville, of Spokane, editor of the "Farmers' Voice"; and L. C. Crow, ex-president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union.

Two hundred and eighty-seven votes were cast for master at the election this morning, which is the heaviest in the Grange's history. The meeting closes tomorrow night. Tomorrow afternoon the grangers will be taken over the city and the surrounding country in autos furnished by the local automobile club.

Seattle Milk Ordinance Opposed.
C. L. Smith, the official agriculturist of the O. W. R. & N. Company, addressed the grange at this morning's session on the improvement of living and social conditions, asserting that the grange is a great upholder of the home.

Numerous resolutions were introduced at the session yesterday afternoon. Fred J. Chamberlain, chairman of the grange, asking the grange to adopt one condemning that section of a proposed Seattle milk ordinance, which seeks to deprive the grange of the right to appeal from a decision of an official of the health department. This resolution produced the first really spirited discussion of the entire session. Mr. Nelson and W. J. Langdon, of Sumner, asserted that the dairymen are willing to submit to stringent regulations, but want the right of appeal when they think the official is wrong. The resolution was adopted.

Lawson Conviction Protested.
Over the vigorous protest of many members, a resolution was also adopted condemning the conviction of John Lawson, of the miners' union, on a charge of murder in connection with the Colorado coal strike. Resolutions also were adopted condemning military training for public school students and recommending the publication of a weekly news letter for grangers' benefit during legislative sessions. It is expected that a resolution will be introduced tomorrow opposing the use of grange halls for public dances. At last night's session the first and sixth degrees were conferred on 200 candidates.

GRADE CROSSINGS MAPPED

Washington Prepares to Eliminate All Most Dangerous.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—Three teams, consisting of a Public Service Commission engineer and an assistant, each team mounted upon a gasoline speeder, are making a tour of the 6000 miles of Washington railroad, and critically investigating and mapping every grade crossing in the state. There are nearly 5000 grade crossings, but it is expected that the work will be completed within 90 days. This is a step to eliminate the most dangerous crossings and to improve the conditions of all. The maps will show not only the road and railroad, but the view that an approaching pedestrian or rider would have of the tracks, 50 feet away, 100 feet away and other distances. When the engineers have completed the mapping, the Commission will select a number of the most dangerous crossings for elimination.

FIRE BLIGHT IS FOUGHT

Farmer Near Kennewick Seek Aid From County Commissioners.

KENNEWICK, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—Fire blight has made such headway in the orchards of this vicinity during the past few weeks that the farmers have called for aid. The Highland Improvement Club, the Kennewick Valley Club, farmers' organizations, have held meetings to consider proper means of checking the menace. These organizations, together with the Kennewick Commercial Club, have sent special resolutions to the County Commissioners asking that an assistant be given District Horticultural Inspector Luke Powell and that every possible effort be made to check the spread of this tree disease. Most of the blight found so far has been "blossom infection."

GREATEST OF PAVLOVA DANCES TO BE OFFERED

"Puppen-Fee," Scheduled for Baker Theater June 7, Is Alluring Fairy Tale of Doldrum, Which Charms Persons of All Ages.

AMONG the greatest successes of the metropolitan season of Russian ballet this year as given by Anna Pavlova, the wonderful Russian dancer, was "Puppen-Fee" (the Fairy Doll), which will be seen at the Baker, Monday June 7. Perhaps it has more of the light and merry humors of dancing and miming than any ballet seen either in this country or abroad where the ballet is continually in evidence, or because its gay little story is one that appeals to children of all ages from 5 to 60, "Puppen-Fee" is considered to have proved one of the most delightful works of the ambitious Pavlova troupe.

There come the visitors to the toy shop, quaintly clothed, to see and buy the toys; one by one the dancers mime the mechanical figures—the drum major tosses his baton; there is the impressionable poet, the speaking doll, the jerky soldier, each with miming humor, and last, from her hiding place comes the old toymaker's prize doll, mimed by a blonde and sparkling Pavlova. But once the day is done and

UNION HAS BIG SHOW

Fair Weather Draws Large Attendance to See Horses.

PERCHERON PLACED FIRST

Wild West Features Sensational and Gate Receipts for Ray Exceed $2000—Deficit of Last Year to Be Overcome.

UNION, Or., June 3.—(Special.)—Fair weather and clear skies greeted the city today, and the attendance at the stock show was record-breaking. Every train added to the multitude, while 500 autos entered the city. The grand championship stallion prize was won by Albert Hunter's Percheron, imported at a cost of $3000. The showman's prize was awarded to the Kentucky saddle horse, Starlight King. Two first prizes were won by Mrs. Masas, the tandem and women's riding contest.

The gate receipts were more than $2000 and the business of the association is in excellent shape. The deficit from last year will be more than made good by the close of the show. Dan Clark, of the O. W. R. & N. Company, introduced the wild maverick after a short run at the first throw. The buckaroo contests were replete with sensations, many of the riders falling in the attempt to conquer the trained animals. The wild bull of North Powder has dismounted his rider both days, and a big prize will be given to the cowboy who succeeds in riding the vicious animal. Ben Corbett and Fred Spain were disqualified from injuries received, and many new riders are seen in the arena. The scenes were enlivened today by the advent of a band of fancy ropers and trick riders from the Umatillas. Tomorrow will close the big show, and many of today's visitors will remain over. Hotel space is not to be had, and people are opening their homes to accommodate the late comers.

New Way to Grow Lashes and Eyebrows Popular

(Society World)
Increasing knowledge as to the relation of pretty eyebrows and lashes to facial beauty has, according to druggists, increased the demand for pyroxin, which someone discovered to be wonderfully effective in promoting a long, thick, silky growth without any harmful effect. It is only necessary to use an ounce or so of plain pyroxin, rubbing some into the eyebrows once a day, and applying a little to the lash roots with the finger tip.—Adv.

COST OF ACCIDENT $100

Washington Report Shows Decrease in May Compared Year Ago.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—The May statistical report of the Washington Industrial Insurance Commission shows that the 1112 accidents reported during the month have brought the total, during three years and eight months' operation under the law, to 53,409, while collections of the month have brought the grand total to $5,147,391, or an average of approximately $100 for an accident. This closely approximates the average cost of an accident to the employer under the Washington law.

The May accidents this year were less than for the same month in 1914, when 1383 were reported, or in 1913, when 1619 were reported.
