through the came channels, with the same commissions, or larger ones, as now employed here in the distribution of textbooks published in other states. Mill managers of Oregon City will be asked to supply the paper, and as eight or 10 carloads will be required annually, it is believed that at least one of them will be willing to supply the necessary machinery for the manufacture of fine grade of book paper.

Another feature of the plan is that it is expected to stimulate the writing of textbooks by Oregon educators, and royalties that are now paid to authors elsewhere would remain in Oregon, says the committee. However, it probably would be necessary at the start to contract for the use of "copy" already prepared.

Motive Declared Unselfish.

"The committee intends to carry the campaign to all parts of the state," said Mr. Brock, an active member of the committee, "and right at the start we want it thoroughly understood that while the adoption of the plan would give employment to probably 25 or 30 more persons in the state printing depositions of the plan would give the state of t

For instance, the readers might contain selections from the best Oregon literature, a sprinkling of Oregon words could be used in the spelling books, and Oregon distances employed in mathematical illustrations."

Hi Gill, Mayor of Seattle, and a prominent Tillicum, was delighted with yesterday's parade. He expressed his admiration in the highest terms.

"I have seen many floral parades and similar pageants," he said, "but today's event was the finest in, all my experience. I think it was uhead of last 'year's parade, which I witnessed. I hope to come to Portland every year for your Rose Festival events."

The war will not result in a deided victory for either side, but will impoverish the nations involved, Pastor Russell predicted in his address last night at Christensen's Hall. The war, he declared, would be followed by a period of anarchy, after which would PENDLETON, Or., June 10 .- (Special.)—That the defense of Lee Dale, charged with the double murder of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ogilvey at Pilot Rock last Priday night, will be temporary insanity is intimated by his counsel, who likely will attempt to show that Dale's mind was affected by a drug alleged to have been administered to him in a Pendleton lodging-house some time before the tragedy occurred.

This incident probably will play an important part in the trial. The state may attempt to show intended robbery as a motive for the crime, if Dale is indicted, as he says he lost all of his money to a woman. The grand jury's report is expected tomorrow.
