MAN BEATS FAMILY

Wife Hammered and Child of 5 May Die.

RAZOR IS USED ON HIMSELF

Attack Thought to Have Been Made in Temporary Fit of Insanity After Quarrels With Spouse, Who is Blamed in Note.

Charles L. Durborow, aged 37, struck his wife with a hammer, probably fatally injured his 5-year-old daughter and slashed his own throat with a razor at his home at 6223 Fifty-ninth avenue, shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning. He is believed to have made the attack during a temporary fit of insanity. The girl will recover, doctors stated last night, and the wife is thought to be out of danger. The condition of Durborow, however, is serious. "This is an insane act," the note will be brought out, if I was not right, I certainly would not have the strength left to make this dying statement. In strength I am left me by my God," wrote Durborow on a blood-stained pad of paper in the presence of neighbors who rushed into the house and found him lying on the bed in a pool of blood, after his wife had run screaming from the house.

Quarrels Occur Frequently. According to neighbors and to Mrs. Virginia Durborow, of 337 Morris street, mother of the man, marital differences had brought matters between Mr. and Mrs. Durborow to a climax, there being frequent quarrels of late, in which the mother-of-the-husband had often essayed the role of peacemaker.

The son Tuesday night besought his mother to go to his house and help straighten up the kitchen, which he declared were driving him crazy. She had been unable to respond to the appeal because of the death of a brother at McMinnville. Durborow's wife and 5-year-old daughter, Ruth, were in bed at the time of the assault. In a crib near her father's bed slept 3-year-old Virginia Durborow. Ethel, aged 1 year, was staying that night with a neighbor.

Blame is Placed on Wife. According to an investigation by City Detectives Goltz and Abbott yesterday morning Durborow woke shortly after 6 o'clock, went to kitchen and kindled a fire. Apparently brooding over his quarrel of the day before, it is said, he took a hammer and went back to the bedroom. He then slapped his wife and flung the hammer at her. She sprang to her feet and, eluding him from the house, screamed for help. Durborow then directed his attentions to the 5-year-old girl and the cruel blows of the hammer fractured the skull of the youngster.

The crazed man went into another room, drew his razor and, standing before a mirror, brought it down across his throat. He stumbled back to the bedroom and threw himself on his back across the body of the child. Neighbors, after hearing the injured woman, found Durborow, still conscious. He motioned them to bring him a hand of paper, on which he wrote his "statement."

Durborow and the girl were rushed to the Good Samaritan Hospital and Mrs. Durborow was taken there later.

FESTIVAL REPORT ASKED. COMMITTEE NAMED TO SUGGEST IDEAS FOR 1916 EVENTS. Civic Bureau to Learn of Year's Show and Hear Proposals for Next One—Portland Thanked.

F. W. Hild, John P. Carroll and H. L. Choate, all prominent members of the Board of the Rose Festival, were appointed on a special committee to report to the Festival department of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and offer recommendations as to the methods of conducting the Rose Festival in 1916.

The board of governors of the Festival, which met yesterday, adopted the following resolutions thanking the people of Portland for their co-operation in the Festival: Whereas, The citizens and guests of the City of Portland are availing that the 1915 Rose Festival was a tremendous success; Whereas, This success was made possible only by the personal labor of thousands of willing workers of our community; Therefore, Resolved, That we hereby express our grateful appreciation of the work done by the individual and the community, who helped us to make the 1915 Rose Festival so grand and festive an occasion.

HOMES FOR BOYS ARE FEW. Juvenile Court Finds Girls Much More in Demand.

"We can get rid of big boys and we can get rid of little boys, but we have no time in finding homes for medium-sized boys," said Mrs. Margaret Thorburn, head of the home-finding department of the Juvenile Court yesterday.

"We have three of these to place right now. Fine, healthy, intelligent youngsters they are, too. One is 5 years old, one is 6 and the other is 8. If anybody wants to adopt any of these boys, they should call me up or write to me."

"Girls of all ages go like hot cakes. The demand always exceeds the supply. Today, though, we have one apple-cheeked little girl who wants a home. She is 11 years old."

"Donald Rodney and Tommy" donated $10 to the maintenance fund of the Associated Charities yesterday, and, although the charities has no clew as to who they may be, its workers were warm in their expression of thanks to the three unknown donors.

Ever since the Christmas campaign of 1912, these three have been liberal supporters of the Charities' work. In the Christmas campaigns and the Fresh Air movement, the season has never gone by without a donation of from $10 to $15 being received from them.

They are three of the largest donors to the work of the Charities, who have been supporting it for several years and whose identity is wholly unknown to the workers in the organization. The total fund, has now reached $1400 and before the end of the week Secretary Manning says he hopes to see it reach the $1500 mark.

Whether the $5000 necessary to keep the work going throughout the Summer will be raised or not is still uncertain, as the subscriptions have not been coming in as liberally in the past few days as they did earlier in the campaign. Next week it is hoped, however, that the donations will show a greater improvement and that by the end of the month at least half of the required amount will have been subscribed.

The line of applicants for aid at the Charities each day does not diminish.
