BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

THE engagement of Miss Edna Levy, of San Francisco, to Lloyd Frank, son of Mrs. S. Frank and member of the firm of Melcher & Frank, has just been announced by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Levy, a prominent San Francisco family. Mr. Frank left Monday for a visit with his fiancée's family and the wedding probably will be an event of this summer.

The Piedmont Club will entertain tomorrow night at the Kenyon clubhouse. This will be the last party given by the club this season. The committee in charge of this affair includes John Clancy, Mike Melcher, Dick Clancy and A. Townsend Kurtz.

The 1915 class of the Chapman School was entertained Wednesday night by Clara Burmeister at an informal party. The rooms were prettily decorated in the class colors, green and yellow. Refreshments were served.

Miss Hilda Leffardt, of Billings, Mont., visited last week with Miss Kesling, en route from San Francisco.

News has been received from Pilot Rock announcing the arrival of a boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Misses Scharf (Eva Fanning). He has been named in honor of his grandfather, George T. Fanning.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—The approaching wedding of Miss Lella Zoe Hershner, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hershner and Charles C. Lemmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lemmon, of the Oak Grove district, will be the inspiration for numerous social events in the next few weeks. The engagement was announced at a luncheon given to about 20 girl friends of the prospective bride at her parents' home Tuesday afternoon.

The Hershner home was beautifully decorated with Caroline Testout roses and ocean spray.

Miss Hershner, whose father is a pioneer Congregational minister, was recently Hood River's sponsor at the dedication of the Dalles-Celilo Canal. Mr. Lemmon is manager of the Hood River Produce Exchange. Out-of-town guests at the affair include Mrs. Martha Masten and Genevieve Butterfield, of Portland, and Miss Ruth Cooper, of Underwood, Wash.

Mrs. Robert H. Tate was the guest of honor at a reception Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Elwell H. Hoyt, Tacoma, Wash., from 2 to 5 P. M. Mrs. C. E. Beach, president of the Washington Branch of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, and Mrs. Willis F. Lodge, president of the Tacoma Central Council of Officers, shared the honors with the national vice-president, Mrs. H. L. Todd, state treasurer; Mrs. Coats, state historian, and Mrs. Doris McQuestion, a charter member of the national body, who attended the first convention of the congress at Washington, D. C., were among the many guests present.

Ulrich Brunner roses were banked in the reception room, the dining-room being decked with Caroline Testout roses. Several musical and literary numbers given by members were highly appreciated. Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Beach told some interesting facts regarding the several phases of the work.

At Seattle, a luncheon was given by Mrs. Fred Bert, state vice-president, being hostess.

Judge and Mrs. W. W. McCredie left yesterday for San Francisco to attend the Fair and also a meeting of the Pacific Coast Society. They will be gone for about 10 days.

The Ure-ka Card Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emil C. Kroh. High scores were won by Mrs. Louise Williams and Mrs. M. L. Johnson. Rambler roses were artistically arranged about the room and on the tea table. Those present were: Mrs. F. E. Disbrow, Mrs. B. C. Wagner, Mrs. E. G. Erikson, Mrs. D. L. Povey, Mrs. J. Boehm, Mrs. P. Friedrich, Mrs. E. C. Kroh, Mrs. Elizabeth Gustin, Mrs. H. M. Kroh, Mrs. M. L. Johnson, Mrs. Louise Williams, Miss Ada Taylor and Miss Pearl Kohn. The club will meet June 30 with Mrs. E. G. Erikson, 697 East Fourteenth street, North.

Chi Omega Fraternity will hold its regular meeting today at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Kelo, 113 Hazelton Place. The active chapter of Eugene, is cordially invited.

Among the coming events at the University Club is the annual smoker of the Oregon Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, next week. In the ladies' annex this week the Phi Delta Sigma Sorority will give a lunch Saturday.

The first of the gatherings under the new plan of monthly reunions of the different college alumni, of Portland and vicinity, was held Tuesday at the University Club, by the Williams Alumni Association.

Philip H. Dater presided and W. B. Gilbert, class of '68, entertained with a post-prandial chat on old days and times at the university, also showing some photos of old scenes as they were in those early days.

Among the alumni present were: Philip H. Dater '96, J. E. Holbrook '96, J. C. Hoyt '91, Elizabeth '07, W. B. Gilbert '68, L. W. Matthews '07, F. J. Sleeper '08, F. L. Griffin, G. O. Latimer '11, and the Rev. E. H. Clark.

THE SANDMAN STORY

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

IN the long ago, when the world wasn't as full of nice things as it is now, and when there weren't nearly so many pretty flowers, the rose did not smell at all. Of course, that was a very long time ago, way back yonder in the days when fairies and goblins and gnomes and all those little people were not afraid to come out in the broad daylight and dance and play, just like they do now, only most little people are asleep.

Well, way back in those days there was one little fairy that wasn't like the other fairies at all. Most fairies are pretty, you know; but this one wasn't. She had freckles and a pug nose and was altogether quite ugly. But, anyway, this little fairy was very lively, because all the other fairies thought she was too plain looking to be nice, and they wouldn't have anything to do with her. So she used to go out into the garden of the Fairy Queen's palace and talk to the flowers there. And the roses especially used to be her best friends. One day this ugly little fairy was talking to her usual friend, the rose, when a storm came up.

"Oh! I shall get blown away before I can get home," cried the little fairy. "Climb up my stem and get inside of me," said the rose: "I will soon close up now, and then you will be quite safe."

So the little fairy climbed up and into the rose. Pretty soon it grew dark and the rose commenced to close, and there was the little fairy tucked in all nice and warm and safe from the storm. But after a little while it was discovered at the palace that the ugly little fairy was lost and couldn't be found anywhere. People began to hunt for her, and all of them had to pass by the rose on their way to look for her.

"I'm glad she's lost, she's so ugly," said the most beautiful fairy in the palace, as she passed by with some little people.

"This started the poor, ugly little fairy to crying and the little rose couldn't stop her at all. "I don't care if she never comes back," said another pretty little fairy,

Tea Garden Syrup Is a Food Syrup

Syrup should be selected with the same regard for its nutriment as other foods. Tea Garden is a Java cane product and is far superior in flavor, quality and food value to all glucose syrups.

Tea Garden is ideal with cereals instead of sugar—it makes splendid candy, pudding sauces, frostings, etc.

$100 Prize Recipe Contest. Earn a trip to the Exposition—submit your Tea Garden recipes—for the best one sent in we will pay $75.00, for the second best, $25.00; send as many recipes as you desire. Try Pelican—the Pure New Orleans Molasses.

"Everybody's Getting Something New to Wear!"

"And Why Not, Kate? Cherry's Credit Plan Makes It Easy."

"I don't wonder you feel out of place in your old clothes these glorious days. It does seem as if every single person we know has acquired a Spring Suit, or Coat, or Dress in the last couple of weeks."

"You know my cute checked Coat, Kate? I bought it ON INSTALLMENTS. I mean I'm paying for it just a little every week. To disclose a confidence, Louise and her sister both bought the adorable new Suits at Cherry's, too, on Credit, and they tell me that stunning girl from the East who's visiting them fell in love with dear little dress up at CHERRY'S and carried it away, delighted."

"So, you see, Kate, it's very much the thing to do. Think of the rush there'll be this week and next up at Cherry's stores. Here, take their address, which is 289-291 Washington street, in the Pittcock block, and say, don't forget to tell Henry about their beautiful line of Men's Clothing, too—and on Saturday evenings they are open till 10 P. M."

Dr. Wiley Predicts Era When Drug Stores Will Refuse Patents.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Assailing quack proprietary medicines and newspapers that advertise them, Dr. Harriet W. Wiley, ex-chief chemist in the United States Department of Agriculture, in a speech delivered recently at the banquet of the Pharmacy Alumni Association of Temple University, in the Rittenhouse Hotel, predicted a new era, when drugstores would cease to be "blind tigers" for the dispensation of narcotics and alcohol in the guise of medicines.

L. V. S. Stanislaus, of the faculty of Temple University, said American chemists were solving the problem of shortage in drugs due to the war. Prize awards to pharmacy graduates for the year were announced as follows: Dr. John R. Minehart, medal for highest average; Benjamin Cohen; Dr. R. Everett Kendig, gold medal for best examination in "Theory of Pharmacy." John W. Young; Henry Fisher prize for best examination in "Materia Medica." Joseph B. Shore; James C. Atlix prize for best grade in chemistry; Elizabeth Rosvane, and H. B. Morse prize for best work in practice of pharmacy; Medale A. Frankel.
